Railroad Wants To Abandon Burned Tunnel In San Rafael

Claims Million-Dollar Estimate To Replace

The Southern Pacific Co. today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to be allowed to abandon the caved-in Northwestern Pacific Puerto Suello tunnel, thereby cutting San Rafael rail connections with the northern portion of the Northwestern Pacific rail system.

(Northwestern Pacific is a wholly owned subsidiary of Southern Pacific.)

At the same time the application was being filed, company representatives appeared at the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin County Planning Commission meetings and called on Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael to present the firm's case for tunnel abandonment.

They stressed that San Rafael would not be cut off from rail service, because the line from Tiburon, connecting with barge line across the bay, would continue in use. The Tiburon shops would remain at the reduced operation which followed last month's tunnel fire and cave-in.

Fire set by two boys—who are still awaiting hearing in Marin Municipal Court's juvenile division—caused the tunnel to cave in under Lincoln Avenue on July 20.

HIGH COST CLAIMED

George L. Morrison, NWP vice president and general manager, said a study completed last week showed the cost of rebuilding the 1,500-foot tunnel under Puerto Suello Hill would exceed one million dollars.

"The present and future need for the tunnel, in view of alternate rail routing available for practically all of the traffic, cannot logically justify its reconstruction," said Morrison.

The same position was taken by Southern Pacific in its application to the ICC.

"Most users of rail freight service in the San Rafael area will not be affected since rail service will be maintained through barge connection at Tiburon," said Morrison.

TRAFFIC ROUTING

"A large percentage of traffic which moved through the San Rafael tunnel consisted of wood chips and lumber from northern NWP points for delivery to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway at Tiburon. Since the collapse of the tunnel, this traffic has been routed via Schellville and delivered to the Santa Fe at Pittsburg or Stockton . . .

"Local traffic through the tunnel from points north on the NWP has primarily been the movement of rock, sand and gravel to three ready-mix plants and forest products to two lumber dealers . . .

"Northwestern Pacific will retain those shops and stores facilities at Tiburon to maintain freight cars and locomotives needed to serve the area."

Raymond E. Marks, assistant to the vice president of Southern Pacific, and Dan R. Love Jr. special representative for the company, appeared before planning commission and supervisors to present essentially the same reasoning for the abandonment advanced by Morrison.

County Supervisor J. Walter Blair asked Marks about employment at the Tiburon shops. He was told it will be kept in sufficient number to maintain rolling stock over the South Marin tracks. (These now in-

Bookkeeping Move Cuts Marin's Tax

Five cents came off the county tax rate today through a neat bit of bookkeeping higgledy-piggledy.

This was achieved through 3-2 vote of the county board of supervisors to eliminate $121,600 needed to pay final costs of the first phase of the civic center.

Chairman William D. Fusselman, apparent originator of the legerdemain, was careful to bring out that this doesn't mean the contractor won't be paid.

What will happen, he brought out with somewhat tepid support of Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, is either that completion will be so late that with 30 extra days the payment will come just after the end of the present fiscal year next June; or that the money will be borrowed from other funds.

'ROBBING PETER'

"Robbing Peter to pay Paul" was the description given by Supervisor William Gnoss who, with Walter R. Castro, registered dissent.

Fusselman introduced the matter briefly by saying he had observed that the $121,600 could be eliminated from the budget since if the payment didn't fall due within this fiscal year the provision was "not necessary" and anyway "we have other funds."

"It's something that's happened this year," said Gnoss. "I don't know why we should put it off."

Mitchel said there was no intention to hold up payment to the contractor but if necessary, money could be "transferred from another source—temporary transfer from the Veterans Memorial fund in June, repaying July 1, or from the reserve for road equipment and vehicles."

'NO DIFFERENT'

"The money was alloted for the job we'd contracted for," said Castro. "It's no different from any other item. Make a true picture and put it in the department where it belongs."

This led to discussion of how the amount has been shifted around since the 1959-60 fiscal

Johnson Says Visit Helped Berlin Allies

Predicts Greater Unity; To Report To Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned from a morale-building mission to Germany today, confident that his flying visit has solidified Western strength and unity in meeting the Communist challenge to free Berlin.

Arriving at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., after a whirlwind 62-hour trip to Bonn and West Berlin, Johnson hailed the "heroic conduct" of the Red-encircled West Berliners as "one of the major assets of the free world."

The vice president planned to report this afternoon to President John F. Kennedy, who hurriedly dispatched him to Germany last weekend to allay West German fears of U.S. inaction after the Communists sealed the East-West border of Berlin.

ON THE FUTURE

In his statement upon his return, Johnson said: "As a result of our mission I believe that we will be better able to meet whatever the future may bring because of the greater unity of purpose and the reaffirmation of common policies achieved in our recent discussions."

He voiced "unlimited gratitude" for the "heart-warming" reception he received from more than a million West Berliners who turned out to see him at public appearances.

Johnson said that in the days of crisis ahead "communications must be kept open, we must reason together, we must build together."

REAL THREAT

"The Communist threat to Berlin is very real and is but a part of the continuing struggle between the world of freedom and the world of coercion," Johnson cautioned.

He said his first duty would be to report to the president.

Johnson said his talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt had given him "even greater confidence in the distinction and responsibility of free German leadership."

He expressed "conviction that the bonds between this country and West Germany and West Berlin, already very strong, have been made even stronger and more enduring."

The vice president stressed the "heart-warming" welcome given the 1,500 new U.S. troops sent to west Berlin to strengthen the Allied garrison there.

Barricades At Berlin Tightened

BERLIN (AP) — Communists tightened their barricades around West Berlin a bit more today in the wake of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's visit. British troops turned out to keep watch on one wire-stringing job at the zonal border.

British headquarters was especially interested in Red operations at Staaken. A main highway from West Berlin heads across Communist-ruled East Germany near Staaken to Hamburg, West Germany. About two miles away is a small grass airfield occasionally used by Soviet and East German air forces.

TANKS DEPLOYED

A company of British infantrymen and four tanks deployed along a two-mile front there. Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe, the British commandant, went out for a personal look at the activity of the workers and their guards, Red police and militiamen, who labored in a drizzling rain. Six Red armored personnel carriers were stationed behind the workers.

Delacombe told reporters he believed the Communists "are strengthening their wire to prevent further escapes"—as they have been doing along the city border between East and West Berlin.

British officers said the Communists are building an extra barbed wire fence about six feet behind one that had been there for years and apparently intended to fill the gap with coils of barbed wire.

A PRECAUTION

A battalion commander, Lt. Col. Malcolm Sherman, said the British infantrymen and tanks were brought out after reports were received that several hundred Communist militiamen and the personnel carriers had been observed along the border.

This is the first time such a deployment of Western troops had been announced publicly in the current crisis. However, British soldiers turned out as a precaution during German rioting at the Brandenburg Gate last week.

Within the city, moving van crews guarded by Communist troops and police moved East Berlin families from their homes on Harzerstrasse, a street fronting on the American sector of Berlin.

Trial Scheduled For Four Teeners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Four teen-age boys were scheduled to go on trial today for allegedly slugging a Marin County school teacher who died later beneath the wheels of a streetcar last April 29.

The boys are Larry Magee, 16. Michael Kilkenny, 17, William Castillo, 17, and Alexander Robert Hall, 17, an orphan who lived at a local boys home.

They are charged with murder and robbery of William P. Hall, 27. Hall was beaten and robbed of $2.25. His body was on the streetcar tracks at 19th and Church streets when it was struck.

Huge Shark Bites Boy At Bodega Bay

Four Prowlers Invade Waters Of Two Counties

A huge man-eating shark yesterday ripped the legs and lower body of a 16-year-old Petaluma boy as he swam a scant 150 feet off Portuguese Beach at Bodega Bay.

Almost at the same moment, another shark was reported off Stinson Beach. Earlier in the day, another man-eater was sighted off Racoon Straits in Sausalito Bay. Two boys reported to San Rafael police that they saw a shark in the San Rafael Canal about 2:45 p.m.

David Vogensen was reported in fair condition today at Palm Drive Hospital in Sebastopol after undergoing more than five hours of surgery yesterday as result of the shark bites.

STILL SERIOUS

The boys father, Lester Vogensen, said one of three specialists who worked on his son said the huge teeth did not puncture the abdomen nor the large artery in the leg. The boy's condition was still serious, however, and further surgery would be performed today, Vogensen was told.

An eyewitness to the attack, Foster Mahood of 21 Liberty Street, Larkspur, said young Vogensen was "covered with blood" as he staggered out of the water onto the beach. "A shark bit me," he screamed.

WITH FAMILY

Mahood, picnicking on the beach with his family, said Vogensen and a friend were swimming in the shallow water "whooping and hollering" for some time before anyone realized the youth was in distress.

Because of the noise the two youths were making, no one paid any attention to young Vogensen's screams, Mahood said. "When he staggered ashore, two people helped him," Mahood said. Mahood ran to the nearby ranger station for help. The ranger was not at the station, so he called the Sonoma sheriff's office, Mahood said.

Vogensen was driven directly to the hospital by the two persons who helped him out of the water.

ON SANDBAR

The attack occurred at 3:30 p.m. as Vogensen and his friend, Ray Griffiths, 16, were swimming near a sandbar in the shallow water. Griffiths reported his friend had started for shore when he saw the shark's fin cut through the water toward him.

"I ran into the water toward where Dave was thrashing about," Griffiths said, "but the shark had disappeared by the time Dave made it ashore."

The shark at Stinson Beach was sighted from the fishing boat Chief and described as being "about 14 feet long."

Two fishermen, William Bronsen of 292 Glen Drive, Sausalito, and Donald Craig of Berkeley, said they saw a 10-footer "lazying" along the surface in Racoon Straits less than 10 feet from their boat.

San Rafael Police Officer Ray Beasdale said two unidentified youths reported to him yesterday at 2:45 p.m. that they had "struck a shark with an oar" in the San Rafael Canal off Sea Way. Bleasdale said a survey of the scene revealed no shark.

Clay Discounts Berlin Rumors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay today discounted reports that he might return to Berlin to the post he held more than a decade ago as U. S. commandant.

Clay, arriving at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, told reporters he too had heard the rumors.

"There's nothing to them," he said.

Two Gas Stations Looted, Two Men, Auto Missing

Two Marin service stations were looted of more than $700 Saturday night, with the burglars apparently making their getaway in a stolen Jaguar sedan.

The car and about $400 were taken from the Richfield Service Station at 1000 Bridgeway Boulevard, Sausalito. There was no sign of forced entry to the station office and a key to the cash box was available after entry, Sausalito police reported.

In Novato, $376 was taken from the Chevron Service Station at Seventh and Grant Streets the same night. Again, there was no sign of forced entry.

Work Starts On Larkspur Street Slide

Work started this morning on filling the second slide of Doherty Drive in Larkspur.

A 225-foot section of the road under construction has slipped into the mud of Corte Madera Creek slough twice within recent weeks. The first slide occurred on Aug. 3. The second happened last Thursday. The road will connect Redwood High School with Larkspur's business district.

City Manager Ronald F. Piper said work should be completed today on refilling the second slide. If this fill holds, the city will turn the street construction work back to the contractor, Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael.

However, the city will not pave the section of the road near the slide, Piper said today. It will pave the new road near the Henry C. Hall School. Only a temporary topping will be placed on the slide section.

Car Smashup Injures Three At Lagunitas

Three youths were catapulted through the windshield and windows of a 1953 automobile as it crashed into a redwood tree beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to end a pleasure ride Saturday night.

Less seriously hurt, but still hospitalized with cuts and bruises, were the two passengers, Ross Love, 20, of 52 Harte Avenue, and Albert Hunter, 17, of 115 Shaver Street, San Rafael.

Leewright, whose father lives in San Francisco, was visiting from New Mexico at the Love home. He and the other two youths set out for a pleasure ride Saturday evening.

Just before midnight, a quarter-mile west of Lagunitas, the car missed a curve and crashed into a large redwood tree.

Civil Rights Skirmish Shapes Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate cleared the decks today for a short skirmish in the long legislative war over civil rights.

Prospects were that neither proponents nor opponents of civil rights legislation would be pleased with the outcome.

Opponents unhappily conceded in advance that the Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders would be successful in their joint drive to attach a two-year lefe extension for the civil rights commission to a pending money bill.

COMPLETED DUTIES

"The commission has long since completed the duties which were assigned to it when it was created in 1957," said Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), strategist for Southern opponents, "but the commission has become a political symbol in both parties and I rather apprehend that the extension will be approved."

There seemed small chance, however, that proponents of civil rights bills could successfully use the appropriations bill as a vehicle for substantive civil rights proposals, though they were pledged to try.

In a prepared statement, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), said he would make such an attempt so as to offer "a last chance at this session to get meaningful civil rights legislation." But he said he is acting "without any illusions as to what can be accomplished."

TWO-THIRDS VOTE

Legislative riders are prohibited on appropriation bills and each such addition will require a two-thirds vote to suspend the senate rules. The subcommittee-approved extension of the commission's life, advanced by the combined senate leadership, should command that support.

Measures advanced by civil rights partisans, however, have never been able to show such strength. If they should and the rules were suspended a filibuster could block final action.

Rusk Declares Allies Won't Abandon Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the Western allies "will not be pushed out of West Berlin."

While making this declaration last night on the NBC-TV interview program "Meet the Press," Rusk emphasized trying to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis.

"We do expect," he said, "that negotiations will take place on this matter. Just when and where will be determined by consultation among governments, including the government of the Soviet Union. But negotiations will occur."

He said he did not yet know how, when or where such negotiations would be conducted.

Rusk was asked if the West would fight if there were any interference with access to West Berlin.

"I think at this point," Rusk replied, "it is better for us to concentrate on the vital interests and say that we want to protect those vital interests by peaceful means if possible."

Rusk defined the "vital interests" of the Western allies as: "the presence of the West in West Berlin, the freedom and security of that city, its ability to live, its physical access to the rest of the world."

Communists Held Winning 1st Round In Berlin Crisis

By HARRY FERGUSON
U. P. International

The Berlin border crisis goes into its second week today, and the West might as well face up to this unpleasant fact:

The Communists have won the first round.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been eager for a long time to do these things:

1—Stop the flow of East Germans who have been fleeing to the west. This has been done. The crisis became especially acute when the cream of East Germans began fleeing—doctors, lawyers, skilled engineers.

2—Make it impossible for East Germans to go into West Berlin and compare living conditions there with their own sub-standard economy. This has been done.

3—Establish the principle that East Germany is a separate and sovereign nation and that East Berlin is an integral part of it. This has been done.

While Khrushchev has been acting, the West has been reacting to his moves. The reaction has been defensive in nature. Last week Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin wrote an urgent letter to President John F. Kennedy. It is known today that it was a desperate call for help.

The low point for West Berlin apparently was last Thursday evening. There was genuine fear that the morale of the city was collapsing and some officials even were predicting there would be a mass flight of West Berliners out of the crisis city into the safety of West Germany, 110 miles to the West.

Kennedy reacted promptly. It was announced that Vice President Lyndon Johnson would fly to Berlin and that the American garrison there would be reinforced by 1,500 troops.

Both moves were in the nick of time. Johnson the breezy Texas campaigning technique that he has developed into a political art, was a smash hit as he motored around West Berlin, making speeches and handing out souvenier ball point pens.

The American troops who paraded down West Berlin's main street yesterday brought the Allied garrison there up to about 10,000 men. The Communists, with 400,000 men in and near Berlin, could overrun them in a matter of hours if they should suddenly attack some dawn. But the mission of the 1,500 Americans was more political than military. They restored the faith of the West Berliners in America's intention to stand firm.

So the extent of the western alliance's success is that two firm gestures have been made without starting World War III.

The crucial question is whether they should have been firmer and insisted that travel between East and West Berlin be allowed to flow. There is no point in second-guessing Kennedy on this one, because the risk of an armed clash would have been enormous and probably prohibitive. But there still is some feeling in West Berlin that the Allies should not have lost it by default.

Social Security In Marin County

Marin County residents who want social security information may contact a field representative from Social Security Administration on Mondays and Fridays at the San Rafael City Hall.

Since there is no telephone inside the council chambers, inquirers must appear in person.

Freighter Captain Appeals

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The captain of the Cuban freighter Bahia de Nipe has appealed to President John F. Kennedy to hold the vessel here until the families of defecting crewmen get out of Cuba.

The 3,800-ton, sugar-laden ship lay at anchor today in nearby Lynnhaven Roads under watch by the Coast Guard.

A hearing resumes before U.S. Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman, who will determine whether the ship can be seized by U.S. marshals for settlement of debts claimed by several persons.

Jorge Gustin Navarro, the ship's captain, said last night that he had sent a letter to the president asking him to hold the ship here until the families of the crewmen seeking sanctuary in this country are out of Cuba.

The State Department in Washington said it has received a formal request from Premier Fidel Castro for return of the freighter.

The Bahia de Nipe has been under Coast Guard control since it sailed into Lynnhaven Roads near here Thursday. Navarro and 10 crewmen asked political asylum in the United States and were taken off the ship pending a decision on their status.

Navarro and the 10 had imprisoned 23 other crewmen on the vessel and sailed to the United States. The ship originally was bound for undisclosed Iron Curtain ports with about 5,500 tons of sugar.

At Saturday's hearing, Hoffman heard a request from Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the vessel be freed.

PROWLER EATS, LEAVES DIRTY DISHES BEHIND

Patricia Belle Nunn, 20, of 16 Crescent Drive told police she and a girl friend drove into her driveway at about 10 p.m. to find a hatless, coatless, six-foot man hurriedly leaving the apartment.

Huge Blaze Rages At N.Y. Waterfront

WEEHAWKEN, N.J. (AP)—A general alarm fire raged over half a mile of the Hudson River waterfront today. Fire department officials said the blaze caused more than a million dollars damage.

The fire apparently started at the New York Central Railroad abandoned 42nd St. ferry, officials said. The first alarm was received at 3:15 a.m.

Forty-five minutes later, the huge ferry terminal, adjoining docks, and several nearby freight sheds and boxcars had been reduced to a glowing pile of crackling timber. Flames could be seen from the center of Manhattan on the New York side of the river.

The trminal building covered almost a full city block. It was a one-story, shed-style frame building. It had been abandoned about four years ago, when the New York Central eliminated passenger service on that line.

Four hundred firemen from 12 departments in Hudson and Bergen counties were joined by fireboats from New York City and the Coast Guard in fighting to contain the blaze. It burned for three hours before being brought under control.

During the fire, six trucks were recalled to West New York, N.J., just north of Weehawken, where a fire destroyed three piers at an estimated one-million-dollar loss Friday night.

James Woodcock, 42, received minor burns on his arms and hands while he was assisting firemen.

Deer Hunter Accidentally Shot In Chest

A 59-year-old man hunting deer on the Kleiser Ranch in Chileno Valley in northwestern Marin County was accidentally shot in the chest by a .22 caliber rifle held by his 10-year-old nephew yesterday, the sheriff's office reported.

Wounded was Alvin Betinelli, 59, a Petaluma furniture salesman. At Hillcrest Hospital, he was termed in "satisfactory condition" today.

Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen of Point Reyes Station said Betinelli was shot by a rifle held by Dale Betinelli, also of Petaluma.

Christensen reported the boy said he was fingering the trigger guard and had shifted position when the gun fired. The deputy said the boy told him he had had no safety training with weapons.

INCOME RISE IN CALIFORNIA IS ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average Californian's income increased 6 per cent last year — a bigger rise than posted nationally or in any other major industrial state during the recession-marred period.

Personal income rose 5 per cent nationally to a per person average of $2,223. California's figure was $2,741 per person, the U. S. commerce Department reports.

For the nation as a whole, the increase in income barely matched the pace of rising prices.

Incomes in manufacturing states particularly were affected during the final three months of 1960 when the business recession spurred unemployment totals.

Corte Maderan Gets Naval Appointment

Sgt. William G. McBride Jr., 20, whose father is Corte Madera building inspector, has been appointed to the United States Naval prep school at Anapolis, Md.

McBride has been stationed at Camp Pendleton, serving with the Marine Corps. He received the appointment as a result of competitive examination in July, he said. He learned of the appointment last week.

If he successfully completes nine months in the prep school, he will receive an appointment to the Naval Academy in Anapolis, McBride said.

A native of Marin County, McBride attended grade school in Mill Valley, and Tamalpais High School. He joined the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, in March, 1958, and enlisted as a regular in the Marine Corps in October of that year.

Gypsy Plans Comeback In An 'Opera'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gypsy Rose Lee is putting on her black lace dainties again—for musical comedy instead of burlesque.

"I thought I'd packed 'em away forever," remarks the demure ex-queen of genteel striptease. "I'm getting some back from museums."

OFF BROADWAY

Announcement of the contract was made today by Stanley Chase, Carmen Capalbo and Lucille Lortel, producers of the satiric diversion which has been hypnotizing customers for six years off-Broadway and grossed two and one-half million dollars.

"I'm supposed to sing like a tart and that's what I do," says the 47-year-old star who since 1942 has concentrated on such off-stage careers as authorship, art and real estate.

"The nice thing about such a show is that you can use costumes like this," she continues, holding up sundry gossamers of glamor deshabille. "My faded roses I call them."

SHE WILL SING

"I don't mind in the least," the star says. "I'll sing in whatever key you want. I'm like a drum—it doesn't have a key either."

The tour opens in Toronto Sept. 18, and subsequent stops are Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Montreal, Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha, Des Moines, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Boston and Washington.

Her presence, Gypsy feels, may reassure patrons dismayed by that word opera in the title.

"I can see it in Omaha," she declares. "Some husband will say 'You know I hated Il Trovatore.' And his wife will say, 'This has Gypsy Rose Lee.' And he'll say 'Huh, can't be much of an opera. Guess I'll go.' "

Four Rescued As Boat Tips Off Alcatraz

Fished from the water within minutes after their 29-fdot open cockpit Highland Brigade overturned were Keith Buck, 30, the boat's owner, and his wife, Barbara, 29, both of Walnut Creek; Colin Fisher, 25, of Danville, and Ken Meraw, 35, of Berkeley.

The four, wearing life jackets, clung to the side of the boat while the Coast Guard cutter sped to their rescue at 11 a.m. The boat was taken in tow and pumped out at Aquatic Park. It was later towed to the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere.

A few minutes later the Coast Guard reported taking a 17-foot outboard in tow off Angel Island when the boat wallowed helplessly with a dead battery.

The 22-foot cabin cruiser Shady Lane was towed into Sausalito from Lion Point at 6:20 a.m. with engine trouble.

What was apparently a false alarm sent Coast Guardsmen in search of a "capsized" sailboat in Richmond Bay about 2 p.m. No trace of a vessel was found, officials said.

ICC's Ruling On Commute Trains Given

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today reaffirmed a previous ruling permitting the Southern Pacific Railway to discontinue service of two commuter trains between San Francisco and San Jose.

The trains are No. 155, which operates daily between San Jose and San Francisco and No. 156, operating daily except Sunday and holidays from San Francisco to San Jose.

The original order was issued by the ICC July 21, 1960. It was appealed by the California Public Utilities Commission and the Railway Labor Executives' Association. The case was reopened last November.

The ICC said today it was reaffirming the original order because continued operation of the trains would be an unjust burden on the railway and interstate commerce.

The commission said Southern Pacific's loss from operation of the trains was not less than $48,500 a year, little use is being made of them and an alternative means of transportation are available.

U.N. Assembly Opens Session On Bizerte

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly opened a special session on the Bizerte crisis today with a statement by Tunisia that it had been trying since 1956 to force the removal of French troops.

France boycotted the assembly session, and its seats were conspicuously empty of delegates as assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland gavelled the session to order. A lone photographer used the French section of the assembly as a vantage point.

The assembly without dissent chose Boland, who was president of the 15th regular session which adjourned last April, as president of the special meeting. It also decided to retain all other officers of the past session.

The Afro-Asian group gave final approval before the meeting to a "moderate" resolution calling on France to respect last month's security council order to both French and Tunisian forces to cease fire and retire to positions they held before fighting erupted at Bizerte on July 19.

They submitted it to the secretariat with sponsorship of 31 countries.

The Afro-Asians expected 50 to 60 votes for the measure. If the Western powers abstain as expected, this could be enough to assure the two-thirds majority required for assembly approval.

Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat, opened the debate with regret that France had decided to boycott the assembly.

"My delegation," Slim said, "would have liked to have seen the delegation of France, which is directly accused, participate and contribute its argument in support of its position."

Street Lights On Hub Agenda

Acceptance of bids for street lights and adoption of a 1961-62 tax rate are on the agenda for tomorrow night's meeting of the San Anselmo City Council. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The council also will discuss plans to pave the Hub intersection at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Red Hill Avenue, at a cost of $17,000 to be financed by the state.

Also to be considered are council authorization for the county to sell tax delinquent property in San Anselmo, diversion of storm water on Francis Street and final approval for a map of the Rafael Racquet Club Estates.

Britain Gets Dunned For 1778 Damage

LONDON (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express today cautioned a Philadelphia minister against trying to collect about 270,000 pounds—$756,000—for a church fence the Redcoats broke down during the American Revolution.

The Rev. Joseph Koci Jr. of Philadelphia presented the bill to Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd. The Episcopal minister asked for the cost of the fence plus interest for 183 years.

"But suppose the British government were to submit a bill to the United States for the cost—plus interest—of protecting the American settlers from the red Indians in the years before the War of Independence?" asked the Express editorially.

The editorial concluded with this advice: "It does not pay to dabble with history, Mr. Koci. Just stick to reading it."

Beaverbrook's newspaper may have brushed aside the minister's claim, but the British treasury took it more seriously.

A spokesman said the bill has arrived and will be considered and replied to.

"It is too early yet to say what we shall do," he commented.

Billy Graham Urges Program Against Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham has suggested to President John F. Kennedy a three-point program for Berlin which he says would wake up the American people, frighten their enemies and encourage those living under communism.

Graham said the president should:

"First, call for a United Nations General Assembly meeting to find out why the refugees are fleeing East Germany.

"Secondly, the president should again spell out in a speech in no uncertain terms that we will not retreat, compromise or appease anywhere in the world—that from now on we are starting a peaceful counter-offensive to roll communism back in Eastern Europe.

"Third, the president should call a day of prayer as a time of petition to God to intervene in the world situation, that we might have the courage to do His will for a just peace. A major part of our praying would be for the people under communism."

Graham said "Our help must come from God. If we depend upon military power alone, we're finished."

Graham, opening his 116th crusade and his 35th major one in this country, spoke to a capacity crowd of 15,000 in Convention Hall after delivering a brief message from a second-story window to hundreds who stood in the rain in the street.

Muir Woods To Complain Of Variances

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. voted Friday night to write the Marin County Planning Commission complaining that variances are becoming the rule rather than the exception.

Mrs. M. J. Janoff, publicity chairman, said the group took the position that too many people buy odd-sized property they know will require variances, and the association wants the planners to make property owners stick closer to the county master plan.

The group also decided to hold the annual Mountain Fair in its clubhouse Oct. 14 and 15 and to join the Citizens Committee for Regional Recreation, a group she said started in the East Bay and now embraces seven counties.

The 15 daily events will be held at Sleepy Hollow Stables 1251 Butterfield Road.

New Chaplain Is Named For Juvenile Hall

Rev. Edward J. Dingberg of St. Isabella Church in Terra Linda will be the new chaplain at the Marin County Juvenile Hall beginning Thursday, Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher has announced.

Father Dingberg was previously Catholic chaplain at San Quentin for 13 years before undertaking the establishment and building of the new St. Isabella Church in the Terra Linda-Marinwood area.

David Fogel, superintendent of Juvenile Hall, stated: "We are extremely fortunate in obtaining the services of such an outstandingly qualified person to work with our Catholic youngsters."

MUSIC CHEST CONCERT

Baritone Boatwright Pleasing, Talented

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Dramatic baritone McHenry Boatwright revealed a multi-faceted musical talent of a high order yesterday afternoon at Marin Music Chest's third summer concert in Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Possessor of a powerful voice of rich quality, Boatwright received his greatest response from a fair-sized audience with his group of contemporary songs by Copland, and especially with his own fresh arrangements of familiar spirituals, for which he provided his own piano accompaniment.

Of a generous and pleasing personality, he added much to his popularity by singing as encores "I Got Plenty of Nothin'" from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," and the inevitable "Ol' Man River."

In the spirituals — that included "Deep River," "Steal Away," "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" and "Bye and Bye"— and in some other passages, the delicate pianissimo of this big voice was an unexpected delight.

A further surprise was his mastery of a wide variety of emotional nuances and styles, from the operatic, in "Sommi Dei" from "Radamisto" by Handel and "Nemico Della Patria" from "Andrea Chenier" by Giordano, and Oratorio, heard in "Thus Saith the Lord; But Who May Abide" from Handel's "Messiah," to German love lyrics — "Widmung" by Schumann, "Der Doppelganger" by Schubert and "Von Ewiger Liebe" and "Botschaft" by Brahms.

Outstanding impressions were made by his slow legato passages, like those in "Thanks Be To Thee" by Handel, his vocal dexterity in the "Messiah" recitative and aria and Mozart's concert aria: Mentre Ti Lascio, as well as a purity of diction such as one seldom hears.

Lully's "Belle Hermione" and "Aire de Charon" added French to his accomplishments as a linquist in English, German and Italian.

One feels he has a special gift for religious music and would be memorable in some of the leading roles in oratorio. Yet he is equally at home in the homely, simple and humorous, as shown in Copland's "The Dodger," "Simple Gifts" and "I Bought Me a Cat," which he sang especially for the children in the audience.

A mistake was in assuming that a spiritual—"Every Time I Feel the Spirit"—would be suitable for audience participation. It didn't work.

Sentencing Set In Marijuana Growing Case

A Corte Madera woman, whose rooftop was found lined with a row of potted marijuana plants last June 26, will be sentenced for marijuana possession on Sept. 8.

Retired Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, helping out in Marin Superior Court, Friday found Mrs. Nancy Jane Kuhe of 74 Sonora Way guilty of marijuana possession. Mrs. Kuhe fought the charge, contending that she was an innocent victim of circumstances. She maintained that a friend had brought the plants and had asked to have them put on the roof. She said she had no idea what was planted in the pots.

The judge ruled against her and set 10 a.m., Sept. 8 as the time for a probation report and for sentencing.

Three Escaped Felons Still Are At Large

Three convicts were reported still missing today after walking away from San Quentin Prison camps this past week end.

Robert W. Phillips, 34, left the Ice Springs summer camp, 50 miles west of Redding Saturday night, reported Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff. Phillips was committed to the prison in 1951 after conviction for assault with intent to rape.

Ronald Snyder, 30, and Fred Tapeia, 24, both walked away from camp No. 13, Crystal Creek, also near Redding, between 10:30 p.m. and midnight last night, said Achuff.

Snyder was sent to the prison on a conviction of forgery in Del Norte County in March, 1955. Tapeia, who was committed in 1956 for second degree burglary in Santa Clara County, was paroled in 1958. He was sent back to prison the same year for violating the parole, said Achuff.

Artichoke Assessment

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state department of agriculture will assess producers of Globe artichokes $4 per acre, instead of $2.50, if the producers assent to a changed order proposed by Charles Paul, director.

The change was proposed by the Artichoke Advisory Board. It also provides that another increase to $5 per acre can be assessed with approval of producers.

The funds are used to promote the marketing of artichokes.

Marin is one of seven counties in the state classified as heavy producers of artichokes. The other counties are Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura.

Artists Getting Ready For Sausalito Exhibit

More than 65 Marin County artists are scheduled to enter this year's Sausalito Art Festival, Sept. 2, 3 and 4 at Central School, 420 Litho Street.

Festival director Helen Kerr announced that almost $300 in prize money and merchandise orders will be given by the Spinnaker Restaurant, Glad Hand Restaurant, Bridgeway Inn, Sausalito Foundations Inc. and the Sausalito Creative Arts store. More prize donations are expected.

This year's festival will include an "artist's ballot" which will permit participating artists to vote for the work they consider the best in the show.

The Sausalito Cooperative Nursery School will operate a soft drink, coffee and ice cream concession, and children from the school will participate in the three-day festival with their own art-in-action display.

Sponsoring the event is the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. Festival hours are from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Ample parking space will be provided, Mrs. Kerr said.

Street Plan Coming Before City Council

A resolution approving plans and specifications for resurfacing of portions of 27 San Rafael streets will come before the San Rafael City Council tonight at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The streets are Rustic Way, Hacienda Court, Mountain View Avenue, Glen Park Avenue, Vineyard Drive, Idlewood Place, La Vista Way, Grand Avenue, East Crescent Drive, Commercial Place, Union Street, Belle Avenue, Eucalyptus Lane, Broadview Drive, Clorinda Avenue, Grove Street, Woodland Place, Warner Court, Woodland Avenue, D Street, Pleasant Lane, Billou Street, Meadow Avenue, Hillview Avenue, Irwin Street and San Pedro Road.

Councilmen will consider setting of the tax rate for 1961-62. Indications are that the rate will not be raised from the present 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Two public hearings are scheduled. One is an appeal by Paul Sade for a swimming pool fence exceeding the legal height. The request was denied by the planning commission. The other hearing will deal with a petition by Laurel Place residents objecting to the use of land for entrance to an apartment building planned for the area.

year when Mitchell said there was transfer to hospital and farm from civic center.

The premise at that time, said Mitchell, was that it would be repaid through general obligation bond issue which was defeated, or a lease arrangement which the board decided it didn't like. Fusselman said that there was "camouflage" of the money last year.

"I wouldn't say that," protested Mitchell. "There was to be a reimbursement that didn't materialize."

Supervise J. Walter Blair broke in to move deletion of the sum from the "capital improvements" category of the preliminary budget, where it was resting under a label of "county hospital and farm", and with second by George Ludy the action finally was taken with mention that it represented five cents off the tax rate.

But this didn't go through with complete smoothness. Administrator Alan Bruce — though challenged by Fusselman with "are you opposing this?" — made unsuccessful argument for attention to continuing capital needs for the future.

clude a branch line to Sausalito, but the company has petitioned to abandon that line and an ICC examiner has recommended the abandonment be allowed.)

Supervisor William Gnoss asked about North Marin service. He was assured the existing line will be used with spurs wherever there is promise of industrial development.

Abandonment of the tunnel would leave San Rafael's only rail connection that to Tiburon — or to Sausalito as long as the branch line remains in use.

Four years ago the company dropped its passenger service out of San Rafael. More recently it closed its stations at Novato and Tiburon.

Heart Victim Gets Treatment

Joseph Paul Mainini, 49, of 523 D Street, San Rafael, suffered a heart attack in Carpenters' Hall, Lindaro Street, at 8:35 p.m. yesterday.

Oxygen was administered as he was taken by ambulance to San Rafael General Hospital and today was reported in good condition. His wife, Mrs. Betty Mainini, told police he suffered a severe attack in June and a slight one two weeks ago.

Probation Violator Is Warned

Charles Kiewert, 39, former Corte Madera real estate man convicted in 1959 of forging signatures on checks worth almost $30,000, was directed by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court today to keep the Marin probation office better informed of his whereabouts.

Kiewert, now living in Anaheim, was jailed Wednesday on a charge of violating terms of his five years probation. His probation then was revoked. Kiewert told the judge he sometimes was on the road 10 days at a time and could not immediately reply to letters.

The judge directed probation reinstated and ordered Kiewert to submit his 1960 federal income tax report and his income figures for the first eight months of 1961 to Marin probation officials. Inasmuch as he had been in Marin County Jail since Wednesday, the judge then ordered him released.

Crashes Tie Up Traffic In Marin

A series of minor rear-end collisions along Highway 101 had Marin County freeway traffic tied up during a considerable part of the Sunday rush yesterday.

California Highway Patrol officials said most of the afflicted motorists were northbound. About mid-day the highway was jammed from San Rafael down to Marin City.

None of about five mishaps during the jam-up was listed as an injury accident. In at least one or two cases the harassed patrol reached the scene just after those involved had resolved their differences among themselves and got on their respective ways again.

Girl, 10, Injured In Fall On Tam

Susan arose early and left the tent where she was camping with her parents, park rangers reported. She fell about 15 feet off a rock, fracturing her ankle.

She called to her parents who took her to the ranger station where an ambulance was called. She was taken to Marin General Hospital where her condition was reported good today.

Data Processing Chief Wins Pay 'Correction'

County Auditor Leon A. deLisle won further "inequity correction" today on salaries of the data processing bureau chief and assistant, but county supervisors declined to boost pay of anybody in the probation department.

Two department head efforts took up much of the morning of Marin supervisors on the last day of final budget discussion and further underscored the board's determination to avoid comprehensive pay range changes.

"If we find we're terribly out of line anywhere," said Chairman William D. Fusselman, "we'll be decent enough to recognize it."

"When will you undertake your study?" asked Probation Director Walter Busher, just turned down in efforts for the top seven of 49 department employees.

It's in the lap of the gods," Fusselman responded.

Previous inequity corrections of the current budget hearings involved a total of nine employees—four in the auditor's office, one each for recorder, assessor, welfare, sealer of weights and measures, and communications.

Arleigh Sewell, data processing chief, was recommended for a two-range increase. He got one range on the theory that he will also go under the board-approved creation of a new pay range for longevity.

Coleman School Bids Meeting Set Tomorrow

School architect Carl F. Gromme will present his analysis of bids for Coleman School additions at tomorrow night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education.

At its meeting Aug. 9, the board opened bids from three companies. Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross was the apparent low bidder, with $6,361 for rest rooms and $5,939 for a faculty room.

Recommendations are expected at tomorrow night's meeting from acting superintendent Raymond J. Simpson for a San Rafael High School vice-principal, several elementary school principals, several San Rafael department heads and a director of business services.

Creation of the director of business services position was decided at the Aug. 9 meeting. Simpson recommended that whoever is hired in this position be a schools accounting expert, and the board decided also he should be familiar with automation methods.

Driver Injured As Cars Collide

Two cars met head-on in front of Bermuda Palms, on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael last night with injury to both drivers.

Franklin Grover Holliday of Fairfax told the California Highway Patrol he had been about to make a left turn from the southbound lane when he collided with a northbound vehicle driven by Norbet Frentrup of 251 Reed Street, Mill Valley.

Holliday's shoulder was hurt but he refused hospitalization. Frentrup was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was treated for a cut scalp.

Three In Bicycle Accidents Treated

Three persons were treated at Marin General Hospital this weekend for injuries suffered in bicycle accidents.

The other two accidents happened yesterday. A/2c Daniel George, 22, of Hamilton Air Force Base cut his bare foot while riding a bike. Laurie Patrick,6, of 25 Cedar Avenue, Kentfield, was cut in a fall from her bike near her home.

Fireplace Blaze Causes Damage

Fire, caused by a defective fireplace, resulted in $1,000 damage to the living room wall and roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Burgess at 14 Parkwood Avenues, Mill Valley, early yesterday.

Reported at 5:40 a.m. by a neighbor, M. E. Collins of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, three units were sent to put out the flames which licked both inside and outside walls of the room. The fire was under control in about 20 minutes, Fire Chief Leslie Armager said.

Power Line Falls, Blacks Out Homes

Homes in Terra Linda, Santa Venetia and McNear's Beach area were blacked out for about a half-hour after a 12,000-volt Pacific Gas and Electric Co. power line fell early today.

Burglar alarms over a wide area were set off. The P.G. and E. office in San Rafael said it still was investigating what caused the line to fall.

Slight Auto Bump: Sickness Later

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Whiplash probably is the most common type of injury arising from auto accidents —and most Americans have been involved in a motor mishap at one time or another.

Even a lightweight rear end bump could produce a whiplash injury to the neck. The effects of such a bump can be drastic even though the symptoms don't appear until weeks or months after the accident.

The unexpected bump may snap your head back and cause the vertebrae in your neck to lose their normal alignment. Such a displacement can damage nerves, blood vessels and muscles in the neck region. Eventually organs elsewhere in your body may be affected—the heart, liver, kidneys or stomach.

These symptoms, distant from the site of injury can be explained by the fact that nerves supplying all the organs and tissues of the body originate in the brain and are channeled through the bony framework of the spinal column. Consequently, when the spine is jolted by the sudden whiplash in the neck, a vertebrae may be forced out of place and pinch nerves leading to any one of several organs.

Let's take the stomach as an example. Because of damaged nerve supply, the stomach in time will lose its digestive efficiency and ulcers may occur. The cause of the ulcers, however, remains in the neck . . . the vertebrae that was jerked out of line.

The science of finding and restoring misaligned vertebrae is the science of Chiropractic. When the nerve interference is removed efficiently and painlessly by a Chiropractic adjustment, nerves will return to normal function and the stomach ulcers eventually will disappear—with the help of time and nature.

Rockefeller Is Seeking N.Y. School Cleanup

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called upon a special session of the New York Legislature today to declare a state of emergency in the scandal ridden school system of New York City.

The Republican-controlled legislature was ready to approve the GOP governor's recommendations for a series of sweeping reforms. Minority Democrats balked at some details.

Rockefeller, in a message prepared for the special session, told the lawmakers: "The crisis in New York City's public schools stems from the reluctance of city leadership to assume its responsibilities and take decisive action."

The New York City school system, which includes a million pupils, 40,000 teachers, 800 schools and an annual operating budget of 650 million dollars has been beset by charges of graft and corruption in building programs, hazardous conditions in present schools and inefficient administration.

Rockefeller asked the legislature to:

1. Proclaim a state of emergency in the school system throughout the next school year.

2. Authorize Mayor Robert F. Wagner to appoint a new, nine-member school board from a select list of 18 nominees to be submitted by a panel of educators and other community leaders.

3. Require the new board to make periodic reports of what it does to eliminate corruption and otherwise improve conditions in the system.

Novato Council To Meet Tonight

Items to be considered for inclusion in the budget are recreation program, codification of ordinances, records and filing system, elections, health services and the amount of a Monte Maria tax reserve.

The council is considering a $334,350 budget for the city, which has an assessed valuation of $17,281,500.

Reds Reject Demand On Laos Control

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union and Communist China today rejected western demands for strong international controls in Laos in statements that dimmed hopes for East-West agreement at the 14-nation Laotian peace conference.

But a U. S. delegation spokesman declared there would be no western backdown before the Communist drive to limit the power of the international control commission in the southeast Asian kingdom.

"The U. S. government," he said, "feels there must be an ICC with strong terms of reference to supervise and control the cease-fire and the withdrawal of troops.

Man Jailed For Bottle Of Vitamins

A San Anselmo motorcycle policeman did all right on foot Saturday when he nabbed a man fleeing from search by three other officers.

Riding his motorbike up Sequoia Avenue, Officer George Alberigi saw a man emerge from a gate at 25 Sequoia, then jump back.

Alberigi leaped off, ran through the gate and collared the man on the chance he might be the one observed by manager Jack Camiccia of San Anselmo's United Market departing with an unpaid-for bottle of vitamin pills under his coat.

Sure enough, a bottle of the pills was found lying in the yard. Robert B. Parker of Vallejo was booked at Marin County jail on a charge of shoplifting.

Auto Runs Over 3-Year-Old Boy

Mark Harris, 3, of Tiburon was treated at Marin General Hospital Friday night for a bruised and cut right leg he suffered when he was run over by a car.

The boy's father, Robert Harris of 342 Karen Way, Tiburon, said he had just stopped the family car in front of their home, and Mark had stepped out. The car rolled back slightly when the emergency brake failed. Mark was knocked down by the open door and the car's front wheel rolled over his leg.

Ranch Lands Compromise Makes Pt. Reyes Park Plan

The compromise proposal for establishment of the Point Reyes National Seashore makes sense. It sets up a recreational area large enough for the next generation or two. At the same time it protects the ranchers on their ranches so long as they want to continue dairy or beef activities.

It won't, of course, appeal to those who oppose establishment of any park area on the peninsula. But the compromise has won its first test in the U. S. Senate and seems slated to race to Senate approval even before adjournment.

The compromise assures public use of the beautiful, timbered hills of the south part of the peninsula, as well as the clean, long beaches which encircle it.

This was the weakness of the stand of the Marin County Board of Supervisors in recommending a 20,000 acre park. It ignored the beaches which will, we are sure, become one of the greatest attractions of the seashore area. We hope that with this new proposal, the supervisors will see fit to reconsider their resolution and get behind the new proposal.

The advantage to the county, and so to the supervisors, seems obvious. Under the new plan half of the 53,000 acres would be left on the county tax rolls, while the other half would be attracting tourists, vacationers and the taxable and economic benefits which follow them.

We'd like to have everyone go out and take a look for him or herself. If you don't want to bother the ranchers by asking permission to cross their lands to the beaches, drive to the county park at Drake's Beach. You can see the entire sweep of Drake's Bay from there. Then drive to the Point Reyes lighthouse, from where you can see the sweep of the western beaches. Finally, visit Tomales State Park and see for yourself the possibilities of the protected Tomales Bay beaches.

We were out on the ocean beaches recently on a day-long beach picnic. It was beautiful; warm until the sun went down, then crisp and snappy. The waves were rolling high, although the ocean itself was calm.

We couldn't help but wish that a reasonable compromise could be reached so that those hills and beaches could be made available to all the people.

Now the compromise is here.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

The robbers soon discovered they had made one notable blunder. They had overlooked labels on each carton reading: "No pairs, no value." Each of the 320 shoes was for the left foot.

A couple of hours after the robbery, the shoes were found in a truck at the side of the road. The culprits had apparently tossed them aside in disgust after finding out that all of them were "left-footers."

Perhaps the greatest disappointment for those who pursue double-dealing of any type is to find that their most carefully laid plans are so often upset by some trifling oversight.

While injustice seems frequently to prevail, it never wholly triumphs. As hard as men have tried all through the ages, instead of breaking the law of God, in one way or another it invariably breaks them.

"Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice: for they shall have their fill."
(Matthew 5:6)

Deepen in me, O Jesus, a respect for eternal truth and justice.

WHITHER THE GOP?

Party Leaders Make Plans For Top Off-Year Election Campaign

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The high command of the Republican Party has formulated a 1962 battle plan which may prove to be the most extensive effort yet undertaken by a party in an off-year election.

Convinced that the 1964 GOP presidential nomination will have little value unless the party makes significant gains in 1962, the party's national leaders have selected a group of about 100 marginal congressional districts—most of them currently held by Democrats—in which the Republicans feel they have a real chance to win.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller and other party officials say the lion's share of the Republican organizational effort and finances will be channeled into these key target districts. Miller said he was convinced that the future of the Republican Party as a force in national life depends on its success in the 1962 House races.

From now until election day next year, Miller explained, weekly meetings will be held in Washington among the heads and key staff members of the national-level Republican campaign committees. Each of the key congressional districts will be reviewed at these weekly meetings to see whether good progress has been made on candidate recruitment, organization, financing and campaign direction.

THE FIRST step in the campaign will be the recruitment of young, attractive candidates to carry the GOP banner in the key congressional districts, party leaders told CQ.

"We're going to conduct a nationwide talent search. We will try to persuade local committees to suggest and, if necessary, even draft the very best men to run" according to Rep. Bob Wilson (R, Calif.), chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Wilson recently appointed a special group, headed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R. Wis.), which will tour the United States during the congressional recess, speaking in target areas and trying to persuade good men to seek the GOP nominations.

A SECOND PRONG of the Republican organizational effort will be a continued effort to organize energetic campaigns, staffed by reliable workers, in the large cities of the North and Midwest where extremely top-heavy Democratic majorities wrecked the 1960 Republican presidential campaign.

Republicans told CQ they have few hopes of winning actual majorities in the big cities, but they believe they can cut down the Democratic majorities enough so that Republican candidates for governor, senator and other posts will have a chance statewide.

The party's new organizational plans will be explained to party officials from all parts of the nation at regional conferences planned for this fall, Miller said for West in Sun Valley, Idaho, Sept. 28-30.

(TOMORROW: Should the GOP form an advisory council?)

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

I-J At Present Is Short-Sighted

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

America has been long dedicated to a policy of "Freedom of the Press," and if I recall correctly you have on several instances rallied round your fellow members of the "Fourth Estate" when this freedom was being protected. Invariably your defense made as its point, that freedom of the press did not include license, and that the mark of true journalism was objectivity.

I believe that we all, or at least a majority of us concur in this, however, during the last few years, under the aegis of your present journalistic mentor, I have scented a bit of prejudice, or perhaps you are truly expert in the field of county government, for you informed us on July 22 of this year in your brickbats column that 10,000 voters did NOT constitute a minority of the voters of the county, perhaps the other 70,000 odd voters may not agree with you however in this. (This was the same issue in which you advocated public ownership of the redwoods in Woodacre, perhaps you are also an expert on conservation?)

In a previous issue you, in criticism of certain public utility employees, deplored the fact that one of them stood over a manhole watching the other work. Perhaps a more mature investigation of the facts would have indicated to you that dangerous conditions exist in such manholes, and this man's primary duty consists of protecting his fellow worker.

Again you have been an expert on the financing of the Golden Gate Bridge, truly your knowledge of a great many and varied things is amazing.

Tonight (Aug. 14) we find you again reporting very objectively, as we read the report of the Blair Recall Committee, with a few rather scurrilous innuendoes concerning the county clerk, George Jones. This was an interesting article containing as it did not one word of support for the same 8,000 people or more who voted FOR Mr. Blair, and who were aware even then of his campaign pledges. Perhaps though you are again, as I have stated before, an expert on the feelings and emotions of all of Mr. Blair's constituents?

(In this same issue there were at least six column inches devoted to the following items, "A gentleman in Midhurst, England, whose glasses became so covered with soot he couldn't see," "A lady juror in the midwest who found it necessary to place lawbooks under her feet when sitting in a jury," and a family in Iowa who found it necessary to hire someone to prevent the neighborhood children from putting their feet in the fresh cement of their new patio.)

May I respectfully request that you reconsider some of your present short-sighted journalistic policies, and return to the former dependable reportitng you were noted for?

America today, has a deep-seated need for good, honest, complete, and above all, OBJECTIVE reporting. We as Americans deeply resent subliminal attempts at persuasion, we will make our own judgements determined by the facts as we know them. It is your duty to report these facts as you find them, NOT as you would like them to be.

Will Transit On Span Harm Looks?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As things stand at this time, there exists considerable engineering difference of opinion in respect to safety aspects of the Golden Gate Bridge for rapid transit use.

The writer, meanwhile, is wondering what rapid transit structures are going to do to the look of what he considers, is certainly the most beautiful bridge of its kind anywhere.

I feel sure that there are many Bay Area residents who would like to see a sketch or drawing, showing the appearance of this handsome and beautiful bridge after it receives the "new look" arising from installation of rapid transit facilities.

WALTER H. RITCHIE
San Rafael

(NOTE: There will be no change in the looks of the structure itself because the trains will run out of sight under the bridge deck. See sketch.)

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A couple of city slickers, on a hunting trip in Wisconsin, noticed that an elderly native was listening intently to their conversation in a village pub.

"I own a setter," boasted one city chap, "who has such a nose that when I send him to the store for eggs, he refuses to accept any that aren't freshly laid."

"My cocker is smarter than that," scoffed his friend. "I sent him out for cigars, and he flatly refused any but my favorite brand. Furthermore, he won't smoke any till he gets home and I light one for him."

The two men turned innocently to the elderly native and inquired, "Well, old timer, did you ever hear of any dogs as smart as ours?"

"Just one," nodded the unsmiling native. "My old collie Shep. He runs the store where your dogs trade."

Dean Martin cites the case of the sad sack who bought a bottle of the druggist's most powerful—and most expensive—vitamin pills, and then didn't have strength enough to get the bottle open.

With School So Close, Tree Forts Are More Intriguing Than Ever

A boy's tree fort is his castle and when the days of August start sliding into September, each day in the sky becomes more and more precious.

Jimmie Moore, second grader at Park School, Mill Valley, says, "I am building a tree house all by myself. It's so high it has a view of the mountain."

Dick Cooke, 9, says he has a tree fort which features a box with a rope to pull things up and down. What things, we asked. "Oh, food, tools and nails."

"How high is the fort?"

"Fifty feet from the ground."

"Fifty?!"

"Well, between 20 and 50."

"We call it the Secret H. Fort."

"What does 'H' stand for?"

"It doesn't matter. Just picked up the name."

"What do you play in the Fort?"

"We play Army mostly."

ALSO AN ARMY player, once in awhile is Peter Gardiner, 12, who has had one sky house, but is now building another in the woods. Peter also has the handy system of a pail with a rope which is used to hoist lunch up, he says.

"We were going to sleep out in the old house which had a tent on it, but we found the tent leaned too much," Peter advised.

Mark and Curtis Fong have a sort of Flying Fort with a triangular porch. Built by their father, Calvin, it is 25-30 feet in the air and is hung by wires to avoid nails injuring the trees.

"It sways wonderfully in the redwoods and madrones when the wind blows," said Fong. "And creaks."

Fong said "We plan to spend a night sleeping up there when one of the boys stops walking in his sleep."

AT THE RICHARD H. Dillons there are two sky houses, one a little low for the younger kids of six and another, a penthouse, for the big guys, who are eight.

"It's sort of a caste system," Dillon said, "or social climbing in the Monterey pines. Sometimes they are called tree forts and the youngsters play Army, choosing up sides. Crack shots on one side and the little guys on the other.

"Warfare," Dillon added, "has not been so heavy this year because of the drouth. Grass was higher last year in the nearby lot for building forts, tunnels and passageways."

AT OUR DUSTY for the "Blues" and the "Grays" of Civil War times have battles with each other. "Or, sometimes we just have a pretend enemy."

The atomic age faint hearts can take to their underground shelters, but as for "us guys" we will hole out in the sky forts. And please send up the pail on the rope with the lunch.

WE LEARNED about a beard-pulling dog the other day and decided to hop over and interview him. Name's Andy and it seems that he pulled so much hair out of his mother's beard that it left her, Honoree, looking rather scant of whisker.

Andy, according to his mistress, Janet Reupke of Tamalpais Valley, was not alone since other pups also pulled the beard of the tiny Brussel Griffon. There are two Griffon types—the smooth and the rough. The smooth has no beard and Andy is one. Maybe he was jealous.

The bad thing is that in a dog show, a good beard increases his appearance.

Andy also has another bad habit. He goes through all the waste baskets every morning and turns them upside down.

These toy dogs, originally Belgian it is believed, have flat noses, undershot jaws and don't like to wear sweaters. Once ratters, they later were used to entertain royalty.

When they want to have fun, they pull beards.

Khrushchev's Hand Not All Strength, He Has Some Important Weaknesses

WASHINGTON—Let us not make the mistake of assuming that all the trump cards or even all the high cards are in Nikita Khrushchev's hand over Berlin.

There are some serious weaknesses in the political and military hand which Mr. K has been able to deal himself. It is well to bear them in mind when we listen to the threats and boasts which come from the Kremlin with interspersed suggestions that all can be settled if the West will be "reasonable."

To keep things in perspective, it is well to look at some of the weaknesses in Mr. K's hand. He is not by any means leading from strength at all points. In sum his weaknesses may match—or exceed—our own.

DIPLOMATIC — By what stretch of irony and credibility does the Soviet premier think he can persuade the world that he is making a peace with East Germany when he has to hold the East German people at gunpoint from fleeing their own country to escape his regime?

Is it a source of strength to bring a "peace" treaty to the people of East Germany with tanks and tear gas?

Is it a source of strength—or a feat of diplomatic finesse—to have to be shooting and jailing the people of East Berlin (which the Soviets control) to keep them from winning their freedom while at the same time pretending to be ready to guarantee the freedom of West Berlin (which they do not control)?

Is it a source of strength to have produced such a plight in East Germany that Khrushchev has to voilate the old agreement with the West on travel between East Berlin and West Berlin while proposing that, if we will agree to some new agreement, he won't violate that?

MILITARY — When he comes to reaching across Eastern Europe to West Berlin, the Soviet Union has a very serious problem of "logistics." It is not that Berlin is so far from Moscow, but the road from Moscow to Berlin runs through the most sensitive and uncertain Soviet-bloc territory.

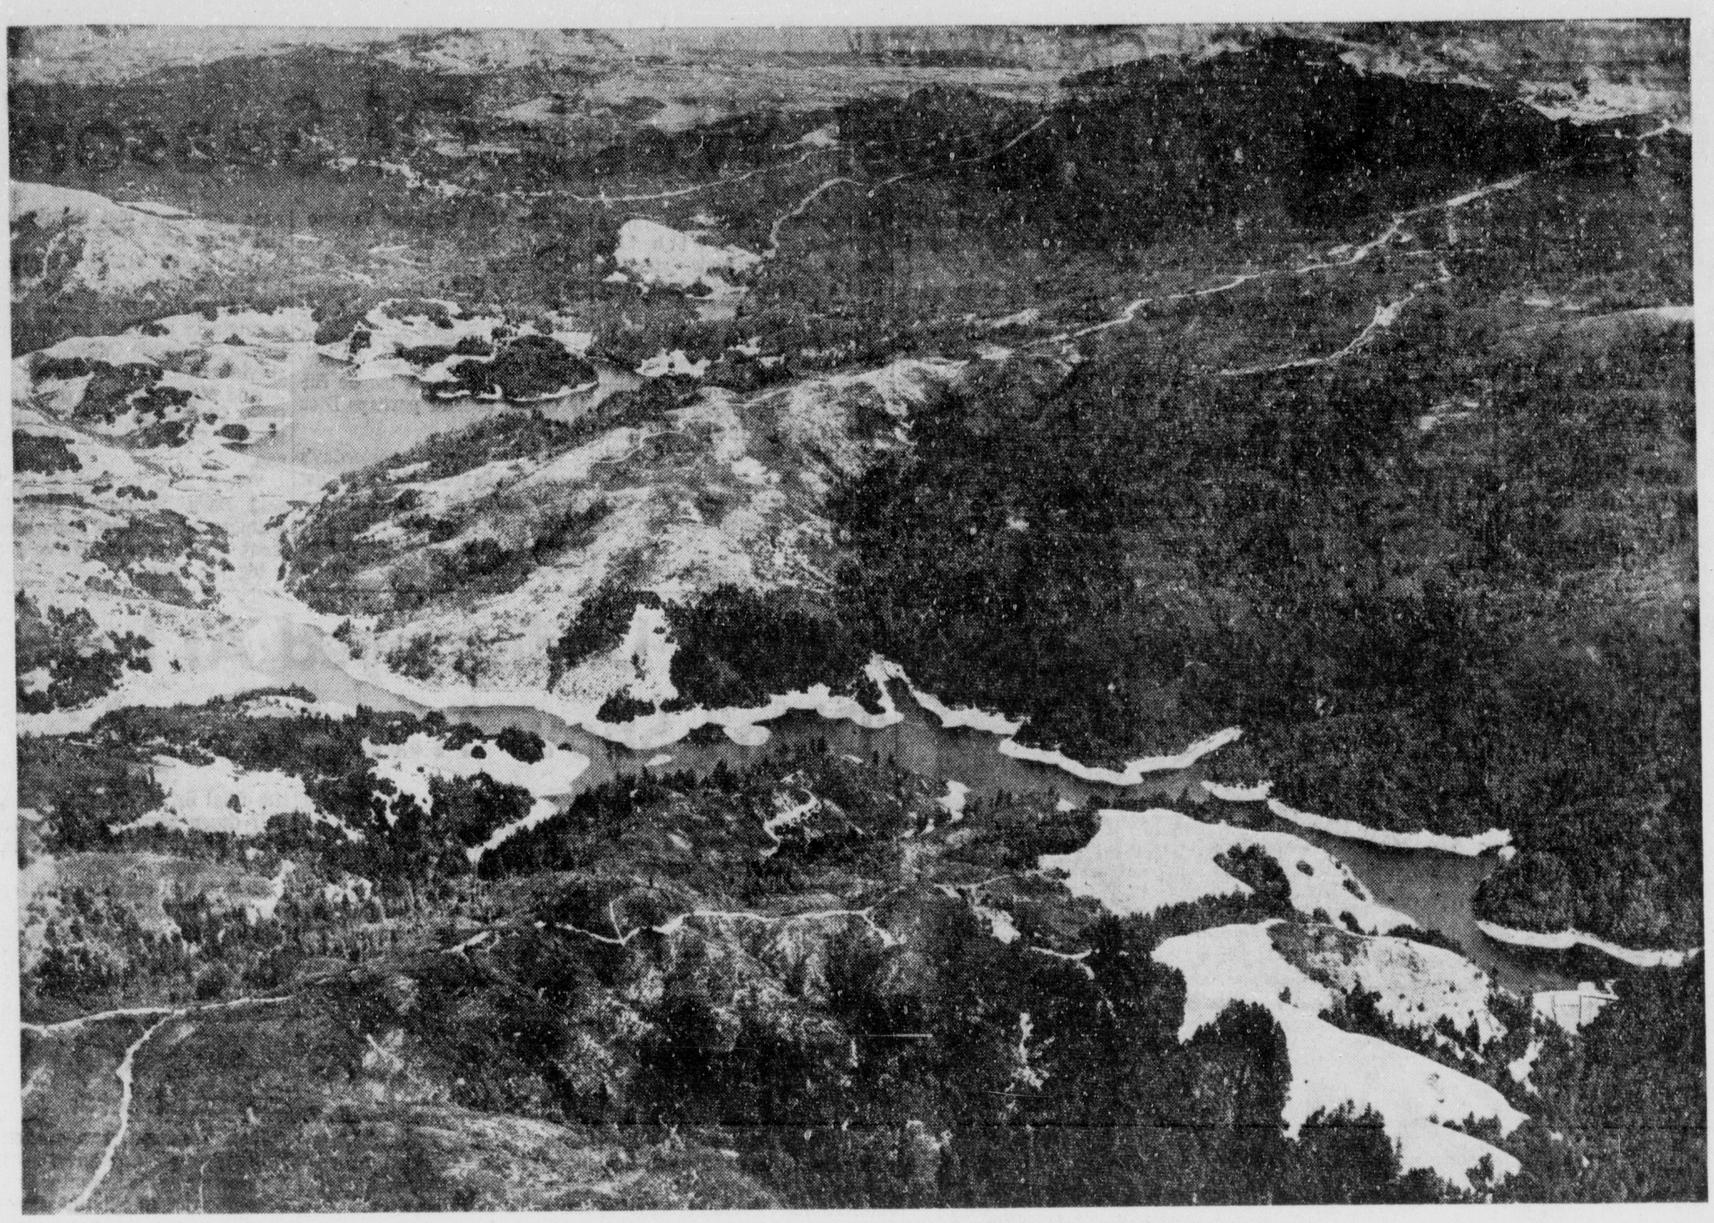
In Eastern Europe today—in Poland and Hungary and East Germany, particularly—the Soviets have to walk on thin eggs. In any military operations it might wish to undertake through this sensitive belt, the Kremlin could not count on the friendliness of the people of any of these countries and it could not rely on the military forces under the command of obedient puppet governments.

POLITICAL — In October, Khrushchev must preside over the 22nd Congress of the Soviet Communist Party. Is it a source of strength to Mr. K to have to admit that the only way Communism can rule in East Germany is to put barbed wire and gun emplacements across a whole national frontier?

And to lie about it by pretending that he is doing this to keep out West Berlin spies?

Is it a source of strength for Mr. K to have to go before the party Congress as one who has thrust his nation to the brink of war?

Or is it time for him to have second thoughts?



WATER DISTRICT'S LAKES LOW—BUT NO RATIONING IN SIGHT

Marin Municipal Water District's chain of mountain reservoirs, seen in this aerial photograph, hold about one and one-half million gallons less than last year at this time, William R. Seeger, general manager of the district, reported today. Exposed sides below vegetation, which show white around each body of water in photo, indicate lowness of the storage. Seeger said today, however, that this should be ample to carry the district until lines to the new Nicasio Reservoir are completed, which should be between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1. The Nicasio Reservoir holds three million gallons yet untouched. Seeger said the Marin Municipal Water District is unable to help the North Marin Water District, now rationing, because of heavy draw at Hamilton Air Force Base from the only line to North Marin from the southern district. Planned Industrial Zone Is Approved

The Marin County Planning Commission today approved rezoning of 25 acres southwest of San Rafael adjoining the San Quentin highway to planned industrial, but refused to rezone the area for unlimited heavy industrial construction.

Under "planned industrial" zoning, the owners, Henry Ghilotti, and Elmo V. Maggiora, would be required to develop the area as a whole, indicate uses of all lots and streets, and submit plans for drainage and development standards.

Under heavy industrial zoning the county would have control only over architectural standards.

Representing the owners was attorney Bryan McCarthy, who argued that the restrictions of planned industrial placed a hardship on his clients. "This area is logically industrial by every test you can apply," McCarthy said.

The property is bounded on the northwest by the Joaquin Ranch development and on the southwest by the old county road leading to San Quentin. It was rezoned from limited agricultural.

The planning staff objected to heavy industry in the area because of adjoining residential and commercial districts. "A planned industrial control would prevent indiscriminate mixing of residential and industrial areas," said Planning Director Mary Summers.

The matter will come before the board of supervisors at 2 p.m. on Aug. 29.

In other action this morning, the planners:

1. Refused to rezone 2.66 acres north of San Rafael adjoining San Pedro Road from single and duplex residential to multiple residential. Applying for the rezoning was Doreen Nelson. The request was denied because only three of five planners present voted to allow the change, with four required for a commission majority. Voting "no" were Commissioners Worth Fenner and Felix M. Warburg. Chairman William Upton was absent.

2. Continued to Sept. 11 consideration of the Joaquin Ranch Master Plan which includes 75 acres northwest of San Rafael bounded by Highway 101 and the old county road to San Quentin.

3. Continued to Sept. 11 an application for a service station at 1000 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield.

4. Continued to Sept. 11 a request by the Housing Authority of Marin County for rezoning of the Hilarita Housing Project from single and duplex residential to multiple residential.

Restaurant Without Bar Is Approved

A "reservation-type" restaurant limited to 50 diners and with no bar was approved today by the Marin County Planning Commission for operation on Paradise Drive on the Tiburon peninsula.

The permit requires that Kirby Atterbury, developer of the eating establishment planned for a single family residence at 2000 Paradise Drive adjacent to Elephant Rock work out plans for off-site parking and be granted architectural supervision before remodeling can start.

The operation of the restaurant would be limited to a maximum of 50 patrons and would not allow liquor to be served except at the dining tables.

The planning staff had recommended denial of the permit because of traffic, limited accommodations and because of adjacent single family residential zoning.

Atterbury said details of offsite parking could be worked out with cooperation of the Tiburon Sanitary District which owns a 225-foot-long strip across the street which is not used.

Several letters of approval from nearby residents were received by the planners, one suggesting that such a restaurant "would catch the eye of every passing photographer and bring Tiburon into national prominence."

The matter will come before the board of supervisors on Aug. 29 at 2 p.m.

Session Postponed

Trustees of Reed Union School District have postponed their board meeting from tomorrow to Aug. 29 because two trustees are on vacation, a district office spokesman said today.

Ex-Finance Manager Is Given Six Months

Charles Hopper, 32, former manager of the San Rafael office of Beneficial Finance Co., who last month pleaded guilty of grand theft, today was sentenced to six months in the Marin County Jail, plus probation for five years, and directed to make restitution of $24,585.44.

Sentence was pronounced by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., who specified that Hopper may be eligible to the jail work furlough program. Hopper of Petaluma, currently is working as a laborer in Sonoma County at $1.25 an hour.

In suspending imposition of sentence, the judge took into account a probation report that Hopper had no previous criminal record. Both the probation office and Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety had asked the six-month jail term.

Hopper, manager of the San Rafael office of the loan firm from October, 1960, until the time of his arrest, was arrested May 2 at his home by Donald E. Midyett, district attorney's investigator.

Hopper originally faced seven counts of grand theft. Garety dropped four counts July 24 when Hopper changed his plea from innocent to guilty.

Hopper formerly served the Petaluma office of the firm. The district attorney's office said he came under suspicion there when his successor reported a number of fictitious accounts in the files.

He was accused of embezzling the money by making fictitious loans and pocketing the funds. The shortage in San Rafael was put at about $14,000. He also was suspected of taking about $12,000 from the Petaluma office.

Pistol Wielder Pleads Innocent

Stanley R. Bech, 24, San Francisco cook arrested after he was accused of firing a .22-caliber pistol over the heads of swimmers at Lagunitas Creek Pool, pleaded innocent today to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

He demanded a jury trial and Superior Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. set it for Oct. 3 through 6.

At his preliminary hearing before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Municipal Court July 19, Donald Cox, 18, of San Anselmo, testified Bech fired over the heads of Cox and fellow swimmers June 23 without warning.

Bech contended he shot in self-defense after he was threatened.

49ers Lacked That Extra Oomph; Lockett Has Won Himself A Job

CONNOLLY

The tools are all there, but the boys haven't yet learned to use 'em. As a result, the San Francisco 49ers receipted for their second exhibition loss at Kezar Stadium yesterday, 27 to 24.

This time it was the Cleveland Browns who taught Coach Red Hickey's hopefuls a few lessons. Last week it was the New York Giants. Fortunately, neither game counts in the standings, and neither team plays the 49ers again this year. Somehow you can't help feeling that the locals could have won both games with just a little more effort. But the extra oomph just wasn't there, and you can only hope that this sort of thing is not contagious.

The exhibition would have been more of an eye opener had the 49ers been able to run up a respectable lead and the rookies been given a greater chance to show their wares. As it is, Coach Hickey is going to have to do some tough evaluating on the practice field and in the next three exhibitions before the final cuts are made.

J. W. LOCKETT has himself a job for sure. The big back showed that his effort against the Giants was not a flash in the pan. When the rough edges are smoothed off the 49er offense and the plays start clicking with more precision, this newcomer is going to win a place in the hearts of local fans.

It is hard to believe that this rookie was overlooked in the draft, but Hickey must thank his luck that he was able to pick him up as a free agent. Publicity Director Dan McGuire says that Lockett's decision to have a try at professional baseball probably caused him to be lost in the shuffle.

THE ONLY look we had at new quarterback Bill Kilmer was in a punting role. While Bill did a fair job, with not too much distance on the average, it was his last weak effort that gave the Brownies the ball near midfield at end of the game. From there the last-second touchdown was on the board before the 49ers could tighten the defense.

Kilmer's kick was a "college try" effort to put the ball out of bounds and put the Browns in the hole. As so often happens when a college boy tries to be cute, the ball was off the side of his foot for only a few yards. However, there is a glimmer of the future in Hickey's use of the ex-UCLA back, as Kilmer may do some running from the punt formation after the opposition gets used to seeing him back there.

Lenny Lyles took over the kickoff chores with both good and bad efforts. Could be that Tommy Davis' job is in danger, as no team can afford to keep a specialist who can't double in brass.

ROLLICKING ROLLIE Lakes looked good on defense while he was in there. Ola Murchison and Bernie Casey both made good efforts in their short appearances, as did Aaron Thomas at end. The over-all impression of speed is a good one, and this club will give fits to some teams when they get going.

And the work of Lou Cordileone on defense allayed the pain that the loss of Y. A. Tittle may have caused. Old YAT made a sad debut with the Giants on Saturday, fumbling his only effort and getting racked up for his pains. He'll do better.

Coach Paul Brown has come and gone, but the memory of fullback Jim Brown and halfback Bob Mitchell lingers on. You won't see any better all year, or next year either. And how about old Lou Groza, out of retirement for his SIXTEENTH year in pro ball, and supplying the points that sank the 49ers. Nine of 'em.

Well, It's Back To The Old Drawing Board For Raiders

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—It's back to the drawing board for the Oakland Raiders after a night out in Spokane, Wash., where the Denver Broncos Saturday kicked the Eddie Erdelatz men in the defense.

The Broncs tromped the Raiders 48-21. It makes the Raiders zero for two on the American Football League exhibition trail.

The Raiders didn't do badly on offense.

In passing, Oakland trailed Denver 225 yards to 236. On the ground it was a 91-125 deficit and in first downs Oakland was down 14-21.

At the half it was Denver 20, Oakland 13. Then the roof fell in on the Raider defense as the Broncos dominated the ball and the scoring.

Chief culprit in the game-long Bronco assault was sub quarterback George Herring, who threw for three touchdowns, and Al Frazier, who scored two, one on a 95-yard kickoff return and the second on a 60-yard aerial penetration of the Raider defense.

SHOWDOWN SERIES WITH CINCINNATI

Giants Face 'Biggest Week Of Season'

Six players are hurting. The team is seven games out of first place. He has no idea who will be his pitcher in the second game of tomorrow night's doubleheader.

Outfielder Matty Alou was left behind for treatment of an inflamed vein in his left thigh. Harvey Kuenn had a pulled muscle in his left thigh. Willie Mays, Jose Pagan and Jim Davenport had their right thumbs taped and were finding it painful gripping their bats. And Juan Marichal, the Giants' top winner with 12 victories, had a sore muscle in the bicep of his pitching arm.

Willie McCovey and Felipe Alou hadn't been playing much before the Dodger series. But with all the injuries, Dark used them and, boy, did they come through.

McCovey homered in the Giants 2-1 victory Friday night. He scored a pair of runs in each of their next two wins, 5-0 Saturday and 11-8 yesterday.

Alou knocked in four runs Sunday with his 13th and 14th homers. His second blast, a whistling three-run line drive, proved to be the winning clout.

That drive sent the Dodgers down to their seventh straight loss, their longest losing streak since 1948. They had lost six straight only once before since coming to California in 1958.

Pitching still is the prime concern of Dark as he takes the Giants into Cincinnati for a four-game series with the league-leading Reds, starting with a double-header tomorrow night.

The Reds have 32 games to play; the Giants have 38 left.

"If the Reds win 17 of their last 32," said Dark "which is barely better than half their remaining games, they'll have 92 wins.

"We'd have to win 27 of our last 38 in order to win 92 games.

"I figure the biggest week of the 1961 National League season starts Tuesday. Somebody has got to knock off the Reds this week."

"I still have no idea who I'll use in the second game tomorrow night," said Dark. "It may be Sam Jones (7-7), maybe Billy O'Dell (4-4) or perhaps Dick LeMay (2-4)."

LeMay saved yesterday's game for Sanford when he got Wally Moon to bounce into a game-ending double play. The Dodgers had already scored two in the ninth, had two on base and Moon was the potential tying run.

The Giants' attack compiled 19 hits, including three by Sanford. Pagan got three. Alou had a single in addition to his two homers. Orlando Cepeda had a single and a two-run double.

"We'll have to keep it up," said Dark. "I figure this is going to be the most important week of the season. We've got a big job ahead."

Hickey Undismayed At Loss; 'Didn't Show True Strength'

Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers continues to give the impression of a confident scientist expecting eventual success despite some early setbacks.

After his club lost to Cleveland yesterday 27-24 in the final seven seconds, at San Francisco, Hickey told newsmen, "This game didn't show our true strength. We played a lot of men to see what they could do. We didn't play others to give some a chance to play."

He'll experiment more this Saturday in Portland when the 49ers meet the new member of the National Football League—the Minnesota Vikings — with each club seeking its first 1961 victory.

After Milt Plum tossed a perfect 27-yard touchdown pass to ex-sprinter Ray Renfro to give Cleveland victory in the hard fought battle at Kezar, Hickey said calmly, "We played an awfully good ball club, but we've got a good ball club too. We should have won."

The Browns had taken an early 14-0 lead on a two-yard pass from Plum to Bobby Mitchell and an eight-yard smash by Jim Brown plus two Lou Groza conversions.

CROWD BOOS

About that time, some of the Kezar crowd of 38,759, missing quarterback Y. A. Tittle, who'd been traded the past week, began booing.

John Brodie changed the boos to cheers as he directed drives of 70 and 79 yards for 49er touchdown that knotted the count in the second quarter. Brodie called his own signal on fourth down and beautifully executed a sweep around end for the final yard to the first touchdown. Rookie J. W. Lockett plunged the last yard for the second one and Monty Stickles converted after both.

Cleveland regained the lead at halftime 17-14 on Groza's 31-yard field goal. But in the third period, Stickles knotted the count with a 17-yard boot.

HAZELTINE GALLOPS

With only seconds gone in the final stanza, 49er captain Matt Hazeltine intercepted a Plum pass and galloped 29 yards for a touchdown that put the 49ers ahead 24-17. Groza closed the gap with a 20-yard field goal.

Time was running out when Plum marshalled his forces for the final drive—72 yards in a half dozen plays, and a score when he pitched to Renfro in the end zone.

Hickey had compliments for rookie J. W. Lockett, who played the entire game at offensive fullback. Lockett gained 32 yards in eight carries and 24 on three pass catches.

Services Group Elects Director

John Thomson was elected Thursday night as a director of the Marin City Community Services District to fill the unexpired term of Harley C. Jeffrey, who has moved to Berkeley.

Thomson, who was a Sausalito city councilman from 1940 to 1944, lives at 59 Cole Drive.

Chairman Harry Bailey announced the district is accepting applications for a part-time custodian for the community center building and that applications may be sent to Juanita Cobb, Box 68, Marin City. Work is still being done evenings and on weekends on repairing of the gymnasium, Bailey said.

Experts Pick Brown In Eastern Division

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns, picked by a regiment of experts as the class of the National Football League's Eastern Division this year, own their first preseason victory in two tries today — but seven ticks of the clock and some sure-footed kicking by an old-timer named Lou Groza made the difference.

A scoring pass play from Milt Plum to Ray Renfro with seven seconds left gave the Browns a 27-24 squeaker over the San Francisco 49ers in yesterday's only NFL exhibition.

Fighting the clock and hammering the 49er defense steadily, Cleveland pulled it out with a 72-yard advance in those waning moments. Groza contributed a pair of field goals and added three conversions in the Browns' victory.

In other NFL weekend exhibition games: the Green Bay Packers whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 31-10 and the Baltimore Colts trimmed Minnesota's new Vikings 13-3 on Friday night. And on Saturday night, the Los Angeles Rams scrambled to a 17-17 tie with the New York Giants and Chicago Bears over-ran the Washington Redskins 29-13.

The Rams staged a 14-point spurt in the final six minutes in earning the 17-17 tie with the Giants. Quarterback Zeke Bratowski, something less than a sensation otherwise, carried in the second Ram touchdown on a two-yard rollout with 58 seconds to play, and Danny Villanueva brought the deadlock with a conversion kick.

Charlie Bivins, a kickoff and punt return specialist as a rookie last season, provided an offensive dazzler for the Bears. The hefty haifback from Morris Brown College broke it open against the Redskins in the last quarter, threshing 79 and 93 yards for touchdowns.

TOWER SAVES ORPHANS IN TYPHOON DISASTER!

True Friend Island, a mission home for homeless South Korean boys, was directly in the path of Typhoon Sarah. To escape it, 200 children and many workers huddled for hours in a recently erected escape tower—and lived. The livestock and every other building in the area were completely washed away.

This life-saving tower, part of a settlement built expressly for the care of homeless youngsters, is the direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this particular endeavor is Protestant, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs. They provide clothing, food, medicine, jobs, education, tools and equipment to the millions in need.

These overseas programs must continue. They often provide the only hope to indigent millions. And they need your support.

Remember, it is the generosity of those like yourself that offers new hope where none now exists.

Yanks Overshadow Courageous Tigers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The home run heroics of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle and the almost monotonous winning ways of the New York Yankees have overshadowed the courageous effort of the Detroit Tigers and the spectacular hitting of their new star first baseman Norm Cash.

Maris clouted his 49th home run yesterday and Mantle walloped No. 46 as the M and M boys kept 10 and 8 games, respectively, ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60-homer pace of 1927. The Yankees went on to sweep a double-header from Cleveland 6-0 and 5-2 to protect their three-game bulge over Detroit.

Undismayed, the Tigers took a double-header from Boston 6-1 and 7-6. They were the Tigers' sixth and seventh victories in the last 10 games.

Red Sox pitchers were able to retire Cash only once as he rapped three hits in each game, drove in four runs, slammed his 31st home run and boosted his league-leading average to .364.

Chicago's White Sox thrashed Kansas City 5-3 and 7-0 to move into a fourth-place tie with Cleveland. Third-place Baltimore, 11 games off the pace, downed Washington 9-3 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second game was postponed until today because of rain. Minnesota outslugged Los Angeles 9-7.

The Yankees received superb pitching from young right-handers Ralph Terry and Roland Sheldon. Terry hurled a four-hitter in the opener for his 10th victory in 11 decisions. Sheldon yielded eight hits in the nightcap for a 9-3 record. Mantle had a field day before a Cleveland season record crowd of 56,307. In addition to his three-run homer the first time at bat, he had three singles and three walks. He drove in six runs in the two games and made two spectacular catches in center field.

Frank Lary, second in victories only to New York's Whitey Ford, won his 18th with a seven-hitter in Detroit's first game triumph. Relief pitcher Terry Fox was the second game winner, getting his fourth triumph when pinch hitter Bubba Morton singled home the tying and winning runs in the eighth.

Joy In Philadelphia; Lowly Phillies Finally Win A Game

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies failed yesterday to equal the National League's longest losing streak in history when, after succeeding in dropping their 23rd in succession, they managed to defeat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-4, in the second game of a double-header.

Everything pointed to their matching the 24 successive losses inflicted upon the 1899 Cleveland Pipers. The futile Phils already had erased the modern National and American league marks of 19 and 20 in a row, respectively. They were playing against the circuit's hottest team.

The Braves, behind Warren Spahn, had scored their 10th victory in a row in the opener, longest winning string in the league. John Buzhardt, loser of 13 of 16 decisions, was Manager Gene Mauch's choice to do the Philly pitching.

But it didn't work, Buzhardt surprised the Braves, their 23,637 customers and possibily himself by yielding only nine hits and going the route for his and the club's first victory since July 28. The young right-hander was the last Phil pitcher to win a game. Carl Willey was the Milwaukee loser, but it wasn't until the Phillies scored four runs in the eighth off Bob Hendley that they wrapped up the game.

STREAK ENDED

Cincinnati had its six-game winning streak snapped by St. Louis, 7-4, but the Reds maintained their three-game first-place lead over Los Angeles' Dodgers, who were beaten 11-8 by the on-rushing San Francisco Giants. Chicago's Cubs gained a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh in 11 innings.

The Phillies were held to five hits in the opener by Spahn, who scored his fifth straight, his 14th of the season and the 302nd of his big league career. Eddie Mathews' 25th home run in the fifth set off a three-run outburst against loser Chris Short.

CARDS TRIUMPH

Ray Sadecki, St. Louis's 20-year-old southpaw, held Cincinnati to eight hits for his fifth lifetime victory over the Reds in six decisions. Julian Javier and Bill White rapped five hits and scored five runs between them to lead the Cards' 13-hit attack against starter Jim O'Toole and two relievers. Sherman Jones was the loser.

Billy Williams' two-out single in the 11th scored Dick Bertell with the run that broke up a scoreless pitching duel between the Cubs' Don Cardwell and the Pirates' Bob Friend. It was the third straight 11-inning battle between the two teams. Cardwell gave up six hits in winning his 11th game.

MARIN SWIMMER 12TH TWICE IN NATIONAL MEET

Sixteen-year-old Kent Frost of Belvedere, a student at Redwood High School and member of the Marin Pirates Swim Club, competed in the three-day National AAU Men's Outdoor Swimming Championships at Los Angeles over the weekend — finishing 12th in each of his two events.

Pony League Playoff

WEST COVINA (UPI) — The West Covina Mustangs, west coast divisional champions, open play tomorrow at San Antonio, Tex., in the first round of the Pony League World Series.

West Covina won the divisional title and the spot in the finals last Saturday evening when the Mustangs defeated the Honolulu All-Stars, 4-2.

World Marks Topple In Nat'l AAU Swim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten world records were headed for the books today as some 400 swimmers and divers scattered toward home.

Of 14 swimming events in the annual men's national AAU autdoor championships, there was only one in which neither a world nor an American record fell. The three-day meet ended yesterday.

The American record came in yesterday's highlight — the final clash of the season between Japan's Tsuyoshi Yamanaka and Australian star Murray Rose.

As the two 22-year-olds battled, Yamanaka finally achieved something he had failed to do in two Olympic games: Defeat Rose in the 400 meters.

Yamanaka won in 4:17.5 to Rose's 4:17.8 — both better than the American mark of 4:-19.2. Alan Somers, who held that previous figure, finished third in 4:23.2.

During the meet the Indianapolis Athletic Club collected five world marks and its fifth straight team championship with 125½ points.

Powerhouse of the Hoosier team was Chet Jastremski, who laid claim yesterday to the world 100-meter breaststroke mark with a time of 1:07.5. It eclipsed the recognized time of 1:11.5 set by Russia's W. Minaschkin in 1957.

Jastremski previously put in a claim for the 200-meter breaststroke record and emerged as the outstanding swimmer of the meet with 19 points.

The day wound up with the Indianapolis "A" medley relay team breaking the world 400-meter mark of 4:05.4 with a time of 4:03.0.

The new championship team: Stock, Jastremski, Lary Schulhef and Pete Sintz.

Presidio Nips Hub '9' In Softball Playoff

Army of San Francisco Presidio nipped Sohner Tree Service at San Anselmo 6-5 yesterday in a championship playoff in the second annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament.

Both teams had finished their regular tournament schedules with 4-1 records.

Yesterday's game was a see-saw affair on which Sohner almost tied the score with a last-ditch rally. After the first two Sohner batters had been harmlessly retired in the seventh, Art Donati lined a single to center and scored as Nolan Wilson ripped a triple down the right field line. Ken Cuneo then hit a one-hop smash that first-baseman Dave Haight deflected into foul territory as Wilson rambled home with what would have been the tying run. But Haight scrambled after the ball and made a diving tag of the bag to nip the flying Cuneo in a photo finish.

Presidio had scored three times in the first inning on Haight's three-run triple to left-center, but the Treemen grabbed the lead in the third when Wilson's three-run homer highlighted a four-run rally.

Wilson and Donati each had two hits for Sohner while Haight had two for Presidio.

Donati collected eight hits in 19 trips to capture the tournament batting crown with a .421 average. The fleet outfielder also turned in several sparkling defensive plays.

Sohner battles Dougout-Cain Tire at 9 o'clock at Albert Park tonight in the San Rafael Men's Softball League. Lou Perazzo is slated to hurl for the Treemen against a yet-unnamed mound opponent.

3 Teeners Provide Startling U.S. Wightman Cup Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Inspirational drive by a trio of teen-agers who refused to be overawed by the decided favoritism lavished on Great Britain's team gave the United States the most stunning upset triumph in the historic Wightman Cup tennis series.

The Americans took the top British amateur women stars six matches to one, bringing the cup back to this country after a year's stay abroad and registering the 27th U.S. victory in 33 meetings between the two countries since 1923.

Justina Bricka, 18, of St. Louis, ranked No. 11 nationally, won the key match by ambushing Wimbledon champion Angela Mortimer 10-8, 4-6, 6-3 yesterday.

It followed Saturday's U.S. sweep by Karen Hantze of San Diego, 18; Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., 17, and a Hantze-Moffitt doubles victory.

Tiburoners Lose To Oakland Club

Louis Stores of Oakland invaded Tiburon yesterday and handed the local Pelicans a 6-1 setback, their seventh loss of the season against eight victories.

Of Tiburon's seven hits, relief pitcher Fred DeMartini collected two and drove in the Pelicans' only run of the game in the seventh inning.

After Five Years, Brewer Finally Bags A Victory

SILVER SPRINGS, Md. (AP)—How does it feel for a golf pro to hit the winner's jackpot after chasing around the tournament trail five years without a victory?

"I just can't believe it," says Gay Brewer Jr., the winner of the $35,000 Indian Spring Open.

But the convincer, in the form of a $5,300 winner's check, was written out yesterday shortly after the 29-year-old veteran wound up with a 3-under-par 67 final round and a four-round total of 277 over the rugged Indian Spring Country Club course.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas barely missed a 40-foot putt for a tying birdie on the final hole moments after Brewer finished. Maxwell's 69-278 enabled him to pick up $3,450 for second place.

Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., the pace-setter for three rounds, failed to birdie a hole on the last day and wound up with 73, tying him with Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., for third with 279. Harney's final round score was 71.

Heavies Vie In S.F. Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI)—Roger Rischer pits his craft against the explosive punching of Kirk Barrow tonight when the two heavyweights meet in a 10-round bout at Kezar Pavilion.

Barrow, a resident of Spokane, Wash., is returning to the fight center where he built up a following while stopping Sixto Rodriguez and Floyd Joyner as well as outpointing Monroe Ratliff.

Rischer, an Oaklander who has been boxing infrequently for eight years, holds a win over young Jack Johnson at the pavilion. He holds a big edge over Barrow in experience.

Barrow has been stopped twice this year by light-heavyweight contender Von Clay and claimed that he was weakened by trying to make the 175-pound limit. He says that he plans to compete among the heavyweights from now on.

Bartzen Clinches U.S. Davis Cup Win Over Mexico

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. team has won the Davis Cup tennis American zone finals from Mexico 3-2 for the second year in a row, and the man who won the deciding match said the weather helped him do it.

The third day's play was delayed for an hour and a half yesterday while gasoline was splashed on the Cleveland Skating Club's courts and set afire the dry the rain-soaked clay.

Then Chuck McKinley of St. Louis blasted his way past Mexico's No. 1 man, 33-year-old Mario Llamas, 6-4, 7-5, 10-8, to tie the match at 2-2. Bernard "Tut" Bartzen, another 33-year-old and national clay courts champion, followed with a 7-3, 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Mexico's Rafael Osuna, 22.

"With the courts a little damp, it worked in my favor," said Bartzen, "because Osuna likes to play the net and fire the ball past you. But he wasn't able to do it, because the ball was heavier and not taking off as fast as it will on a dry court, like he had last Friday when he beat Chuck."

McKinley had lost three straight sets to Osuna by 6-3 scores Friday when Bartzen defeated Llamas 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. The Mexicans went ahead 2-1 Saturday when Osuna and Antonio Palafox beat McKinley and Dennis Ralston in the doubles, 9-7, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

TOP PRIZEWINNER — For the second straight year, Joe Calderon walked away with top prizes at the judging of the seventh annual San Quentin Arts and Crafts Festival. Calderon won the gallery prize, best in show, first award in drawing and second and third awards in sculpture.

THIRD PASTEL AWARD — John James holds his pastel drawing of a girl which won a third prize in the San Quentin Arts and Crafts Festival scheduled for Aug. 26 and 27. The hours of the two-day show in the employee's recreation room will be from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

PRIZES GIVEN AT 'INSIDE' SHOW

Prisoners' Art Will Go On Display

More than 10,000 visitors are expected to attend the seventh annual Arts and Crafts Festival at San Quentin Prison next Saturday and Sunday.

A total of 593 creations by inmates, including drawings, oil paintings, watercolors, sculpture and crafts will go on display from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the employees' recreation room during the two-day show.

Repeating his winning performance of last year, top prize winner in the art division this year is Joe Calderon, who was awarded the gallery prize, best in show, first award in drawing and second and third awards in sculpture in judging at an "inside" showing for prison inmates last Monday.

Calderon will have paintings and sculptures on exhibit and for sale next weekend which, if all sold, will bring him $4,000, reported Roy E. Butler, supervisor of academic instruction at the prison. However, the sales would not bring Calderon any great sum in cash—until he is released from prison. Rules provide an inmate may draw only $15 per month, and must leave the rest of any money he receives on deposit until his release.

Judging the art division of the exhibit this year were Geoffrey Bowman and Amado Gonzales of San Francisco; William Morehouse of Mill Valley; Edward C. Day of San Rafael; Robert Carleton of Corte Madera, and Antonio Peitro of Oakland.

The crafts division of the show will be judged Friday by Farhead Moezzi, Harry Crotty and Mrs. Louise N. Louis of San Rafael and R. L. Krohn of San Anselmo.

Crowding Caledron for top honors was Warren Parker who won four awards in casein and sculpture. Robert Khier won top prize in watercolor and third and honorable mention in drawing and oil painting divisions.

C. Licon was awarded first and second prize in pastel and a third award in casein. Robert Fraijo won a second in oil and third in casein. Al Disarufino and John James took third awards in watercolor and pastel divisions respectively.

Eighty-one pieces were entered in a special novice art division with first place winners named as Ernie Camarillo, oil; R. Van Clief, casein and sculpture; J. Campbell, watercolor; and Larry Motherwell, drawing.

"Several of the artist could hold their own in international shows," said Morehouse, San Francisco Art Assn. member, after he and fellow-judges had made their awards.

The festival is presented by the Inmate Council under the auspices of Butler and G. E. Schmid, arts and crafts teacher.

Plywood panels on which the paintings will be displayed were constructed by men in the vocational carpentry shop.

This is the fourth year the public has been invited to attend the annual show. More than $8,000 worth of art was purchased last year from visitors from 85 California cities and eight foreign countries.

Naval Shipyards To Remain Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy ordered that naval shipyards in San Francisco, Philadelphia, and Boston remain open.

The White House said Kennedy felt that closing down the yards gradually, as was proposed in a Pentagon stagg recommendation, would be a mistake at this time.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy believed it "important to the country" to have the yards open and available for work.

Mikoyan Says Japan's U.S. Ties Block Pact

TOKYO (UPI) — Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, said today that Japan's ties with the United States were blocking a Soviet-Japanese treaty.

Resuming his attacks on the U. S.-Japanese security treaty which got him in hot water with Japanese leaders last week, Mikoyan said the pact was a "dangerous treaty."

He told Socialist Party leaders, who oppose the pact, there is no need for such an arrangement because the Soviet Union and Communist China "have no intention of invading" any country.

Mikoyan conferred with the Socialists after returning from Kyoto where he told a news conference last night that the German question "must not be solved by force." He said "it would be insane" for the West to answer with war the Soviet threats to conclude a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

The Soviet leader called the news conference suddenly at a time when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was visiting Berlin and American troops reinforcements were dispatched to the divided city.

In his talks with the Socialists, Mikoyan said the Soviet Union favors establishment of a nuclear-free zone in Asia and the "idea" of non-aggression arrangements among Japan, Russia, Red China and the United States.

He said the return of Soviet-occupied former Japanese territory "has been complicated" by the revision of the Japan-U. S. security pact.

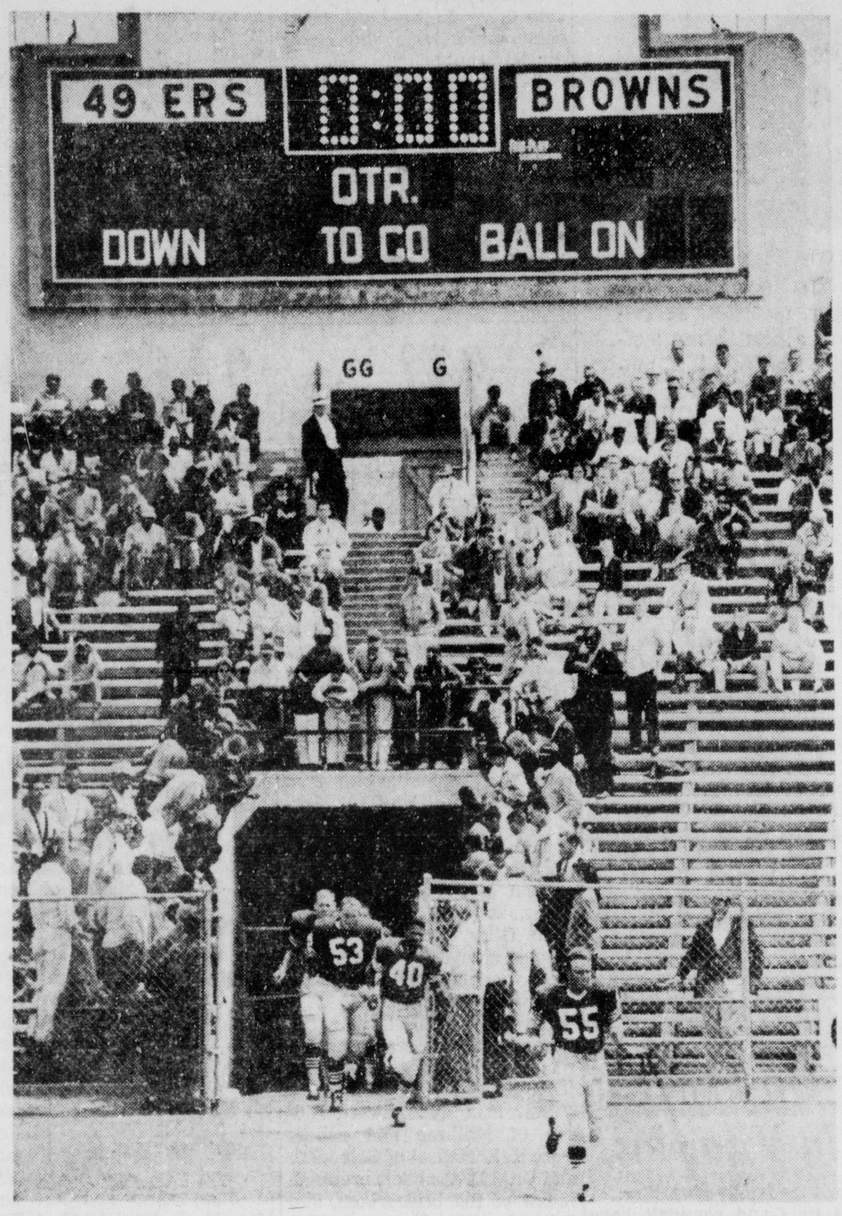
Photo Highlights Of 49er-Browns Pre-Season Battle

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

SECOND SECTION Monday, Aug. 21, 1961 13



HERE THEY COME—Led by newly-appointed Captain Matt Hazeltine (55), the former Tamalpais High School start, the San Francisco 49ers streamed out of tunnel for their first game of the season in Kezar Stadium yesterday, but wound up on the short end of 27-24 pre-season game with the Cleveland Browns. Following Hazeltine is Abe Woodson (40), a resident of Terra Linda. Note new scoreboard at Kezar.

CAMERAMEN WARM UP, TOO, FOR FOOTBALL

Just like pre-season games are to help professional football teams coordinate their teamwork, they also serve to give press photographers some practice for the forthcoming league season.

Independent - Journal photographer Dick Steinheimer was at Kezar yesterday to focus in on the 1961 season. With an assist from Associated Press cameras, see credit lines, here are highlights of yesterday's 49er-Cleveland Brown game.

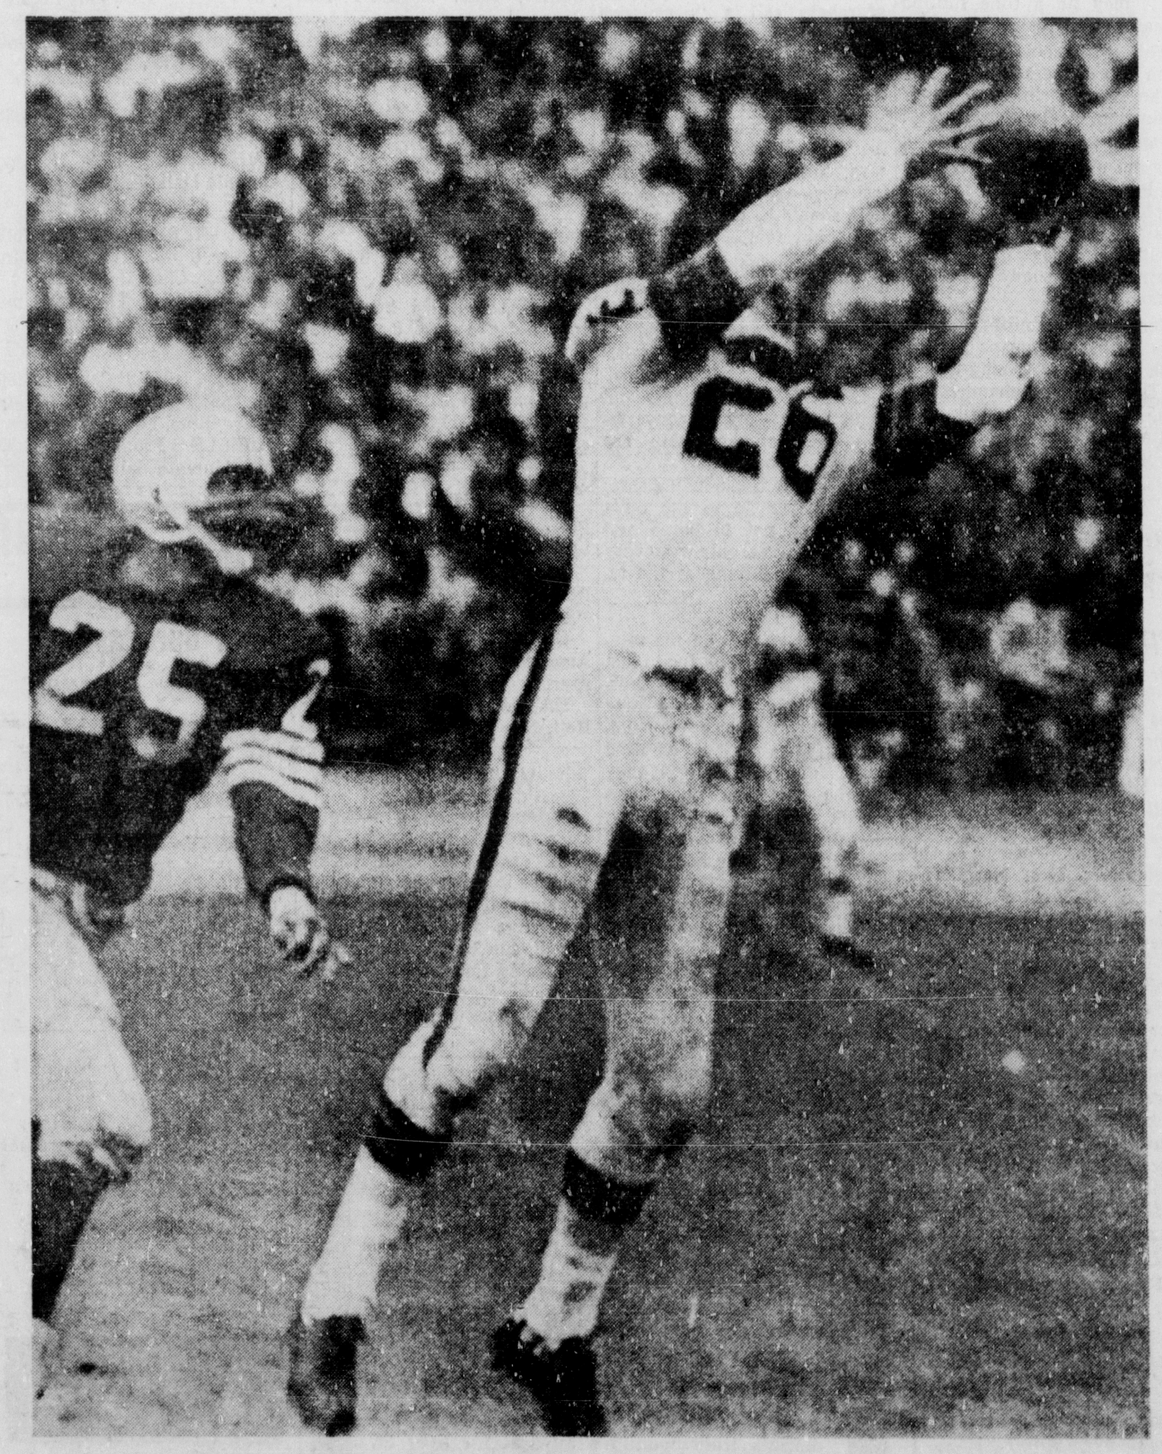
NOT SO HAPPY—Coach Red Hickey is a picture of gloom as he watches the Browns score a touchdown against his 49ers. Hickey takes the 49ers to Portland Saturday night to meet the new Minnesota Vikings in their third pre-season game of 1961.



THE CLINCHER—Cleveland halfback Ray Renfro makes sparkling catch of pass from quarterback Milt Plum, good for a 26-yard touchdown with only seven seconds to go that gave the Browns their 27-24 victory. Making vain attempt to cover play is 49er halfback Dave Baker (25). (AP Wirephoto)

THAT'S ALL — Brief flareup between players on last play of game drew fans rushing onto the field at scund of final gun. The fight stopped almost immediately and the Browns walked off the field with their three-point victory.

Italian Fashions Appeal To Coeds

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

Latin may not be a favorite subject among the college crowd, but sportswear spelled out the modern Italian way is.

Not many can afford originals from Florence, Rome or Milan and still pay tuition. Nevertheless, students with high fashion I.Q.'s are keeping their eyes on this year's innovations, knowing full well that many will be next year's campus fads, and at American ready-to-wear prices.

Italian high spiritedness, whimsey, and love of vivid hues appeal to uninhibited coeds on the nation's campuses.

For example, Italian beachwear is bare basically. But cover-ups such as Roman striped knit shirts that reach the ankles are outrageous enough to stop the ships at sea.

And ski clothes with fringe, saucer-like buttons, pompons, fur ankle rings, and bat wings, all in bright colors of course, are ridiculous enough to warm the heart of a snowman.

Italian shoes with eyes and teeth like alligators, or with the eyes and feathers of a chicken; hoods shaggy like a lion's mane, and hats with giant wings are not to be worn by the faint but the young in heart.

Thus next year campus belles will be wearing versions of these titillating styles down to the sea shore, up the ski slope, to the football rally or on the hay ride.

The Chapel of Our Lady at the Presidio in San Francisco was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Margaret Johnson and David Lester De Benedetti of San Rafael.

The bride, who is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gordon Walter Johnson of Larkspur, was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown of white peau de soie with lace applique and a chapel length train.

Mrs. Ord A. Burns of Corte Madera was the matron of honor, gowned in emerald satin with short sleeves. Bridesmaids also wore green satin. They were Vickie Dufton of Ross. Julia Stout of Palo Alto and junior bridesmaids were Genevieve Johnson and Lea Johnson, sisters of the bride.

The bridegroom's brother Michael was best man and the ushers were Michael Dolger of Daly City, Robert Dalbon of San Rafael, James Kent of Burlingame, Michael Garland of San Francisco and Gordon Johnson Jr. of Larkspur, the bride's brother.

The Presidio Officers Club was the setting for the reception. The couple then left on a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe. They will be at home in Chula Vista after Sept. 1.

The bride is a graduate of the Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco and she attended the University of Oregon, where she was affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Benedetti of San Rafael and the brother of Michael and Frank De Benedetti Jr., Mrs. William Hotchkiss of Portland, Ore. and Mrs. Frank Purcell of Cucamonga. He attended Wilkins Private High School, San Francisco, and the College of Idaho.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Remember The Principal Has Heavy Load Of Responsibility

He used to be called the "Principal Teacher." Now it's simply "principal." He's the head man at your school.

Last June was a hectic month for him. A dozen mothers trailed him around, complaining. They didn't like the teachers their children had been assigned to. They were upset about the grades their young'ns were getting. Or they wanted 'em skipped, or transferred. The principal was polite to them, but it wasn't easy.

Teachers complained also. They didn't approve the plans he'd announced for the fall. They thought he was too easy on bad boys. They couldn't see why he was so patient with some parents. They wanted him to tell off the neighbor who was unhappy because they parked their cars in front of her house. It's the same story every June. I know. I used to be a principal.

September will be different. Everybody will be happy. The teachers have been away at school studying. The neighbors have mellowed. Families have gone on vacation. Children are tanned, husky, healthy. The world will be rosy, and the principal popular once more.

He is back at work now, his vacation over. A good principal starts his labors weeks ahead of the opening day. Between now and the start of school he'll check a thousand items. He'll make hundreds of phone calls. He'll recast dozens of plans. The result? Everything will run smoothly when the children arrive. Thank you, Mr. Principal! What would we do without you?

(Q) "How old is our present elementary school plan of organization? Did we borrow it from Europe?"

A.R.

(A) It is a little over one hundred years old. American school leaders invented it, chiefly in New England and New York. It is an efficient organization. Our schools probably are our best run governmental agencies.

Moving Advice: Turn Movers Loose And Get Out Of Town

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Free advice on how to transfer a household comes in two major categories.

One group of advisors on moving is of the do-it-yourself school. The other, which of course includes the professional movers, holds that it is easier in the long run on the family and the furniture to call the pros.

What brings all this up is that our household has just been added to those statistics that show 36 million persons each year pull up stakes and put them down elsewhere.

Before we moved, I rounded up all those moving company pamphlets telling how to make the process painless—such as "establish a moving day schedule" and "provide the mover with a general floor plan of your new home."

The most candid advice came from a van lines which informed us, "moving is what you make it . . . a smooth operation or a monstrous headache." For us, it was a monstrous head ache. Period.

Looking back, now that most of the cartons are unpacked, I believe the sagest advice came from the proprietor of our meat market who said, "turn the movers loose with a key to your old apartment and the one to the new one. Then go to the country for two weeks."

DOWN TWO FLOORS

I didn't listen because it seemed all we had to do was get the contents of one apartment transferred to a larger apartment two floors below in the same building.

A breeze! There was a freight elevator and we could transfer all the little things. Let the professionals take the piano and the sofa and beds and other heavy pieces.

I forgot how many "little things" you can stow into five walk-in closets.

"We could have moved coast to coast easier," said a tired husband who must have made 500 trips on the elevator or up and down the back stairs.

Maybe we saved $50 on our do-it-yourself plan. But husband reported immediately afterwards to the family physician for a checkup. There went that $50.

At least from the ordeal, I've gathered some tips you won't find in the manuals. They'll tell you, for instance, to provide that general floor plan for the new house if you hire a professional. Don't bother.

Nothing fits in the new place.

About establishing that moving day schedule. Try that sometime.

The morning the movers arrived, so did the man to transfer the air conditioning unit, so did the man to measure for window shades for the new apartment (I told you, nothing fitted), the man to move the telephone, and the man to turn on the gas and electricity. Our "schedule" turned into pandemonium.

Do rid those closets and drawers beforehand. Discard without mercy. I know, you've been saving that old picture frame for a new filling, the cuckoo clock which doesn't work, the swatch of fabric for an apron, and a chipped bowl for repairs. A good rule, I decided in desperation, is—if you haven't used something in the last year, you never will. Donate it to charity.

And do plan to eat out on M-day and for at least a week afterward. You deserve a break from the kitchen. Besides, if your moving follows the pattern ours did, it'll take a week to find the frying pan and the coffee pot.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Dinner Is Catch-Up Time Or Time To Stoke In Vitamins

By BARBARA HOSMER

Dinner time may be a time to catch up on the latest news picked up throughout the day by the members of the family or it may be a time limited to eating and little else.

This is the conclusion drawn from the conversations of the 51 housewives surveyed. Their comments tell the story clearly:

"Meal times are usually a pleasant meeting of the family. We look forward to it as an enjoyable get-together. We discuss everything — submarines, satellites, the day's happenings. The mood is usually calm and relaxed."

For these families dinner time is by no means idyllic. With youngsters around things are lively. They demand attention, knock over the milk, run around the table or crawl under it, wiggle, yell and throw things. Still, many mothers have the family together at meal time and wouldn't have it any other way.

One laughed and said, "What doesn't go on with kids this age! Spilled milk, spilled soup. Usually we enjoy meals. My husband and I do most of the talking. We are pretty relaxed at meal time."

These families unwind from from the tensions of the day and enjoy sharing experiences and ideas. Often the more distressing things—a bad report card, child misbehavior or job troubles—are deferred. Mealtime should be pleasant as possible, they feel.

In the "non-permissive household" the researchers found that people filed into the dining area, sat and ate, limiting conversation to "pass the salt." These families feel that mealtime is a time to be calm and leisurely. Matters of conversation and companionship are taken up later.

One of these exponents says: "When we go to the table it's to eat, not to laugh and talk . . . My parents were very strict on no talking at the table."

Another says:

"We eat at 6:30 on the minute every night. The food must be on the table when my husband walks in. We always have soup first. Dinner's very leisurely. Plates must be emptied . . . . They eat silently. If they talk they don't eat. My husband doesn't talk, he's too hungry. We talk before we go to bed."

On the whole the housewives who maintain a fairly rigid meal time routine seem to extend their regulations beyond the matter of eating dinner. They insist each child finish all his food and may forbid between meal snacks in the interest of good health.

Padding The Board Is Key To Ironing Beaded Crepe

By EUNICE FARMER

"How would you suggest I press a beaded crepe dress? — Mrs. B.D.

Dear Mrs. B.D.:

First, lay a double thickness of blankets or any smooth type padding on your ironing board. Over this lay a piece of an old sheet.

Lay your dress over this, beaded side down. Press on the wrong side with a steam iron. The beads will sink into the padding, making the fabric smoother to press.

"Can you give us any advance information about the length of skirts for fall? I would like to get started making my clothes this summer." —Mrs. I.O.M.

Dear Mrs. I.O.M.:

The forecast for fall fashions seems to be about the same as they are this season. The skirts are still on the short side. The average woman should not go to extremes on length, but should choose a length that is becoming to her. I think about 2 inches below the knees is about average.

Women in the business world usually go to more extremes in fashion. However, nothing can make a garment look more dowdy than a skirt that is too long.

"Why are some patterns cut with a separate facing, while other patterns have the bodice front and facing cut in one piece?" Mrs. C. B.

Dear Mrs. C.B.:

There is often an advantage to having the facing cut in one. If your fabric is extra heavy, it eliminates the thickness from the seams, or if it is very sheer fabric, it eliminates the unattractive seams in front.

To cut the facing all in one with the front bodice, pin the seamline of the bodice front (a), over the seamline of the facing (b). The fold line where the facing will turn back is where these two seams cross each other.

When cutting your interfacing, cut it from the fold-line out to the edge of the facing. This will be catch-stitched into place by hand at the fold-line.

If your fabric stretches easily, it is always better to have a separate facing because the machine stitching will keep the cut edges from stretching.

Sewing glossary: gusset: A piece of fabric cut in various shapes, and inserted in underarm area. This gives greater freedom in garments without set in sleeves.

Evening gowns and summer clothes can be much more attractive with spaghetti straps. If you want Eunice Farmer's instructions for making them, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Leaflet No. 4. Thunder Storm Special Hikes For Day Campers

Brownie and Intermediate Scouts have completed day camp sessions. Paradise Park, which was the camp site for two weeks for 160 Brownie Scouts and their leaders from all parts of Marin, the third and fourth graders enjoyed a program including a surprise hike on the last day, with a watermelon as the "surprise" at the end of the trail for each unit.

Seventy-five Intermediate Scouts and leaders from central district were the first girls to use Arequipa as a day camp. In addition to using the new sites, they participated in the first swimming program in the new Arequipa pool.

Mrs. E. Kent Sibbald, director of the camp, said the highlight was the overnight campout, when Marin experienced thunder and lightening storm.

Today is Monday, Aug. 21, the 233rd day of the year with 132 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1858, the Lincoln-Douglas debates began, marking the start of a political contest between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas for a seat in the United States Senate.

In 1930, England's Princess Margaret Rose was born.

A thought for today: Abraham Lincoln said: "Towering genius disdains a beaten path. It seeks regions hitherto unexplored."

WINNING BRIDGE

Singleton Lead May Backfire —Whose Side Are You On!

Before you choose a singleton as your opening lead ask yourself whose side you're on. All too often, the singleton solves a problem for your opponent.

West's opening lead trapped East's jack of hearts. East properly played low, hoping and led a club to force an entry to dummy. West could take his ace of clubs and one diamond trick, but South easily won the rest.

"Too bad you didn't have the ace of hearts," West commented to his partner as South scored up the game and rubber. And West explained how he would have won five tricks instead of only two if East had held the ace of hearts as well as the queen of diamonds.

Opening lead — ♡ 6

West had led from K-10-6, in which case South would have the singleton ace. It was the right play, but it did no good: South won with the ten of hearts.

Declarer drew four rounds of trumps, cleared the ace and king of hearts out of the way, and led a club to force an entry to dummy. West could take his ace of clubs and one diamond trick, but South easily won the rest.

FACE REALITY: It's all very well to live in a dream world and count all the tricks you'd win if pigs had wings, but it's more practical to face reality. When you have 13 points in high cards against a game contract, don't expect your partner to hold an ace. If he raises your suit, he is more likely to have support for your suit and a side singleton than anything as good as an ace.

West should lead diamonds in the hope of shortening South's trumps. If South ruffs the second diamond and leads a club, West takes the ace of clubs and leads another diamond. It's hard to see how South can put ten tricks together. West gets his chance to ruff a heart without exposing East's heart holding.

In general, don't lead a singleton when you have four trumps. Lead your long suit and try to run declarer out of trumps.

♠ Q 10 6
♥ Q 9 7 5 3
♦ 8 5 2
♣ K Q

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. This jump response is invitational, but not forcing. If your partner has a husky takeout double, he will bid again and your side will get to game. If he has a light double, he will pass and you will be safe at two hearts.

Lewd Drawings In Parking Lot

With Patrolman Wade R. Powell standing by, two Marin youths late Friday night scrubbed out chalk marks including a cartoon of a nude woman police said they had drawn on the Bank of America parking lot in the 1000 block of B Street in San Rafael.

The chalk incident was reported by Julian Leone, circulation manager of the Independent-Journal, who a little earlier reported the youths, a 19-year-old Rafael Meadows youth and an 18-year-old from Terra Linda, had made chalk marks in Julia Street outside the newspaper plant.

Police called the youths' parents and gave them a lecture and then gave the youths a bucket of water and brooms to erase the markings on the parking lot. The youths' story was that they were playing a "practical joke" on someone.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

MORE VIDEO, NEW COURSES

Schools Throughout Nation Are Planning Innovations

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
U.P. International

What's new in the schools?

Courses in how to take notes, for one thing. They're being offered in schools across the country, partly as college preparation, partly, even in elementary grades, as an adjunct to growing television instruction.

More school, for another. Numbers of schools are lengthening the school day, eliminating study hall periods, offering advanced classes in early morning hours, at noon and on Saturdays.

These, and more, are among the innovations planned for the coming year and reported to the National Education Assn. in a survey of school superintendents in cities of 30,000 to 100,000 population.

Most frequently reported were:

New reading programs—remedial, more intensive, at higher grade levels.

Changes in mathematics and science study courses, in both elementary and high schools, to bring the subjects up to date in space and more closely together in understanding.

Two school systems, in Parkersburg, W. Va., and Parma, Ohio, reported the opening of planetaria for high school use. At Visalia, Calif., a new observatory has been built by senior class students with funds they raised themselves and equipped with a telescope provided with federal funds. Mount Vernon, N.Y., has produced its own booklet on "The Arithmetic of Flying" for use in mathematics courses.

Almost as numerous as advanced and accelerated classes for gifted youngsters are the experiments to improve the learning of retarded and disturbed children. Slow-learning high school freshmen at Harvey, Ill., will be given a hoped-for boost in small classes with individual instruction, no homework or study hall.

A number of schools are instituting ungraded primary classes, where children may progress at their own varying paces through the early learning of the 3 R's, and other things. In some schools the basic lessons will be taught on regular grade levels and others will be offered in ungraded "continuous progress" classes.

In Lake Charles, La., world history, literature and art are being offered in a single experimental course for high school sophomores, meeting two hours a day.

Lexington, Ky., fifth grade teachers, dissatisfied with all available histories of the state, are writing a fifth grade state history text themselves.

Among the most extensive "more school" programs about to get underway:

Alexandria, Va., high school class periods have been extended by 15 minutes, the school day by 10 minutes and study hall eliminated to provide a day of five periods, each 72 minutes long.

West Covina, Calif., is increasing the high school day to seven 50-minute periods for more capable students; others may continue on six periods.

Rock Island, Ill., high school is offering a college level biology course in the noon hour, to be coordinated with a college course to be presented on the local commercial TV station.

In Muskegon, Mich., 240 above-average tenth graders will be enrolled in an intensive program requiring mathematics, biology, English, world history and physical education, with one elective mandatory and a second optional.

Beverly Hills, Calif., is offering an additional period on the high school day on an optional basis. The school bell rings at 7:45 a.m.

Expense Item

STAUNTON, Va. (AP)—A baby sitter's $2 cost was listed by Arthur R. Giesen Jr., as an expense item in his successful run for the Republican nomination to the Virginia House of Delegates. She looked after four children during the GOP convention.

Valley Hardware Will Be Sold

P. H. Peck of Tamalpais Valley said today he will sell the Valley Hardware store at 247 Shoreline Highway on or about Sept. 1 to C. F. and Edna Toland of Stinson Beach.

Peck, who lives at 280 Shoreline Highway, has been in business at the location eight and one-half years. He said he plans to retire and take care of "a lot of unfinished fishing."

Safeway Seeking Plan Approval On Building

Safeway Stores Inc. will seek architectural approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall for an ultra-modern store proposed for First and B Streets.

Plans of the 22,000-square-foot building indicate walls of plate glass, obscure glass, exposed aggregate and concrete columns. Interior lighting will be accomplished through openings admitting natural light between the junction of the walls and roof.

Parking space for 135 cars is indicated in the plans.

Architectural approval of a 21-unit apartment house planned on Channing Way at the Marin Professional Center will be asked by developer Kenneth Solares.

Approval will be sought for two 12-unit apartments at 545-555 Canal Street by the D. M. Christensen Construction Co. Safeway Stores Inc. will seek approval of a store at First and B Streets.

The final subdivision map of White Oaks No. 2 off Chesnut Avenue west of Elizabeth Way will be submitted for approval.

Man Delivers Self To Police

William Blackley, 37, of San Francisco delivered himself virtually straight into Marin County Jail early Saturday by raising a rumpus in the San Rafael Police Station.

Patrolman Gerald Souza walked Blackley, with some difficulty, to jail on a drunkenness charge after Blackley stormed into the police station through the rear entrance to complain confusedly about an incident he said occurred in a Fairfax tavern.

Blackley demanded the chiefs of police of San Anselmo and Fairfax be notified and he demanded "an investigation." His 1955 sedan, which he had parked in the police driveway, was impounded. He was held in lieu of $26.25 bail.

Spoon Collection In New Jersey

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—James A. Crotty has collected over 1,000 spoons in the last 14 years, each with a history.

One commemorates the coronation of William and Mary in England in 1689, another is a rare French spoon made in 1412, the year Joan of Arc was born, and a third was made in Arabia in 1313.

Marin Doctor Going To Rome For Conference

Dr. Edward E. Shev of Marin General Hospital has been named official representative of the United States to the six nation international congress of electroencephalography and neurology in Rome Sept. 5 to 25.

Dr. Shev, who heads the electroencephalography laboratory at the hospital, will deliver a treatise on "Diseases of the Heart and Lungs and their Relationship to the Electroencephalograph."

Johnson Says Visit Helped Berlin Allies

Predicts Greater Unity; To Report To Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned from a morale-building mission to Germany today, confident that his flying visit has solidified Western strength and unity in meeting the Communist challenge to free Berlin.

Arriving at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., after a whirlwind 62-hour trip to Bonn and West Berlin, Johnson hailed the "heroic conduct" of the Red-encircled West Berliners as "one of the major assets of the free world."

The vice president planned to report this afternoon to President John F. Kennedy, who hurriedly dispatched him to Germany last weekend to allay West German fears of U.S. inaction after the Communists sealed the East-West border of Berlin.

ON THE FUTURE

In his statement upon his return, Johnson said: "As a result of our mission I believe that we will be better able to meet whatever the future may bring because of the greater unity of purpose and the reaffirmation of common policies achieved in our recent discussions."

He voiced "unlimited gratitude" for the "heart-warming" reception he received from more than a million West Berliners who turned out to see him at public appearances.

Johnson said that in the days of crisis ahead "communications must be kept open, we must reason together, we must build together."

REAL THREAT

"The Communist threat to Berlin is very real and is but a part of the continuing struggle between the world of freedom and the world of coercion," Johnson cautioned.

He said his first duty would be to report to the president.

Johnson said his talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt had given him "even greater confidence in the distinction and responsibility of free German leadership."

He expressed "conviction that the bonds between this country and West Germany and West Berlin, already very strong, have been made even stronger and more enduring."

The vice president stressed the "heart-warming" welcome given the 1,500 new U.S. troops sent to west Berlin to strengthen the Allied garrison there.

Barricades At Berlin Tightened

BERLIN (AP) — Communists tightened their barricades around West Berlin a bit more today in the wake of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's visit. British troops turned out to keep watch on one wire-stringing job at the zonal border.

British headquarters was especially interested in Red operations at Staaken. A main highway from West Berlin heads across Communist-ruled East Germany near Staaken to Hamburg, West Germany. About two miles away is a small grass airfield occasionally used by Soviet and East German air forces.

TANKS DEPLOYED

A company of British infantrymen and four tanks deployed along a two-mile front there. Maj. Gen. Sir Rohan Delacombe, the British commandant, went out for a personal look at the activity of the workers and their guards, Red police and militiamen, who labored in a drizzling rain. Six Red armored personnel carriers were stationed behind the workers.

Delacombe told reporters he believed the Communists "are strengthening their wire to prevent further escapes"—as they have been doing along the city border between East and West Berlin.

British officers said the Communists are building an extra barbed wire fence about six feet behind one that had been there for years and apparently intended to fill the gap with coils of barbed wire.

A PRECAUTION

A battalion commander, Lt. Col. Malcolm Sherman, said the British infantrymen and tanks were brought out after reports were received that several hundred Communist militiamen and the personnel carriers had been observed along the border.

This is the first time such a deployment of Western troops had been announced publicly in the current crisis. However, British soldiers turned out as a precaution during German rioting at the Brandenburg Gate last week.

Within the city, moving van crews guarded by Communist troops and police moved East Berlin families from their homes on Harzerstrasse, a street fronting on the American sector of Berlin.

Trial Scheduled For Four Teeners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Four teen-age boys were scheduled to go on trial today for allegedly slugging a Marin County school teacher who died later beneath the wheels of a streetcar last April 29.

The boys are Larry Magee, 16. Michael Kilkenny, 17, William Castillo, 17, and Alexander Robert Hall, 17, an orphan who lived at a local boys home.

They are charged with murder and robbery of William P. Hall, 27. Hall was beaten and robbed of $2.25. His body was on the streetcar tracks at 19th and Church streets when it was struck.

Huge Shark Bites Boy At Bodega Bay

Four Prowlers Invade Waters Of Two Counties

A huge man-eating shark yesterday ripped the legs and lower body of a 16-year-old Petaluma boy as he swam a scant 150 feet off Portuguese Beach at Bodega Bay.

Almost at the same moment, another shark was reported off Stinson Beach. Earlier in the day, another man-eater was sighted off Racoon Straits in Sausalito Bay. Two boys reported to San Rafael police that they saw a shark in the San Rafael Canal about 2:45 p.m.

David Vogensen was reported in fair condition today at Palm Drive Hospital in Sebastopol after undergoing more than five hours of surgery yesterday as result of the shark bites.

STILL SERIOUS

The boys father, Lester Vogensen, said one of three specialists who worked on his son said the huge teeth did not puncture the abdomen nor the large artery in the leg. The boy's condition was still serious, however, and further surgery would be performed today, Vogensen was told.

An eyewitness to the attack, Foster Mahood of 21 Liberty Street, Larkspur, said young Vogensen was "covered with blood" as he staggered out of the water onto the beach. "A shark bit me," he screamed.

WITH FAMILY

Mahood, picnicking on the beach with his family, said Vogensen and a friend were swimming in the shallow water "whooping and hollering" for some time before anyone realized the youth was in distress.

Because of the noise the two youths were making, no one paid any attention to young Vogensen's screams, Mahood said. "When he staggered ashore, two people helped him," Mahood said. Mahood ran to the nearby ranger station for help. The ranger was not at the station, so he called the Sonoma sheriff's office, Mahood said.

Vogensen was driven directly to the hospital by the two persons who helped him out of the water.

ON SANDBAR

The attack occurred at 3:30 p.m. as Vogensen and his friend, Ray Griffiths, 16, were swimming near a sandbar in the shallow water. Griffiths reported his friend had started for shore when he saw the shark's fin cut through the water toward him.

"I ran into the water toward where Dave was thrashing about," Griffiths said, "but the shark had disappeared by the time Dave made it ashore."

The shark at Stinson Beach was sighted from the fishing boat Chief and described as being "about 14 feet long."

Two fishermen, William Bronsen of 292 Glen Drive, Sausalito, and Donald Craig of Berkeley, said they saw a 10-footer "lazying" along the surface in Racoon Straits less than 10 feet from their boat.

San Rafael Police Officer Ray Beasdale said two unidentified youths reported to him yesterday at 2:45 p.m. that they had "struck a shark with an oar" in the San Rafael Canal off Sea Way. Bleasdale said a survey of the scene revealed no shark.

Clay Discounts Berlin Rumors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay today discounted reports that he might return to Berlin to the post he held more than a decade ago as U. S. commandant.

Clay, arriving at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, told reporters he too had heard the rumors.

"There's nothing to them," he said.

Railroad Wants To Abandon Burned Tunnel In San Rafael

Claims Million-Dollar Estimate To Replace

The Southern Pacific Co. today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to be allowed to abandon the caved-in Northwestern Pacific Puerto Suello tunnel, thereby cutting San Rafael rail connections with the northern portion of the Northwestern Pacific rail system.

(Northwestern Pacific is a wholly owned subsidiary of Southern Pacific.)

At the same time the application was being filed, company representatives appeared at the Marin County Board of Supervisors and Marin County Planning Commission meetings and called on Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael to present the firm's case for tunnel abandonment.

They stressed that San Rafael would not be cut off from rail service, because the line from Tiburon, connecting with barge line across the bay, would continue in use. The Tiburon shops would remain at the reduced operation which followed last month's tunnel fire and cave-in.

Fire set by two boys—who are still awaiting hearing in Marin Municipal Court's juvenile division—caused the tunnel to cave in under Lincoln Avenue on July 20.

HIGH COST CLAIMED

George L. Morrison, NWP vice president and general manager, said a study completed last week showed the cost of rebuilding the 1,500-foot tunnel under Puerto Suello Hill would exceed one million dollars.

"The present and future need for the tunnel, in view of alternate rail routing available for practically all of the traffic, cannot logically justify its reconstruction," said Morrison.

The same position was taken by Southern Pacific in its application to the ICC.

"Most users of rail freight service in the San Rafael area will not be affected since rail service will be maintained through barge connection at Tiburon," said Morrison.

TRAFFIC ROUTING

"A large percentage of traffic which moved through the San Rafael tunnel consisted of wood chips and lumber from northern NWP points for delivery to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway at Tiburon. Since the collapse of the tunnel, this traffic has been routed via Schellville and delivered to the Santa Fe at Pittsburg or Stockton . . .

"Local traffic through the tunnel from points north on the NWP has primarily been the movement of rock, sand and gravel to three ready-mix plants and forest products to two lumber dealers . . .

"Northwestern Pacific will retain those shops and stores facilities at Tiburon to maintain freight cars and locomotives needed to serve the area."

Raymond E. Marks, assistant to the vice president of Southern Pacific, and Dan R. Love Jr. special representative for the company, appeared before planning commission and supervisors to present essentially the same reasoning for the abandonment advanced by Morrison.

County Supervisor J. Walter Blair asked Marks about employment at the Tiburon shops. He was told it will be kept in sufficient number to maintain rolling stock over the South Marin tracks. (These now in-

Bookkeeping Move Cuts Marin's Tax

Five cents came off the county tax rate today through a neat bit of bookkeeping higgledy-piggledy.

This was achieved through 3-2 vote of the county board of supervisors to eliminate $121,600 needed to pay final costs of the first phase of the civic center.

Chairman William D. Fusselman, apparent originator of the legerdemain, was careful to bring out that this doesn't mean the contractor won't be paid.

What will happen, he brought out with somewhat tepid support of Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, is either that completion will be so late that with 30 extra days the payment will come just after the end of the present fiscal year next June; or that the money will be borrowed from other funds.

'ROBBING PETER'

"Robbing Peter to pay Paul" was the description given by Supervisor William Gnoss who, with Walter R. Castro, registered dissent.

Fusselman introduced the matter briefly by saying he had observed that the $121,600 could be eliminated from the budget since if the payment didn't fall due within this fascal year the provision was "not necessary" and anyway "we have other funds."

"It's something that's happened this year," said Gnoss. "I don't know why we should put it off."

Mitchel said there was no intention to hold up payment to the contractor but if necessary, money could be "transferred from another source—temporary transfer from the Veterans Memorial fund in June, repaying July 1, or from the reserve for road equipment and vehicles."

'NO DIFFERENT'

"The money was alloted for the job we'd contracted for," said Castro. "It's no different from any other item. Make a true picture and put it in the department where it belongs."

This led to discussion of how the amount has been shifted around since the 1959-60 fiscal

Two Gas Stations Looted, Two Men, Auto Missing

Two Marin service stations were looted of more than $700 Saturday night, with the burglars apparently making their getaway in a stolen Jaguar sedan.

The car and about $400 were taken from the Richfield Service Station at 1000 Bridgeway Boulevard, Sausalito. There was no sign of forced entry to the station office and a key to the cash box was available after entry, Sausalito police reported.

In Novato, $376 was taken from the Chevron Service Station at Seventh and Grant Streets the same night. Again, there was no sign of forced entry.

Work Starts On Larkspur Street Slide

Work started this morning on filling the second slide of Doherty Drive in Larkspur.

A 225-foot section of the road under construction has slipped into the mud of Corte Madera Creek slough twice within recent weeks. The first slide occurred on Aug. 3. The second happened last Thursday. The road will connect Redwood High School with Larkspur's business district.

City Manager Ronald F. Piper said work should be completed today on refilling the second slide. If this fill holds, the city will turn the street construction work back to the contractor, Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael.

However, the city will not pave the section of the road near the slide, Piper said today. It will pave the new road near the Henry C. Hall School. Only a temporary topping will be placed on the slide section.

Car Smashup Injures Three At Lagunitas

Three youths were catapulted through the windshield and windows of a 1953 automobile as it crashed into a redwood tree beside Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to end a pleasure ride Saturday night.

Less seriously hurt, but still hospitalized with cuts and bruises, were the two passengers, Ross Love, 20, of 52 Harte Avenue, and Albert Hunter, 17, of 115 Shaver Street, San Rafael.

Leewright, whose father lives in San Francisco, was visiting from New Mexico at the Love home. He and the other two youths set out for a pleasure ride Saturday evening.

Just before midnight, a quarter-mile west of Lagunitas, the car missed a curve and crashed into a large redwood tree.

Shell Seeking 'Open Primary'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell, a Republican candidate for governor, said today it would be a major mistake for Richard M. Nixon to endorse anyone for the GOP nomination ahead of the 1962 gubernatorial primary.

Civil Rights Skirmish Shapes Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate cleared the decks today for a short skirmish in the long legislative war over civil rights.

Prospects were that neither proponents nor opponents of civil rights legislation would be pleased with the outcome.

Opponents unhappily conceded in advance that the Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders would be successful in their joint drive to attach a two-year lefe extension for the civil rights commission to a pending money bill.

COMPLETED DUTIES

"The commission has long since completed the duties which were assigned to it when it was created in 1957," said Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), strategist for Southern opponents, "but the commission has become a political symbol in both parties and I rather apprehend that the extension will be approved."

There seemed small chance, however, that proponents of civil rights bills could successfully use the appropriations bill as a vehicle for substantive civil rights proposals, though they were pledged to try.

In a prepared statement, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), said he would make such an attempt so as to offer "a last chance at this session to get meaningful civil rights legislation." But he said he is acting "without any illusions as to what can be accomplished."

TWO-THIRDS VOTE

Legislative riders are prohibited on appropriation bills and each such addition will require a two-thirds vote to suspend the senate rules. The subcommittee-approved extension of the commission's life, advanced by the combined senate leadership, should command that support.

Measures advanced by civil rights partisans, however, have never been able to show such strength. If they should and the rules were suspended a filibuster could block final action.

Rusk Declares Allies Won't Abandon Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the Western allies "will not be pushed out of West Berlin."

While making this declaration last night on the NBC-TV interview program "Meet the Press," Rusk emphasized trying to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis.

"We do expect," he said, "that negotiations will take place on this matter. Just when and where will be determined by consultation among governments, including the government of the Soviet Union. But negotiations will occur."

He said he did not yet know how, when or where such negotiations would be conducted.

Rusk was asked if the West would fight if there were any interference with access to West Berlin.

"I think at this point," Rusk replied, "it is better for us to concentrate on the vital interests and say that we want to protect those vital interests by peaceful means if possible."

Rusk defined the "vital interests" of the Western allies as: "the presence of the West in West Berlin, the freedom and security of that city, its ability to live, its physical access to the rest of the world."

Communists Held Winning 1st Round In Berlin Crisis

By HARRY FERGUSON
U. P. International

The Berlin border crisis goes into its second week today, and the West might as well face up to this unpleasant fact:

The Communists have won the first round.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been eager for a long time to do these things:

1—Stop the flow of East Germans who have been fleeing to the west. This has been done. The crisis became especially acute when the cream of East Germans began fleeing—doctors, lawyers, skilled engineers.

2—Make it impossible for East Germans to go into West Berlin and compare living conditions there with their own sub-standard economy. This has been done.

3—Establish the principle that East Germany is a separate and sovereign nation and that East Berlin is an integral part of it. This has been done.

While Khrushchev has been acting, the West has been reacting to his moves. The reaction has been defensive in nature. Last week Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin wrote an urgent letter to President John F. Kennedy. It is known today that it was a desperate call for help.

The low point for West Berlin apparently was last Thursday evening. There was genuine fear that the morale of the city was collapsing and some officials even were predicting there would be a mass flight of West Berliners out of the crisis city into the safety of West Germany, 110 miles to the West.

Kennedy reacted promptly. It was announced that Vice President Lyndon Johnson would fly to Berlin and that the American garrison there would be reinforced by 1,500 troops.

Both moves were in the nick of time. Johnson the breezy Texas campaigning technique that he has developed into a political art, was a smash hit as he motored around West Berlin, making speeches and handing out souvenier ball point pens.

The American troops who paraded down West Berlin's main street yesterday brought the Allied garrison there up to about 10,000 men. The Communists, with 400,000 men in and near Berlin, could overrun them in a matter of hours if they should suddenly attack some dawn. But the mission of the 1,500 Americans was more political than military. They restored the faith of the West Berliners in America's intention to stand firm.

So the extent of the western alliance's success is that two firm gestures have been made without starting World War III.

The crucial question is whether they should have been firmer and insisted that travel between East and West Berlin be allowed to flow. There is no point in second-guessing Kennedy on this one, because the risk of an armed clash would have been enormous and probably prohibitive. But there still is some feeling in West Berlin that the Allies should not have lost it by default.

Social Security In Marin County

Marin County residents who want social security information may contact a field representative from Social Security Administration on Mondays and Fridays at the San Rafael City Hall.

Since there is no telephone inside the council chambers, inquirers must appear in person.

Freighter Captain Appeals

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The captain of the Cuban freighter Bahia de Nipe has appealed to President John F. Kennedy to hold the vessel here until the families of defecting crewmen get out of Cuba.

The 3,800-ton, sugar-laden ship lay at anchor today in nearby Lynnhaven Roads under watch by the Coast Guard.

A hearing resumes before U.S. Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman, who will determine whether the ship can be seized by U.S. marshals for settlement of debts claimed by several persons.

Jorge Gustin Navarro, the ship's captain, said last night that he had sent a letter to the president asking him to hold the ship here until the families of the crewmen seeking sanctuary in this country are out of Cuba.

The State Department in Washington said it has received a formal request from Premier Fidel Castro for return of the freighter.

The Bahia de Nipe has been under Coast Guard control since it sailed into Lynnhaven Roads near here Thursday. Navarro and 10 crewmen asked political asylum in the United States and were taken off the ship pending a decision on their status.

Navarro and the 10 had imprisoned 23 other crewmen on the vessel and sailed to the United States. The ship originally was bound for undisclosed Iron Curtain ports with about 5,500 tons of sugar.

At Saturday's hearing, Hoffman heard a request from Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the vessel be freed.

PROWLER EATS, LEAVES DIRTY DISHES BEHIND

Patricia Belle Nunn, 20, of 16 Crescent Drive told police she and a girl friend drove into her driveway at about 10 p.m. to find a hatless, coatless, six-foot man hurriedly leaving the apartment.

Huge Blaze Rages At N.Y. Waterfront

WEEHAWKEN, N.J. (AP)—A general alarm fire raged over half a mile of the Hudson River waterfront today. Fire department officials said the blaze caused more than a million dollars damage.

The fire apparently started at the New York Central Railroad abandoned 42nd St. ferry, officials said. The first alarm was received at 3:15 a.m.

Forty-five minutes later, the huge ferry terminal, adjoining docks, and several nearby freight sheds and boxcars had been reduced to a glowing pile of crackling timber. Flames could be seen from the center of Manhattan on the New York side of the river.

The trminal building covered almost a full city block. It was a one-story, shed-style frame building. It had been abandoned about four years ago, when the New York Central eliminated passenger service on that line.

Four hundred firemen from 12 departments in Hudson and Bergen counties were joined by fireboats from New York City and the Coast Guard in fighting to contain the blaze. It burned for three hours before being brought under control.

During the fire, six trucks were recalled to West New York, N.J., just north of Weehawken, where a fire destroyed three piers at an estimated one-million-dollar loss Friday night.

James Woodcock, 42, received minor burns on his arms and hands while he was assisting firemen.

Deer Hunter Accidentally Shot In Chest

A 59-year-old man hunting deer on the Kleiser Ranch in Chileno Valley in northwestern Marin County was accidentally shot in the chest by a .22 caliber rifle held by his 10-year-old nephew yesterday, the sheriff's office reported.

Wounded was Alvin Betinelli, 59, a Petaluma furniture salesman. At Hillcrest Hospital, he was termed in "satisfactory condition" today.

Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen of Point Reyes Station said Betinelli was shot by a rifle held by Dale Betinelli, also of Petaluma.

Christensen reported the boy said he was fingering the trigger guard and had shifted position when the gun fired. The deputy said the boy told him he had had no safety training with weapons.

INCOME RISE IN CALIFORNIA IS ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average Californian's income increased 6 per cent last year — a bigger rise than posted nationally or in any other major industrial state during the recession-marred period.

Personal income rose 5 per cent nationally to a per person average of $2,223. California's figure was $2,741 per person, the U. S. commerce Department reports.

For the nation as a whole, the increase in income barely matched the pace of rising prices.

Incomes in manufacturing states particularly were affected during the final three months of 1960 when the business recession spurred unemployment totals.

Corte Maderan Gets Naval Appointment

Sgt. William G. McBride Jr., 20, whose father is Corte Madera building inspector, has been appointed to the United States Naval prep school at Anapolis, Md.

McBride has been stationed at Camp Pendleton, serving with the Marine Corps. He received the appointment as a result of competitive examination in July, he said. He learned of the appointment last week.

If he successfully completes nine months in the prep school, he will receive an appointment to the Naval Academy in Anapolis, McBride said.

A native of Marin County, McBride attended grade school in Mill Valley, and Tamalpais High School. He joined the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, in March, 1958, and enlisted as a regular in the Marine Corps in October of that year.

LISTENING TO BILLY—Part of an overflow crowd estimated at 2,000 stands in the rain outside Philadelphia's Convention Hall to hear a brief talk by evangelist Billy Graham (top) before start of the first meeting in a month-long crusade in Philadelphia yesterday. He talked to 15,000 persons inside.

Britain Gets Dunned For 1778 Damage

LONDON (AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express today cautioned a Philadelphia minister against trying to collect about 270,000 pounds—$756,000—for a church fence the Redcoats broke down during the American Revolution.

The Rev. Joseph Koci Jr. of Philadelphia presented the bill to Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd. The Episcopal minister asked for the cost of the fence plus interest for 183 years.

"But suppose the British government were to submit a bill to the United States for the cost—plus interest—of protecting the American settlers from the red Indians in the years before the War of Independence?" asked the Express editorially.

The editorial concluded with this advice: "It does not pay to dabble with history, Mr. Koci. Just stick to reading it."

Beaverbrook's newspaper may have brushed aside the minister's claim, but the British treasury took it more seriously.

A spokesman said the bill has arrived and will be considered and replied to.

"It is too early yet to say what we shall do," he commented.

Billy Graham Urges Program Against Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham has suggested to President John F. Kennedy a three-point program for Berlin which he says would wake up the American people, frighten their enemies and encourage those living under communism.

Graham said the president should:

"First, call for a United Nations General Assembly meeting to find out why the refugees are fleeing East Germany.

"Secondly, the president should again spell out in a speech in no uncertain terms that we will not retreat, compromise or appease anywhere in the world—that from now on we are starting a peaceful counter-offensive to roll communism back in Eastern Europe.

"Third, the president should call a day of prayer as a time of petition to God to intervene in the world situation, that we might have the courage to do His will for a just peace. A major part of our praying would be for the people under communism."

Graham said "Our help must come from God. If we depend upon military power alone, we're finished."

Graham, opening his 116th crusade and his 35th major one in this country, spoke to a capacity crowd of 15,000 in Convention Hall after delivering a brief message from a second-story window to hundreds who stood in the rain in the street.

Muir Woods To Complain Of Variances

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. voted Friday night to write the Marin County Planning Commission complaining that variances are becoming the rule rather than the exception.

Mrs. M. J. Janoff, publicity chairman, said the group took the position that too many people buy odd-sized property they know will require variances, and the association wants the planners to make property owners stick closer to the county master plan.

The group also decided to hold the annual Mountain Fair in its clubhouse Oct. 14 and 15 and to join the Citizens Committee for Regional Recreation, a group she said started in the East Bay and now embraces seven counties.

Gypsy Plans Comeback In An 'Opera'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gypsy Rose Lee is putting on her black lace dainties again—for musical comedy instead of burlesque.

OFF BROADWAY

Announcement of the contract was made today by Stanley Chase, Carmen Capalbo and Lucille Lortel, producers of the satiric diversion which has been hypnotizing customers for six years off-Broadway and grossed two and one-half million dollars.

"I'm supposed to sing like a tart and that's what I do," says the 47-year-old star who since 1942 has concentrated on such off-stage careers as authorship, art and real estate.

"The nice thing about such a show is that you can use costumes like this," she continues, holding up sundry gossamers of glamor deshabille. "My faded roses I call them."

SHE WILL SING

"I don't mind in the least," the star says. "I'll sing in whatever key you want. I'm like a drum—it doesn't have a key either."

The tour opens in Toronto Sept. 18, and subsequent stops are Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Montreal, Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha, Des Moines, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Boston and Washington.

Her presence, Gypsy feels, may reassure patrons dismayed by that word opera in the title.

"I can see it in Omaha," she declares. "Some husband will say 'You know I hated Il Trovatore.' And his wife will say, 'This has Gypsy Rose Lee.' And he'll say 'Huh, can't be much of an opera. Guess I'll go.' "

ICC's Ruling On Commute Trains Given

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today reaffirmed a previous ruling permitting the Southern Pacific Railway to discontinue service of two commuter trains between San Francisco and San Jose.

The trains are No. 155, which operates daily between San Jose and San Francisco and No. 156, operating daily except Sunday and holidays from San Francisco to San Jose.

The original order was issued by the ICC July 21, 1960. It was appealed by the California Public Utilities Commission and the Railway Labor Executives' Association. The case was reopened last November.

The ICC said today it was reaffirming the original order because continued operation of the trains would be an unjust burden on the railway and interstate commerce.

The commission said Southern Pacific's loss from operation of the trains was not less than $48,500 a year, little use is being made of them and an alternative means of transportation are available.

U.N. Assembly Opens Session On Bizerte

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly opened a special session on the Bizerte crisis today with a statement by Tunisia that it had been trying since 1956 to force the removal of French troops.

France boycotted the assembly session, and its seats were conspicuously empty of delegates as assembly President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland gavelled the session to order. A lone photographer used the French section of the assembly as a vantage point.

The assembly without dissent chose Boland, who was president of the 15th regular session which adjourned last April, as president of the special meeting. It also decided to retain all other officers of the past session.

The Afro-Asian group gave final approval before the meeting to a "moderate" resolution calling on France to respect last month's security council order to both French and Tunisian forces to cease fire and retire to positions they held before fighting erupted at Bizerte on July 19.

They submitted it to the secretariat with sponsorship of 31 countries.

The Afro-Asians expected 50 to 60 votes for the measure. If the Western powers abstain as expected, this could be enough to assure the two-thirds majority required for assembly approval.

Mongi Slim, Tunisia's senior diplomat, opened the debate with regret that France had decided to boycott the assembly.

"My delegation," Slim said, "would have liked to have seen the delegation of France, which is directly accused, participate and contribute its argument in support of its position"

Four Rescued As Boat Tips Off Alcatraz

Fished from the water within minutes after their 29-foot open cockpit Highland Brigade overturned were Keith Buck, 30, the boat's owner, and his wife, Barbara, 29, both of Walnut Creek; Colin Fisher, 25, of Danville, and Ken Meraw, 35, of Berkeley.

The four, wearing life jackets, clung to the side of the boat while the Coast Guard cutter sped to their rescue at 11 a.m. The boat was taken in tow and pumped out at Aquatic Park. It was later towed to the Corinthian Yacht Club in Belvedere.

A few minutes later the Coast Guard reported taking a 17-foot outboard in tow off Angel Island when the boat wallowed helplessly with a dead battery.

The 22-foot cabin cruiser Shady Lane was towed into Sausalito from Lion Point at 6:20 a.m. with engine trouble.

What was apparently a false alarm sent Coast Guardsmen in search of a "capsized" sailboat in Richmond Bay about 2 p.m. No trace of a vessel was found, officials said.

Street Lights On Hub Agenda

Acceptance of bids for street lights and adoption of a 1961-62 tax rate are on the agenda for tomorrow night's meeting of the San Anselmo City Council. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The council also will discuss plans to pave the Hub intersection at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Red Hill Avenue, at a cost of $17,000 to be financed by the state.

Also to be considered are council authorization for the county to sell tax delinquent property in San Anselmo, diversion of storm water on Francis Street and final approval for a map of the Rafael Racquet Club Estates.

It will start both days at 9 a.m., and admission is free.

Kiwanis Horse Show Slated This Weekend

The Ross Valley Kiwanis Club Horse Show, with proceeds to go to the Underprivileged Children's Fund, will be held both days beginning at 9a.m. The show, approved by the American Horse Shows Assn., will include English saddle events on Saturday and American Saddle on Sunday. The 15 daily events will be held at Sleepy Hollow Stables 1251 Butterfield Road.

Admission will be free. Proceeds for the children's fund are to come from the selling of advertising space in the show's programs, explained Kenneth MacDonald, one of the show's organizers.

Those who wish to enter the show may contact MacDonald at 1010 B Street or Arthur Hofmann at 65 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo. Entries are expected not only from throughout the state, but from Oregon and Nevada.

New Chaplain Is Named For Juvenile Hall

Rev. Edward J. Dingberg of St. Isabella Church in Terra Linda will be the new chaplain at the Marin County Juvenile Hall beginning Thursday, Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher has announced.

Father Dingberg was previously Catholic chaplain at San Quentin for 13 years before undertaking the establishment and building of the new St. Isabella Church in the Terra Linda-Marinwood area.

David Fogel, superintendent of Juvenile Hall, stated: "We are extremely fortunate in obtaining the services of such an outstandingly qualified person to work with our Catholic youngsters."

MUSIC CHEST CONCERT

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Dramatic baritone McHenry Boatwright revealed a multi-faceted musical talent of a high order yesterday afternoon at Marin Music Chest's third summer concert in Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Possessor of a powerful voice of rich quality, Boatwright received his greatest response from a fair-sized audience with his group of contemporary songs by Copland, and especially with his own fresh arrangements of familiar spirituals, for which he provided his own piano accompaniment.

Of a generous and pleasing personality, he added much to his popularity by singing as encores "I Got Plenty of Nothin'" from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," and the inevitable "Ol' Man River."

In the spirituals — that included "Deep River," "Steal Away," "Every Time I Feel the Spirit" and "Bye and Bye"— and in some other passages, the delicate pianissimo of this big voice was an unexpected delight.

A further surprise was his mastery of a wide variety of emotional nuances and styles, from the operatic, in "Sommi Dei" from "Radamisto" by Handel and "Nemico Della Patria" from "Andrea Chenier" by Giordano, and Oratorio, heard in "Thus Saith the Lord; But Who May Abide" from Handel's "Messiah," to German love lyrics — "Widmung" by Schumann, "Der Doppelganger" by Schubert and "Von Ewiger Liebe" and "Botschaft" by Brahms.

Outstanding impressions were made by his slow legato passages, like those in "Thanks Be To Thee" by Handel, his vocal dexterity in the "Messiah" recitative and aria and Mozart's concert aria: Mentre Ti Lascio, as well as a purity of diction such as one seldom hears.

Lully's "Belle Hermione" and "Aire de Charon" added French to his accomplishments as a linquist in English, German and Italian.

One feels he has a special gift for religious music and would be memorable in some of the leading roles in oratorio. Yet he is equally at home in the homely, simple and humorous, as shown in Copland's "The Dodger," "Simple Gifts" and "I Bought Me a Cat," which he sang especially for the children in the audience.

A mistake was in assuming that a spiritual—"Every Time I Feel the Spirit"—would be suitable for audience participation. It didn't work.

Sentencing Set In Marijuana Growing Case

A Corte Madera woman, whose rooftop was found lined with a row of potted marijuana plants last June 26, will be sentenced for marijuana possession on Sept. 8.

Retired Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, helping out in Marin Superior Court, Friday found Mrs. Nancy Jane Kuhe of 74 Sonora Way guilty of marijuana possession. Mrs. Kuhe fought the charge, contending that she was an innocent victim of circumstances. She maintained that a friend had brought the plants and had asked to have them put on the roof. She said she had no idea what was planted in the pots.

The judge ruled against her and set 10 a.m., Sept. 8 as the time for a probation report and for sentencing.

Three Escaped Felons Still Are At Large

Three convicts were reported still missing today after walking away from San Quentin Prison camps this past week end.

Robert W. Phillips, 34, left the Ice Springs summer camp, 50 miles west of Redding Saturday night, reported Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff. Phillips was committed to the prison in 1951 after conviction for assault with intent to rape.

Ronald Snyder, 30, and Fred Tapeia, 24, both walked away from camp No. 13, Crystal Creek, also near Redding, between 10:30 p.m. and midnight last night, said Achuff.

Snyder was sent to the prison on a conviction of forgery in Del Norte County in March, 1955. Tapeia, who was committed in 1956 for second degree burglary in Santa Clara County, was paroled in 1958. He was sent back to prison the same year for violating the parole, said Achuff.

Artichoke Assessment

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state department of agriculture will assess producers of Globe artichokes $4 per acre, instead of $2.50, if the producers assent to a changed order proposed by Charles Paul, director.

The change was proposed by the Artichoke Advisory Board. It also provides that another increase to $5 per acre can be assessed with approval of producers.

The funds are used to promote the marketing of artichokes.

Marin is one of seven counties in the state classified as heavy producers of artichokes. The other counties are Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura.

Artists Getting Ready For Sausalito Exhibit

More than 65 Marin County artists are scheduled to enter this year's Sausalito Art Festival, Sept. 2, 3 and 4 at Central School, 420 Litho Street.

Festival director Helen Kerr announced that almost $300 in prize money and merchandise orders will be given by the Spinnaker Restaurant, Glad Hand Restaurant, Bridgeway Inn, Sausalito Foundations Inc. and the Sausalito Creative Arts store. More prize donations are expected.

This year's festival will include an "artist's ballot" which will permit participating artists to vote for the work they consider the best in the show.

The Sausalito Cooperative Nursery School will operate a soft drink, coffee and ice cream concession, and children from the school will participate in the three-day festival with their own art-in-action display.

Sponsoring the event is the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. Festival hours are from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Ample parking space will be provided, Mrs. Kerr said.

Street Plan Coming Before City Council

A resolution approving plans and specifications for resurfacing of portions of 27 San Rafael streets will come before the San Rafael City Council tonight at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The streets are Rustic Way, Hacienda Court, Mountain View Avenue, Glen Park Avenue, Vineyard Drive, Idlewood Place, La Vista Way, Grand Avenue, East Crescent Drive, Commercial Place, Union Street, Belle Avenue, Eucalyptus Lane, Broadview Drive, Clorinda Avenue, Grove Street, Woodland Place, Warner Court, Woodland Avenue, D Street, Pleasant Lane, Billou Street, Meadow Avenue, Hillview Avenue, Irwin Street and San Pedro Road.

Councilmen will consider setting of the tax rate for 1961-62. Indications are that the rate will not be raised from the present 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Two public hearings are scheduled. One is an appeal by Paul Sade for a swimming pool fence exceeding the legal height. The request was denied by the planning commission. The other hearing will deal with a petition by Laurel Place residents objecting to the use of land for entrance to an apartment building planned for the area.

MARIN TAX

year when Mitchell said there was transfer to hospital and farm from civic center.

The premise at that time, said Mitchell, was that it would be repaid through general obligation bond issue which was defeated, or a lease arrangement which the board decided it didn't like. Fusselman said that there was "camouflage" of the money last year.

"I wouldn't say that," protested Mitchell. "There was to be a reimbursement that didn't materialize."

Supervise J. Walter Blair broke in to move deletion of the sum from the "capital improvements" category of the preliminary budget, where it was resting under a label of "county hospital and farm", and with second by George Ludy the action finally was taken with mention that it represented five cents off the tax rate.

But this didn't go through with complete smoothness. Administrator Alan Bruce — though challenged by Fusselman with "are you opposing this?" — made unsuccessful argument for attention to continuing capital needs for the future.

clude a branch line to Sausalito, but the company has petitioned to abandon that line and an ICC examiner has recommended the abandonment be allowed.)

Supervisor William Gnoss asked about North Marin service. He was assured the existing line will be used with spurs wherever there is promise of industrial development.

Abandonment of the tunnel would leave San Rafael's only rail connection that to Tiburon — or to Sausalito as long as the branch line remains in use.

Four years ago the company dropped its passenger service out of San Rafael. More recently it closed its stations at Novato and Tiburon.

Heart Victim Gets Treatment

Joseph Paul Mainini, 49, of 523 D Street, San Rafael, suffered a heart attack in Carpenters' Hall, Lindaro Street, at 8:35 p.m. yesterday.

Probation Violator Is Warned

Charles Kiewert, 39, former Corte Madera real estate man convicted in 1959 of forging signatures on checks worth almost $30,000, was directed by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court today to keep the Marin probation office better informed of his whereabouts.

Kiewert, now living in Anaheim, was jailed Wednesday on a charge of violating terms of his five years probation. His probation then was revoked. Kiewert told the judge he sometimes was on the road 10 days at a time and could not immediately reply to letters.

The judge directed probation reinstated and ordered Kiewert to submit his 1960 federal income tax report and his income figures for the first eight months of 1961 to Marin probation officials. Inasmuch as he had been in Marin County Jail since Wednesday, the judge then ordered him released.

Crashes Tie Up Traffic In Marin

A series of minor rear-end collisions along Highway 101 had Marin County freeway traffic tied up during a considerable part of the Sunday rush yesterday.

California Highway Patrol officials said most of the afflicted motorists were northbound. About mid-day the highway was jammed from San Rafael down to Marin City.

None of about five mishaps during the jam-up was listed as an injury accident. In at least one or two cases the harassed patrol reached the scene just after those involved had resolved their differences among themselves and got on their respective ways again.

Data Processing Chief Wins Pay 'Correction'

County Auditor Leon A. deLisle won further "inequity correction" today on salaries of the data processing bureau chief and assistant, but county supervisors declined to boost pay of anybody in the probation department.

Two department head efforts took up much of the morning of Marin supervisors on the last day of final budget discussion and further underscored the board's determination to avoid comprehensive pay range changes.

"If we find we're terribly out of line anywhere," said Chairman William D. Fusselman, "we'll be decent enough to recognize it."

"When will you undertake your study?" asked Probation Director Walter Busher, just turned down in efforts for the top seven of 49 department employees.

It's in the lap of the gods," Fusselman responded.

Previous inequity corrections of the current budget hearings involved a total of nine employees—four in the auditor's office, one each for recorder, assessor, welfare, sealer of weights and measures, and communications.

Arleigh Sewell, data processing chief, was recommended for a two-range increase. He got one range on the theory that he will also go under the board-approved creation of a new pay range for longevity.

Coleman School Bids Meeting Set Tomorrow

School architect Carl F. Gromme will present his analysis of bids for Coleman School additions at tomorrow night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education.

At its meeting Aug. 9, the board opened bids from three companies. Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross was the apparent low bidder, with $6,361 for rest rooms and $5,939 for a faculty room.

Recommendations are expected at tomorrow night's meeting from acting superintendent Raymond J. Simpson for a San Rafael High School vice-principal, several elementary school principals, several San Rafael department heads and a director of business services.

Creation of the director of business services position was decided at the Aug. 9 meeting. Simpson recommended that whoever is hired in this position be a schools accounting expert, and the board decided also he should be familiar with automation methods.

Driver Injured As Cars Collide

Two cars met head-on in front of Bermuda Palms, on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael last night with injury to both drivers.

Franklin Grover Holliday of Fairfax told the California Highway Patrol he had been about to make a left turn from the southbound lane when he collided with a northbound vehicle driven by Norbet Frentrup of 251 Reed Street, Mill Valley.

Holliday's shoulder was hurt but he refused hospitalization. Frentrup was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was treated for a cut scalp.

The other two accidents happened yesterday. A/2c Daniel George, 22, of Hamilton Air Force Base cut his bare foot while riding a bike. Laurie Patrick,6, of 25 Cedar Avenue, Kentfield, was cut in a fall from her bike near her home.

Fireplace Blaze Causes Damage

Fire, caused by a defective fireplace, resulted in $1,000 damage to the living room wall and roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Burgess at 14 Parkwood Avenues, Mill Valley, early yesterday.

Reported at 5:40 a.m. by a neighbor, M. E. Collins of 24 Sunnyside Avenue, three units were sent to put out the flames which licked both inside and outside walls of the room. The fire was under control in about 20 minutes, Fire Chief Leslie Armager said.

Power Line Falls, Blacks Out Homes

Slight Auto Bump: Sickness Later

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Whiplash probably is the most common type of injury arising from auto accidents —and most Americans have been involved in a motor mishap at one time or another.

Even a lightweight rear end bump could produce a whiplash injury to the neck. The effects of such a bump can be drastic even though the symptoms don't appear until weeks or months after the accident.

The unexpected bump may snap your head back and cause the vertebrae in your neck to lose their normal alignment. Such a displacement can damage nerves, blood vessels and muscles in the neck region. Eventually organs elsewhere in your body may be affected—the heart, liver, kidneys or stomach.

These symptoms, distant from the site of injury can be explained by the fact that nerves supplying all the organs and tissues of the body originate in the brain and are channeled through the bony framework of the spinal column. Consequently, when the spine is jolted by the sudden whiplash in the neck, a vertebrae may be forced out of place and pinch nerves leading to any one of several organs.

Let's take the stomach as an example. Because of damaged nerve supply, the stomach in time will lose its digestive efficiency and ulcers may occur. The cause of the ulcers, however, remains in the neck . . . the vertebrae that was jerked out of line.

The science of finding and restoring misaligned vertebrae is the science of Chiropractic. When the nerve interference is removed efficiently and painlessly by a Chiropractic adjustment, nerves will return to normal function and the stomach ulcers eventually will disappear—with the help of time and nature.

Rockefeller Is Seeking N.Y. School Cleanup

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called upon a special session of the New York Legislature today to declare a state of emergency in the scandal ridden school system of New York City.

The Republican-controlled legislature was ready to approve the GOP governor's recommendations for a series of sweeping reforms. Minority Democrats balked at some details.

Rockefeller, in a message prepared for the special session, told the lawmakers: "The crisis in New York City's public schools stems from the reluctance of city leadership to assume its responsibilities and take decisive action."

The New York City school system, which includes a million pupils, 40,000 teachers, 800 schools and an annual operating budget of 650 million dollars has been beset by charges of graft and corruption in building programs, hazardous conditions in present schools and inefficient administration.

Rockefeller asked the legislature to:

1. Proclaim a state of emergency in the school system throughout the next school year.

2. Authorize Mayor Robert F. Wagner to appoint a new, nine-member school board from a select list of 18 nominees to be submitted by a panel of educators and other community leaders.

3. Require the new board to make periodic reports of what it does to eliminate corruption and otherwise improve conditions in the system.

Novato Council To Meet Tonight

The council is considering a $334,350 budget for the city, which has an assessed valuation of $17,281,500.

Reds Reject Demand On Laos Control

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union and Communist China today rejected western demands for strong international controls in Laos in statements that dimmed hopes for East-West agreement at the 14-nation Laotian peace conference.

But a U. S. delegation spokesman declared there would be no western backdown before the Communist drive to limit the power of the international control commission in the southeast Asian kingdom.

"The U. S. government," he said, "feels there must be an ICC with strong terms of reference to supervise and control the cease-fire and the withdrawal of troops.

Man Jailed For Bottle Of Vitamins

A San Anselmo motorcycle policeman did all right on foot Saturday when he nabbed a man fleeing from search by three other officers.

Alberigi leaped off, ran through the gate and collared the man on the chance he might be the one observed by manager Jack Camiccia of San Anselmo's United Market departing with an unpaid-for bottle of vitamin pills under his coat.

Sure enough, a bottle of the pills was found lying in the yard. Robert B. Parker of Vallejo was booked at Marin County jail on a charge of shoplifting.

Ranch Lands Compromise Makes Pt. Reyes Park Plan

The compromise proposal for establishment of the Point Reyes National Seashore makes sense. It sets up a recreational area large enough for the next generation or two. At the same time it protects the ranchers on their ranches so long as they want to continue dairy or beef activities.

It won't, of course, appeal to those who oppose establishment of any park area on the peninsula. But the compromise has won its first test in the U. S. Senate and seems slated to race to Senate approval even before adjournment.

The compromise assures public use of the beautiful, timbered hills of the south part of the peninsula, as well as the clean, long beaches which encircle it.

This was the weakness of the stand of the Marin County Board of Supervisors in recommending a 20,000 acre park. It ignored the beaches which will, we are sure, become one of the greatest attractions of the seashore area. We hope that with this new proposal, the supervisors will see fit to reconsider their resolution and get behind the new proposal.

The advantage to the county, and so to the supervisors, seems obvious. Under the new plan half of the 53,000 acres would be left on the county tax rolls, while the other half would be attracting tourists, vacationers and the taxable and economic benefits which follow them.

We'd like to have everyone go out and take a look for him or herself. If you don't want to bother the ranchers by asking permission to cross their lands to the beaches, drive to the county park at Drake's Beach. You can see the entire sweep of Drake's Bay from there. Then drive to the Point Reyes lighthouse, from where you can see the sweep of the western beaches. Finally, visit Tomales State Park and see for yourself the possibilities of the protected Tomales Bay beaches.

We were out on the ocean beaches recently on a day-long beach picnic. It was beautiful; warm until the sun went down, then crisp and snappy. The waves were rolling high, although the ocean itself was calm.

We couldn't help but wish that a reasonable compromise could be reached so that those hills and beaches could be made available to all the people.

Now the compromise is here.

The robbers soon discovered they had made one notable blunder. They had overlooked labels on each carton reading: "No pairs, no value." Each of the 320 shoes was for the left foot.

A couple of hours after the robbery, the shoes were found in a truck at the side of the road. The culprits had apparently tossed them aside in disgust after finding out that all of them were "left-footers."

Perhaps the greatest disappointment for those who pursue double-dealing of any type is to find that their most carefully laid plans are so often upset by some trifling oversight.

While injustice seems frequently to prevail, it never wholly triumphs. As hard as men have tried all through the ages, instead of breaking the law of God, in one way or another it invariably breaks them.

"Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice: for they shall have their fill."
(Matthew 5:6)

Deepen in me, O Jesus, a respect for eternal truth and justice.

WHITHER THE GOP?

Party Leaders Make Plans For Top Off-Year Election Campaign

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The high command of the Republican Party has formulated a 1962 battle plan which may prove to be the most extensive effort yet undertaken by a party in an off-year election.

Convinced that the 1964 GOP presidential nomination will have little value unless the party makes significant gains in 1962, the party's national leaders have selected a group of about 100 marginal congressional districts—most of them currently held by Democrats—in which the Republicans feel they have a real chance to win.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller and other party officials say the lion's share of the Republican organizational effort and finances will be channeled into these key target districts. Miller said he was convinced that the future of the Republican Party as a force in national life depends on its success in the 1962 House races.

From now until election day next year, Miller explained, weekly meetings will be held in Washington among the heads and key staff members of the national-level Republican campaign committees. Each of the key congressional districts will be reviewed at these weekly meetings to see whether good progress has been made on candidate recruitment, organization, financing and campaign direction.

THE FIRST step in the campaign will be the recruitment of young, attractive candidates to carry the GOP banner in the key congressional districts, party leaders told CQ.

"We're going to conduct a nationwide talent search. We will try to persuade local committees to suggest and, if necessary, even draft the very best men to run" according to Rep. Bob Wilson (R, Calif.), chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Wilson recently appointed a special group, headed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R. Wis.), which will tour the United States during the congressional recess, speaking in target areas and trying to persuade good men to seek the GOP nominations.

A SECOND PRONG of the Republican organizational effort will be a continued effort to organize energetic campaigns, staffed by reliable workers, in the large cities of the North and Midwest where extremely top-heavy Democratic majorities wrecked the 1960 Republican presidential campaign.

Republicans told CQ they have few hopes of winning actual majorities in the big cities, but they believe they can cut down the Democratic majorities enough so that Republican candidates for governor, senator and other posts will have a chance statewide.

The party's new organizational plans will be explained to party officials from all parts of the nation at regional conferences planned for this fall, Miller said for West in Sun Valley, Idaho, Sept. 28-30.

(TOMORROW: Should the GOP form an advisory council?)

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

I-J At Present Is Short-Sighted

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

America has been long dedicated to a policy of "Freedom of the Press," and if I recall correctly you have on several instances rallied round your fellow members of the "Fourth Estate" when this freedom was being protected. Invariably your defense made as its point, that freedom of the press did not include license, and that the mark of true journalism was objectivity.

I believe that we all, or at least a majority of us concur in this, however, during the last few years, under the aegis of your present journalistic mentor, I have scented a bit of prejudice, or perhaps you are truly expert in the field of county government, for you informed us on July 22 of this year in your brickbats column that 10,000 voters did NOT constitute a minority of the voters of the county, perhaps the other 70,000 odd voters may not agree with you however in this. (This was the same issue in which you advocated public ownership of the redwoods in Woodacre, perhaps you are also an expert on conservation?)

In a previous issue you, in criticism of certain public utility employees, deplored the fact that one of them stood over a manhole watching the other work. Perhaps a more mature investigation of the facts would have indicated to you that dangerous conditions exist in such manholes, and this man's primary duty consists of protecting his fellow worker.

Again you have been an expert on the financing of the Golden Gate Bridge, truly your knowledge of a great many and varied things is amazing.

Tonight (Aug. 14) we find you again reporting very objectively, as we read the report of the Blair Recall Committee, with a few rather scurrilous innuendoes concerning the county clerk, George Jones. This was an interesting article containing as it did not one word of support for the same 8,000 people or more who voted FOR Mr. Blair, and who were aware even then of his campaign pledges. Perhaps though you are again, as I have stated before, an expert on the feelings and emotions of all of Mr. Blair's constituents?

(In this same issue there were at least six column inches devoted to the following items, "A gentleman in Midhurst, England, whose glasses became so covered with soot he couldn't see," "A lady juror in the midwest who found it necessary to place lawbooks under her feet when sitting in a jury," and a family in Iowa who found it necessary to hire someone to prevent the neighborhood children from putting their feet in the fresh cement of their new patio.)

May I respectfully request that you reconsider some of your present short-sighted journalistic policies, and return to the former dependable reportitng you were noted for?

America today, has a deep-seated need for good, honest, complete, and above all, OBJECTIVE reporting. We as Americans deeply resent subliminal attempts at persuasion, we will make our own judgements determined by the facts as we know them. It is your duty to report these facts as you find them, NOT as you would like them to be.

Will Transit On Span Harm Looks?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As things stand at this time, there exists considerable engineering difference of opinion in respect to safety aspects of the Golden Gate Bridge for rapid transit use.

The writer, meanwhile, is wondering what rapid transit structures are going to do to the look of what he considers, is certainly the most beautiful bridge of its kind anywhere.

I feel sure that there are many Bay Area residents who would like to see a sketch or drawing, showing the appearance of this handsome and beautiful bridge after it receives the "new look" arising from installation of rapid transit facilities.

WALTER H. RITCHIE
San Rafael

(NOTE: There will be no change in the looks of the structure itself because the trains will run out of sight under the bridge deck. See sketch.)

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A couple of city slickers, on a hunting trip in Wisconsin, noticed that an elderly native was listening intently to their conversation in a village pub.

"I own a setter," boasted one city chap, "who has such a nose that when I send him to the store for eggs, he refuses to accept any that aren't freshly laid."

"My cocker is smarter than that," scoffed his friend. "I sent him out for cigars, and he flatly refused any but my favorite brand. Furthermore, he won't smoke any till he gets home and I light one for him."

The two men turned innocently to the elderly native and inquired, "Well, old timer, did you ever hear of any dogs as smart as ours?"

"Just one," nodded the unsmiling native. "My old collie Shep. He runs the store where your dogs trade."

Dean Martin cites the case of the sad sack who bought a bottle of the druggist's most powerful—and most expensive—vitamin pills, and then didn't have strength enough to get the bottle open.

With School So Close, Tree Forts Are More Intriguing Than Ever

A boy's tree fort is his castle and when the days of August start sliding into September, each day in the sky becomes more and more precious.

Jimmie Moore, second grader at Park School, Mill Valley, says, "I am building a tree house all by myself. It's so high it has a view of the mountain."

Dick Cooke, 9, says he has a tree fort which features a box with a rope to pull things up and down. What things, we asked. "Oh, food, tools and nails."

"How high is the fort?"

"Fifty feet from the ground."

"Fifty?!"

"Well, between 20 and 50."

"We call it the Secret H. Fort."

"What does 'H' stand for?"

"It doesn't matter. Just picked up the name."

"What do you play in the Fort?"

"We play Army mostly."

ALSO AN ARMY player, once in awhile is Peter Gardiner, 12, who has had one sky house, but is now building another in the woods. Peter also has the handy system of a pail with a rope which is used to hoist lunch up, he says.

"We were going to sleep out in the old house which had a tent on it, but we found the tent leaned too much," Peter advised.

Mark and Curtis Fong have a sort of Flying Fort with a triangular porch. Built by their father, Calvin, it is 25-30 feet in the air and is hung by wires to avoid nails injuring the trees.

"It sways wonderfully in the redwoods and madrones when the wind blows," said Fong. "And creaks."

Fong said "We plan to spend a night sleeping up there when one of the boys stops walking in his sleep."

AT THE RICHARD H. Dillons there are two sky houses, one a little low for the younger kids of six and another, a penthouse, for the big guys, who are eight.

"It's sort of a caste system," Dillon said, "or social climbing in the Monterey pines. Sometimes they are called tree forts and the youngsters play Army, choosing up sides. Crack shots on one side and the little guys on the other.

"Warfare," Dillon added, "has not been so heavy this year because of the drouth. Grass was higher last year in the nearby lot for building forts, tunnels and passageways."

AT OUR DUSTY for the "Blues" and the "Grays" of Civil War times have battles with each other. "Or, sometimes we just have a pretend enemy."

The atomic age faint hearts can take to their underground shelters, but as for "us guys" we will hole out in the sky forts. And please send up the pail on the rope with the lunch.

WE LEARNED about a beard-pulling dog the other day and decided to hop over and interview him. Name's Andy and it seems that he pulled so much hair out of his mother's beard that it left her, Honoree, looking rather scant of whisker.

Andy, according to his mistress, Janet Reupke of Tamalpais Valley, was not alone since other pups also pulled the beard of the tiny Brussel Griffon. There are two Griffon types—the smooth and the rough. The smooth has no beard and Andy is one. Maybe he was jealous.

Andy also has another bad habit. He goes through all the waste baskets every morning and turns them upside down.

These toy dogs, originally Belgian it is believed, have flat noses, undershot jaws and don't like to wear sweaters. Once ratters, they later were used to entertain royalty.

Khrushchev's Hand Not All Strength, He Has Some Important Weaknesses

WASHINGTON—Let us not make the mistake of assuming that all the trump cards or even all the high cards are in Nikita Khrushchev's hand over Berlin.

There are some serious weaknesses in the political and military hand which Mr. K has been able to deal himself. It is well to bear them in mind when we listen to the threats and boasts which come from the Kremlin with interspersed suggestions that all can be settled if the West will be "reasonable."

To keep things in perspective, it is well to look at some of the weaknesses in Mr. K's hand. He is not by any means leading from strength at all points. In sum his weaknesses may match—or exceed—our own.

DIPLOMATIC — By what stretch of irony and credibility does the Soviet premier think he can persuade the world that he is making a peace with East Germany when he has to hold the East German people at gunpoint from fleeing their own country to escape his regime?

Is it a source of strength to bring a "peace" treaty to the people of East Germany with tanks and tear gas?

Is it a source of strength—or a feat of diplomatic finesse—to have to be shooting and jailing the people of East Berlin (which the Soviets control) to keep them from winning their freedom while at the same time pretending to be ready to guarantee the freedom of West Berlin (which they do not control)?

Is it a source of strength to have produced such a plight in East Germany that Khrushchev has to voilate the old agreement with the West on travel between East Berlin and West Berlin while proposing that, if we will agree to some new agreement, he won't violate that?

MILITARY — When he comes to reaching across Eastern Europe to West Berlin, the Soviet Union has a very serious problem of "logistics." It is not that Berlin is so far from Moscow, but the road from Moscow to Berlin runs through the most sensitive and uncertain Soviet-bloc territory.

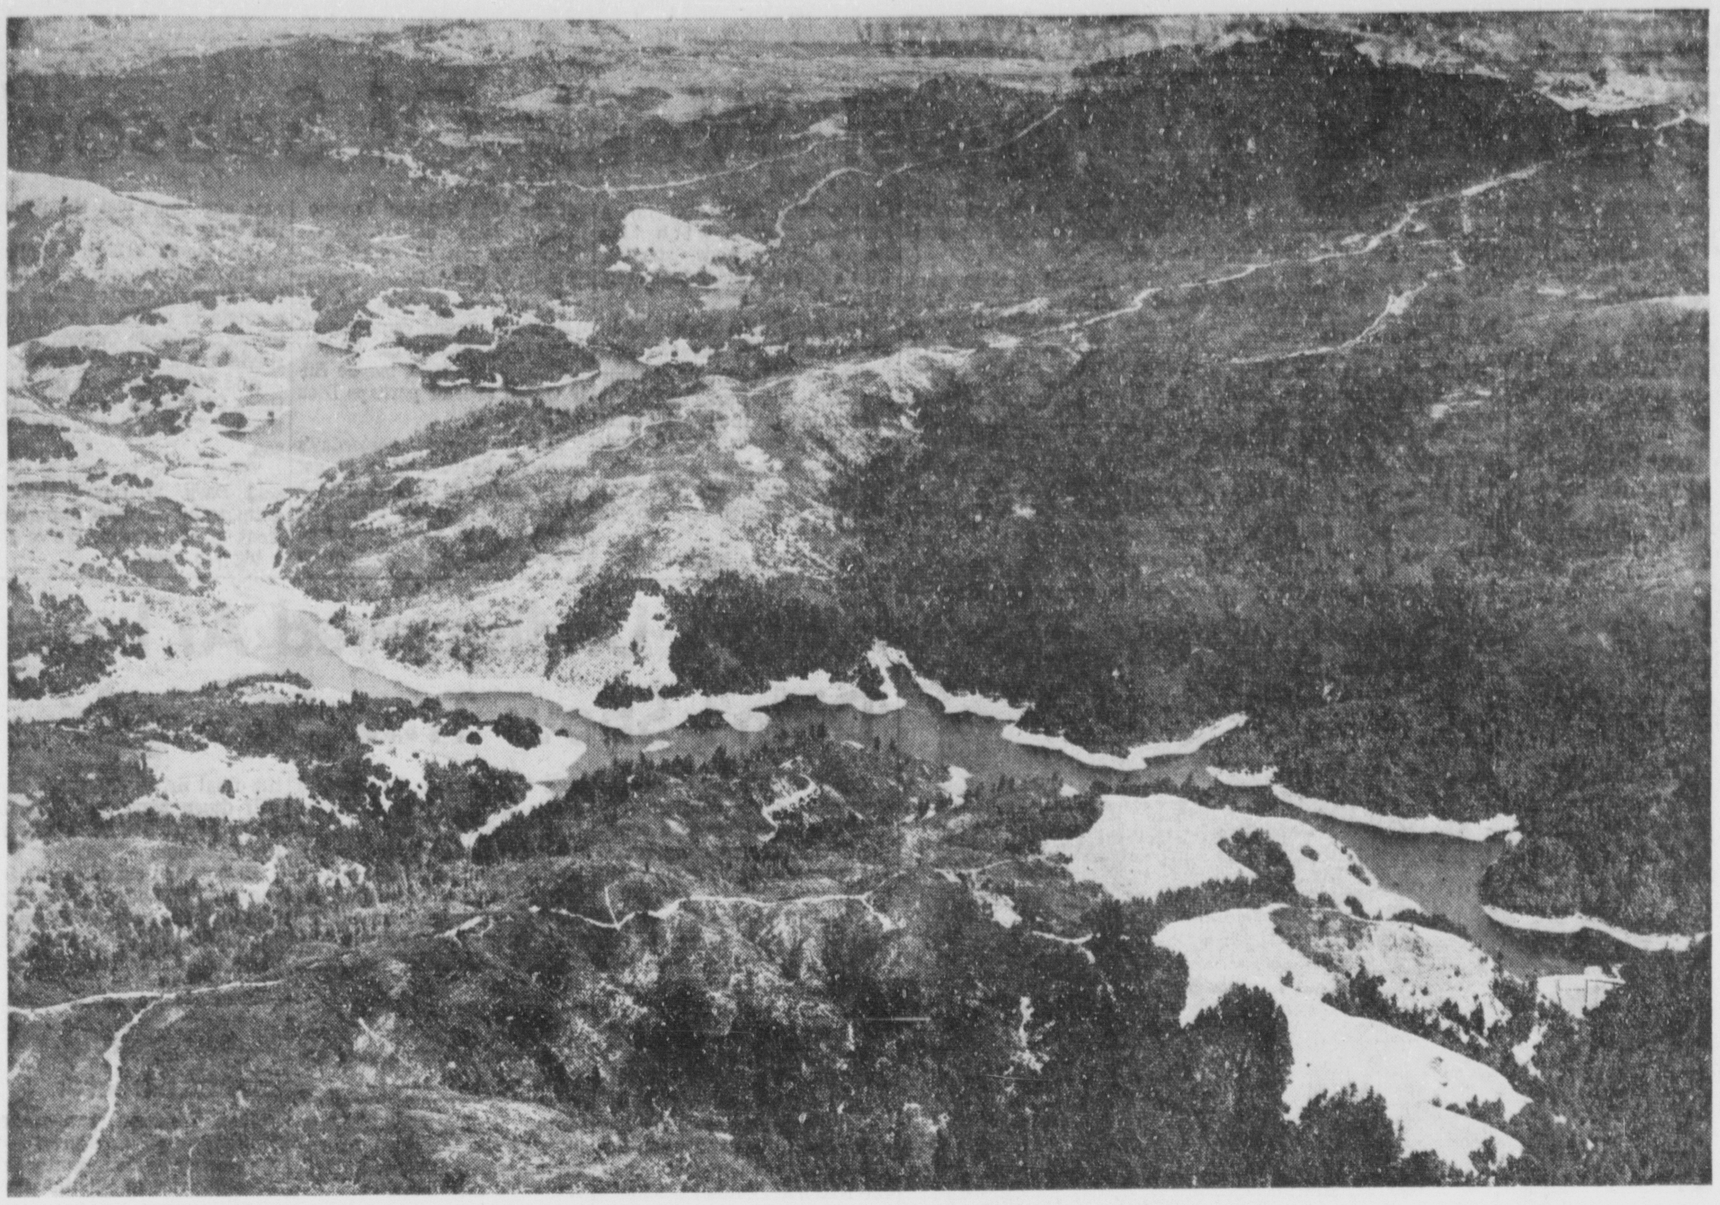
In Eastern Europe today—in Poland and Hungary and East Germany, particularly—the Soviets have to walk on thin eggs. In any military operations it might wish to undertake through this sensitive belt, the Kremlin could not count on the friendliness of the people of any of these countries and it could not rely on the military forces under the command of obedient puppet governments.

POLITICAL — In October, Khrushchev must preside over the 22nd Congress of the Soviet Communist Party. Is it a source of strength to Mr. K to have to admit that the only way Communism can rule in East Germany is to put barbed wire and gun emplacements across a whole national frontier?

And to lie about it by pretending that he is doing this to keep out West Berlin spies?

Is it a source of strength for Mr. K to have to go before the party Congress as one who has thrust his nation to the brink of war?

Or is it time for him to have second thoughts?



WATER DISTRICT'S LAKES LOW—BUT NO RATIONING IN SIGHT

Marin Municipal Water District's chain of mountain reservoirs, seen in this aerial photograph, hold about one and one-half million gallons less than last year at this time, William R. Seeger, general manager of the district, reported today. Exposed sides below vegetation, which show white around each body of water in photo, indicate lowness of the storage. Seeger said today, however, that this should be ample to carry the district until lines to the new Nicasio Reservoir are completed, which should be between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1. The Nicasio Reservoir holds three million gallons yet untouched. Seeger said the Marin Municipal Water District is unable to help the North Marin Water District, now rationing, because of heavy draw at Hamilton Air Force Base from the only line to North Marin from the southern district. Planned Industrial Zone Is Approved

The Marin County Planning Commission today approved rezoning of 25 acres southwest of San Rafael adjoining the San Quentin highway to planned industrial, but refused to rezone the area for unlimited heavy industrial construction.

Under "planned industrial" zoning, the owners, Henry Ghilotti, and Elmo V. Maggiora, would be required to develop the area as a whole, indicate uses of all lots and streets, and submit plans for drainage and development standards.

Under heavy industrial zoning the county would have control only over architectural standards.

Representing the owners was attorney Bryan McCarthy, who argued that the restrictions of planned industrial placed a hardship on his clients. "This area is logically industrial by every test you can apply," McCarthy said.

The property is bounded on the northwest by the Joaquin Ranch development and on the southwest by the old county road leading to San Quentin. It was rezoned from limited agricultural.

The planning staff objected to heavy industry in the area because of adjoining residential and commercial districts. "A planned industrial control would prevent indiscriminate mixing of residential and industrial areas," said Planning Director Mary Summers.

The matter will come before the board of supervisors at 2 p.m. on Aug. 29.

In other action this morning, the planners:

1. Refused to rezone 2.66 acres north of San Rafael adjoining San Pedro Road from single and duplex residential to multiple residential. Applying for the rezoning was Doreen Nelson. The request was denied because only three of five planners present voted to allow the change, with four required for a commission majority. Voting "no" were Commissioners Worth Fenner and Felix M. Warburg. Chairman William Upton was absent.

2. Continued to Sept. 11 consideration of the Joaquin Ranch Master Plan which includes 75 acres northwest of San Rafael bounded by Highway 101 and the old county road to San Quentin.

3. Continued to Sept. 11 an application for a service station at 1000 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield.

4. Continued to Sept. 11 a request by the Housing Authority of Marin County for rezoning of the Hilarita Housing Project from single and duplex residential to multiple residential.

Restaurant Without Bar Is Approved

A "reservation-type" restaurant limited to 50 diners and with no bar was approved today by the Marin County Planning Commission for operation on Paradise Drive on the Tiburon peninsula.

The permit requires that Kirby Atterbury, developer of the eating establishment planned for a single family residence at 2000 Paradise Drive adjacent to Elephant Rock work out plans for off-site parking and be granted architectural supervision before remodeling can start.

The operation of the restaurant would be limited to a maximum of 50 patrons and would not allow liquor to be served except at the dining tables.

The planning staff had recommended denial of the permit because of traffic, limited accommodations and because of adjacent single family residential zoning.

Atterbury said details of offsite parking could be worked out with cooperation of the Tiburon Sanitary District which owns a 225-foot-long strip across the street which is not used.

Several letters of approval from nearby residents were received by the planners, one suggesting that such a restaurant "would catch the eye of every passing photographer and bring Tiburon into national prominence."

The matter will come before the board of supervisors on Aug. 29 at 2 p.m.

Session Postponed

Trustees of Reed Union School District have postponed their board meeting from tomorrow to Aug. 29 because two trustees are on vacation, a district office spokesman said today.

Ex-Finance Manager Is Given Six Months

Charles Hopper, 32, former manager of the San Rafael office of Beneficial Finance Co., who last month pleaded guilty of grand theft, today was sentenced to six months in the Marin County Jail, plus probation for five years, and directed to make restitution of $24,585.44.

Sentence was pronounced by Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., who specified that Hopper may be eligible to the jail work furlough program. Hopper of Petaluma, currently is working as a laborer in Sonoma County at $1.25 an hour.

In suspending imposition of sentence, the judge took into account a probation report that Hopper had no previous criminal record. Both the probation office and Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety had asked the six-month jail term.

Hopper, manager of the San Rafael office of the loan firm from October, 1960, until the time of his arrest, was arrested May 2 at his home by Donald E. Midyett, district attorney's investigator.

Hopper formerly served the Petaluma office of the firm. The district attorney's office said he came under suspicion there when his successor reported a number of fictitious accounts in the files.

He was accused of embezzling the money by making fictitious loans and pocketing the funds. The shortage in San Rafael was put at about $14,000. He also was suspected of taking about $12,000 from the Petaluma office.

Pistol Wielder Pleads Innocent

Stanley R. Bech, 24, San Francisco cook arrested after he was accused of firing a .22-caliber pistol over the heads of swimmers at Lagunitas Creek Pool, pleaded innocent today to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

He demanded a jury trial and Superior Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. set it for Oct. 3 through 6.

At his preliminary hearing before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Municipal Court July 19, Donald Cox, 18, of San Anselmo, testified Bech fired over the heads of Cox and fellow swimmers June 23 without warning.

Bech contended he shot in self-defense after he was threatened.

49ers Lacked That Extra Oomph; Lockett Has Won Himself A Job

CONNOLLY

The tools are all there, but the boys haven't yet learned to use 'em. As a result, the San Francisco 49ers receipted for their second exhibition loss at Kezar Stadium yesterday, 27 to 24.

This time it was the Cleveland Browns who taught Coach Red Hickey's hopefuls a few lessons. Last week it was the New York Giants. Fortunately, neither game counts in the standings, and neither team plays the 49ers again this year. Somehow you can't help feeling that the locals could have won both games with just a little more effort. But the extra oomph just wasn't there, and you can only hope that this sort of thing is not contagious.

The exhibition would have been more of an eye opener had the 49ers been able to run up a respectable lead and the rookies been given a greater chance to show their wares. As it is, Coach Hickey is going to have to do some tough evaluating on the practice field and in the next three exhibitions before the final cuts are made.

J. W. LOCKETT has himself a job for sure. The big back showed that his effort against the Giants was not a flash in the pan. When the rough edges are smoothed off the 49er offense and the plays start clicking with more precision, this newcomer is going to win a place in the hearts of local fans.

It is hard to believe that this rookie was overlooked in the draft, but Hickey must thank his luck that he was able to pick him up as a free agent. Publicity Director Dan McGuire says that Lockett's decision to have a try at professional baseball probably caused him to be lost in the shuffle.

THE ONLY look we had at new quarterback Bill Kilmer was in a punting role. While Bill did a fair job, with not too much distance on the average, it was his last weak effort that gave the Brownies the ball near midfield at end of the game. From there the last-second touchdown was on the board before the 49ers could tighten the defense.

Kilmer's kick was a "college try" effort to put the ball out of bounds and put the Browns in the hole. As so often happens when a college boy tries to be cute, the ball was off the side of his foot for only a few yards. However, there is a glimmer of the future in Hickey's use of the ex-UCLA back, as Kilmer may do some running from the punt formation after the opposition gets used to seeing him back there.

Lenny Lyles took over the kickoff chores with both good and bad efforts. Could be that Tommy Davis' job is in danger, as no team can afford to keep a specialist who can't double in brass.

ROLLICKING ROLLIE Lakes looked good on defense while he was in there. Ola Murchison and Bernie Casey both made good efforts in their short appearances, as did Aaron Thomas at end. The over-all impression of speed is a good one, and this club will give fits to some teams when they get going.

And the work of Lou Cordileone on defense allayed the pain that the loss of Y. A. Tittle may have caused. Old YAT made a sad debut with the Giants on Saturday, fumbling his only effort and getting racked up for his pains. He'll do better.

Coach Paul Brown has come and gone, but the memory of fullback Jim Brown and halfback Bob Mitchell lingers on. You won't see any better all year, or next year either. And how about old Lou Groza, out of retirement for his SIXTEENTH year in pro ball, and supplying the points that sank the 49ers. Nine of 'em.

Well, It's Back To The Old Drawing Board For Raiders

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—It's back to the drawing board for the Oakland Raiders after a night out in Spokane, Wash., where the Denver Broncos Saturday kicked the Eddie Erdelatz men in the defense.

In passing, Oakland trailed Denver 225 yards to 236. On the ground it was a 91-125 deficit and in first downs Oakland was down 14-21.

At the half it was Denver 20, Oakland 13. Then the roof fell in on the Raider defense as the Broncos dominated the ball and the scoring.

Chief culprit in the game-long Bronco assault was sub quarterback George Herring, who threw for three touchdowns, and Al Frazier, who scored two, one on a 95-yard kickoff return and the second on a 60-yard aerial penetration of the Raider defense.

SHOWDOWN SERIES WITH CINCINNATI

Giants Face 'Biggest Week Of Season'

Six players are hurting. The team is seven games out of first place. He has no idea who will be his pitcher in the second game of tomorrow night's doubleheader.

Outfielder Matty Alou was left behind for treatment of an inflamed vein in his left thigh. Harvey Kuenn had a pulled muscle in his left thigh. Willie Mays, Jose Pagan and Jim Davenport had their right thumbs taped and were finding it painful gripping their bats. And Juan Marichal, the Giants' top winner with 12 victories, had a sore muscle in the bicep of his pitching arm.

Willie McCovey and Felipe Alou hadn't been playing much before the Dodger series. But with all the injuries, Dark used them and, boy, did they come through.

McCovey homered in the Giants 2-1 victory Friday night. He scored a pair of runs in each of their next two wins, 5-0 Saturday and 11-8 yesterday.

Alou knocked in four runs Sunday with his 13th and 14th homers. His second blast, a whistling three-run line drive, proved to be the winning clout.

That drive sent the Dodgers down to their seventh straight loss, their longest losing streak since 1948. They had lost six straight only once before since coming to California in 1958.

Pitching still is the prime concern of Dark as he takes the Giants into Cincinnati for a four-game series with the league-leading Reds, starting with a double-header tomorrow night.

"If the Reds win 17 of their last 32," said Dark "which is barely better than half their remaining games, they'll have 92 wins.

"We'd have to win 27 of our last 38 in order to win 92 games.

"I figure the biggest week of the 1961 National League season starts Tuesday. Somebody has got to knock off the Reds this week."

"I still have no idea who I'll use in the second game tomorrow night," said Dark. "It may be Sam Jones (7-7), maybe Billy O'Dell (4-4) or perhaps Dick LeMay (2-4)."

LeMay saved yesterday's game for Sanford when he got Wally Moon to bounce into a game-ending double play. The Dodgers had already scored two in the ninth, had two on base and Moon was the potential tying run.

The Giants' attack compiled 19 hits, including three by Sanford. Pagan got three. Alou had a single in addition to his two homers. Orlando Cepeda had a single and a two-run double.

"We'll have to keep it up," said Dark. "I figure this is going to be the most important week of the season. We've got a big job ahead."

Hickey Undismayed At Loss; 'Didn't Show True Strength'

After his club lost to Cleveland yesterday 27-24 in the final seven seconds, at San Francisco, Hickey told newsmen, "This game didn't show our true strength. We played a lot of men to see what they could do. We didn't play others to give some a chance to play."

He'll experiment more this Saturday in Portland when the 49ers meet the new member of the National Football League—the Minnesota Vikings — with each club seeking its first 1961 victory.

After Milt Plum tossed a perfect 27-yard touchdown pass to ex-sprinter Ray Renfro to give Cleveland victory in the hard fought battle at Kezar, Hickey said calmly, "We played an awfully good ball club, but we've got a good ball club too. We should have won."

The Browns had taken an early 14-0 lead on a two-yard pass from Plum to Bobby Mitchell and an eight-yard smash by Jim Brown plus two Lou Groza conversions.

CROWD BOOS

About that time, some of the Kezar crowd of 38,759, missing quarterback Y. A. Tittle, who'd been traded the past week, began booing.

John Brodie changed the boos to cheers as he directed drives of 70 and 79 yards for 49er touchdown that knotted the count in the second quarter. Brodie called his own signal on fourth down and beautifully executed a sweep around end for the final yard to the first touchdown. Rookie J. W. Lockett plunged the last yard for the second one and Monty Stickles converted after both.

Cleveland regained the lead at halftime 17-14 on Groza's 31-yard field goal. But in the third period, Stickles knotted the count with a 17-yard boot.

HAZELTINE GALLOPS

With only seconds gone in the final stanza, 49er captain Matt Hazeltine intercepted a Plum pass and galloped 29 yards for a touchdown that put the 49ers ahead 24-17. Groza closed the gap with a 20-yard field goal.

Time was running out when Plum marshalled his forces for the final drive—72 yards in a half dozen plays, and a score when he pitched to Renfro in the end zone.

Hickey had compliments for rookie J. W. Lockett, who played the entire game at offensive fullback. Lockett gained 32 yards in eight carries and 24 on three pass catches.

Services Group Elects Director

John Thomson was elected Thursday night as a director of the Marin City Community Services District to fill the unexpired term of Harley C. Jeffrey, who has moved to Berkeley.

Thomson, who was a Sausalito city councilman from 1940 to 1944, lives at 59 Cole Drive.

Chairman Harry Bailey announced the district is accepting applications for a part-time custodian for the community center building and that applications may be sent to Juanita Cobb, Box 68, Marin City. Work is still being done evenings and on weekends on repairing of the gymnasium, Bailey said.

Experts Pick Brown In Eastern Division

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns, picked by a regiment of experts as the class of the National Football League's Eastern Division this year, own their first preseason victory in two tries today — but seven ticks of the clock and some sure-footed kicking by an old-timer named Lou Groza made the difference.

Fighting the clock and hammering the 49er defense steadily, Cleveland pulled it out with a 72-yard advance in those waning moments. Groza contributed a pair of field goals and added three conversions in the Browns' victory.

In other NFL weekend exhibition games: the Green Bay Packers whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 31-10 and the Baltimore Colts trimmed Minnesota's new Vikings 13-3 on Friday night. And on Saturday night, the Los Angeles Rams scrambled to a 17-17 tie with the New York Giants and Chicago Bears over-ran the Washington Redskins 29-13.

The Rams staged a 14-point spurt in the final six minutes in earning the 17-17 tie with the Giants. Quarterback Zeke Bratowski, something less than a sensation otherwise, carried in the second Ram touchdown on a two-yard rollout with 58 seconds to play, and Danny Villanueva brought the deadlock with a conversion kick.

Charlie Bivins, a kickoff and punt return specialist as a rookie last season, provided an offensive dazzler for the Bears. The hefty halfback from Morris Brown College broke it open against the Redskins in the last quarter, threshing 79 and 93 yards for touchdowns.

TOWER SAVES ORPHANS IN TYPHOON DISASTER!

True Friend Island, a mission home for homeless South Korean boys, was directly in the path of Typhoon Sarah. To escape it, 200 children and many workers huddled for hours in a recently erected escape tower—and lived. The livestock and every other building in the area were completely washed away.

This life-saving tower, part of a settlement built expressly for the care of homeless youngsters, is the direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this particular endeavor is Protestant, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic, Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs. They provide clothing, food, medicine, jobs, education, tools and equipment to the millions in need.

These overseas programs must continue. They often provide the only hope to indigent millions. And they need your support.

Remember, it is the generosity of those like yourself that offers new hope where none now exists.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies failed yesterday to equal the National League's longest losing streak in history when, after succeeding in dropping their 23rd in succession, they managed to defeat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-4, in the second game of a double-header.

Everything pointed to their matching the 24 successive losses inflicted upon the 1899 Cleveland Pipers. The futile Phils already had erased the modern National and American league marks of 19 and 20 in a row, respectively. They were playing against the circuit's hottest team.

The Braves, behind Warren Spahn, had scored their 10th victory in a row in the opener, longest winning string in the league. John Buzhardt, loser of 13 of 16 decisions, was Manager Gene Mauch's choice to do the Philly pitching.

But it didn't work, Buzhardt surprised the Braves, their 23,637 customers and possibly himself by yielding only nine hits and going the route for his and the club's first victory since July 28. The young righthander was the last Phil pitcher to win a game. Carl Willey was the Milwaukee loser, but it wasn't until the Phillies scored four runs in the eighth off Bob Hendley that they wrapped up the game.

STREAK ENDED

Cincinnati had its six-game winning streak snapped by St. Louis, 7-4, but the Reds maintained their three-game first-place lead over Los Angeles' Dodgers, who were beaten 11-8 by the on-rushing San Francisco Giants. Chicago's Cubs gained a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh in 11 innings.

The Phillies were held to five hits in the opener by Spahn, who scored his fifth straight, his 14th of the season and the 302nd of his big league career. Eddie Mathews' 25th home run in the fifth set off a three-run outburst against loser Chris Short.

CARDS TRIUMPH

Ray Sadecki, St. Louis's 20-year-old southpaw, held Cincinnati to eight hits for his fifth lifetime victory over the Reds in six decisions. Julian Javier and Bill White rapped five hits and scored five runs between them to lead the Cards' 13-hit attack against starter Jim O'Toole and two relievers. Sherman Jones was the loser.

Billy Williams' two-out single in the 11th scored Dick Bertell with the run that broke up a scoreless pitching duel between the Cubs' Don Cardwell and the Pirates' Bob Friend. It was the third straight 11-inning battle between the two teams. Cardwell gave up six hits in winning his 11th game.

Yanks Overshadow Courageous Tigers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The home run heroics of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle and the almost monotonous winning ways of the New York Yankees have overshadowed the courageous effort of the Detroit Tigers and the spectacular hitting of their new star first baseman Norm Cash.

Maris clouted his 49th home run yesterday and Mantle walloped No. 46 as the M and M boys kept 10 and 8 games, respectively, ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60-homer pace of 1927. The Yankees went on to sweep a double-header from Cleveland 6-0 and 5-2 to protect their three-game bulge over Detroit.

Undismayed, the Tigers took a double-header from Boston 6-1 and 7-6. They were the Tigers' sixth and seventh victories in the last 10 games.

Red Sox pitchers were able to retire Cash only once as he rapped three hits in each game, drove in four runs, slammed his 31st home run and boosted his league-leading average to .364.

Chicago's White Sox thrashed Kansas City 5-3 and 7-0 to move into a fourth-place tie with Cleveland. Third-place Baltimore, 11 games off the pace, downed Washington 9-3 in the first game of a scheduled double-header. The second game was postponed until today because of rain. Minnesota outslugged Los Angeles 9-7.

The Yankees received superb pitching from young righthanders Ralph Terry and Roland Sheldon. Terry hurled a four-hitter in the opener for his 10th victory in 11 decisions. Sheldon yielded eight hits in the nightcap for a 9-3 record. Mantle had a field day before a Cleveland season record crowd of 56,307. In addition to his three-run homer the first time at bat, he had three singles and three walks. He drove in six runs in the two games and made two spectacular catches in center field.

Frank Lary, second in victories only to New York's Whitey Ford, won his 18th with a seven-hitter in Detroit's first game triumph. Relief pitcher Terry Fox was the second game winner, getting his fourth triumph when pinch hitter Bubba Morton singled home the tying and winning runs in the eighth.

Pony League Playoff

WEST COVINA (UPI) — The West Covina Mustangs, west coast divisional champions, open play tomorrow at San Antonio, Tex., in the first round of the Pony League World Series.

West Covina won the divisional title and the spot in the finals last Saturday evening when the Mustangs defeated the Honolulu All-Stars, 4-2.

World Marks Topple In Nat'l AAU Swim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten world records were headed for the books today as some 400 swimmers and divers scattered toward home.

Of 14 swimming events in the annual men's national AAU autdoor championships, there was only one in which neither a world nor an American record fell. The three-day meet ended yesterday.

The American record came in yesterday's highlight — the final clash of the season between Japan's Tsuyoshi Yamanaka and Australian star Murray Rose.

As the two 22-year-olds battled, Yamanaka finally achieved something he had failed to do in two Olympic games: Defeat Rose in the 400 meters.

Yamanaka won in 4:17.5 to Rose's 4:17.8 — both better than the American mark of 4:19.2. Alan Somers, who held that previous figure, finished third in 4:23.2.

During the meet the Indianapolis Athletic Club collected five world marks and its fifth straight team championship with 125½ points.

Powerhouse of the Hoosier team was Chet Jastremski, who laid claim yesterday to the world 100-meter breaststroke mark with a time of 1:07.5. It eclipsed the recognized time of 1:11.5 set by Russia's W. Minaschkin in 1957.

Jastremski previously put in a claim for the 200-meter breaststroke record and emerged as the outstanding swimmer of the meet with 19 points.

The day wound up with the Indianapolis "A" medley relay team breaking the world 400-meter mark of 4:05.4 with a time of 4:03.0.

The new championship team: Stock, Jastremski, Lary Schulhef and Pete Sintz.

Presidio Nips Hub '9' In Softball Playoff

Army of San Francisco Presidio nipped Sohner Tree Service at San Anselmo 6-5 yesterday in a championship playoff in the second annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament.

Both teams had finished their regular tournament schedules with 4-1 records.

Yesterday's game was a see-saw affair on which Sohner almost tied the score with a last-ditch rally. After the first two Sohner batters had been harmlessly retired in the seventh, Art Donati lined a single to center and scored as Nolan Wilson ripped a triple down the right field line. Ken Cuneo then hit a one-hop smash that first-baseman Dave Haight deflected into foul territory as Wilson rambled home with what would have been the tying run. But Haight scrambled after the ball and made a diving tag of the bag to nip the flying Cuneo in a photo finish.

Presidio had scored three times in the first inning on Haight's three-run triple to left-center, but the Treemen grabbed the lead in the third when Wilson's three-run homer highlighted a four-run rally.

Wilson and Donati each had two hits for Sohner while Haight had two for Presidio.

Donati collected eight hits in 19 trips to capture the tournament batting crown with a .421 average. The fleet outfielder also turned in several sparkling defensive plays.

Sohner battles Dougout-Cain Tire at 9 o'clock at Albert Park tonight in the San Rafael Men's Softball League. Lou Perazzo is slated to hurl for the Treemen against a yet-unnamed mound opponent.

3 Teeners Provide Startling U.S. Wightman Cup Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Inspirational drive by a trio of teen-agers who refused to be overawed by the decided favoritism lavished on Great Britain's team gave the United States the most stunning upset triumph in the historic Wightman Cup tennis series.

The Americans took the top British amateur women stars six matches to one, bringing the cup back to this country after a year's stay abroad and registering the 27th U.S. victory in 33 meetings between the two countries since 1923.

Justina Bricka, 18, of St. Louis, ranked No. 11 nationally, won the key match by ambushing Wimbledon champion Angela Mortimer 10-8, 4-6, 6-3 yesterday.

It followed Saturday's U.S. sweep by Karen Hantze of San Diego, 18; Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., 17, and a Hantze-Moffitt doubles victory.

Tiburoners Lose To Oakland Club

Louis Stores of Oakland invaded Tiburon yesterday and handed the local Pelicans a 6-1 setback, their seventh loss of the season against eight victories.

Of Tiburon's seven hits, relief pitcher Fred DeMartini collected two and drove in the Pelicans' only run of the game in the seventh inning.

After Five Years, Brewer Finally Bags A Victory

SILVER SPRINGS, Md. (AP)—How does it feel for a golf pro to hit the winner's jackpot after chasing around the tournament trail five years without a victory?

But the convincer, in the form of a $5,300 winner's check, was written out yesterday shortly after the 29-year-old veteran wound up with a 3-under-par 67 final round and a four-round total of 277 over the rugged Indian Spring Country Club course.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas barely missed a 40-foot putt for a tying birdie on the final hole moments after Brewer finished. Maxwell's 69-278 enabled him to pick up $3,450 for second place.

Bill Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., the pace-setter for three rounds, failed to birdie a hole on the last day and wound up with 73, tying him with Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., for third with 279. Harney's final round score was 71.

Heavies Vie In S.F. Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, (UPI)—Roger Rischer pits his craft against the explosive punching of Kirk Barrow tonight when the two heavyweights meet in a 10-round bout at Kezar Pavilion.

Barrow, a resident of Spokane, Wash., is returning to the fight center where he built up a following while stopping Sixto Rodriguez and Floyd Joyner as well as outpointing Monroe Ratliff.

Rischer, an Oaklander who has been boxing infrequently for eight years, holds a win over young Jack Johnson at the pavilion. He holds a big edge over Barrow in experience.

Barrow has been stopped twice this year by light-heavyweight contender Von Clay and claimed that he was weakened by trying to make the 175-pound limit. He says that he plans to compete among the heavyweights from now on.

Bartzen Clinches U.S. Davis Cup Win Over Mexico

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. team has won the Davis Cup tennis American zone finals from Mexico 3-2 for the second year in a row, and the man who won the deciding match said the weather helped him do it.

The third day's play was delayed for an hour and a half yesterday while gasoline was splashed on the Cleveland Skating Club's courts and set afire the dry the rain-soaked clay.

Then Chuck McKinley of St. Louis blasted his way past Mexico's No. 1 man, 33-year-old Mario Llamas, 6-4, 7-5, 10-8, to tie the match at 2-2. Bernard "Tut" Bartzen, another 33-year-old and national clay courts champion, followed with a 7-3, 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Mexico's Rafael Osuna, 22.

"With the courts a little damp, it worked in my favor," said Bartzen, "because Osuna likes to play the net and fire the ball past you. But he wasn't able to do it, because the ball was heavier and not taking off as fast as it will on a dry court, like he had last Friday when he beat Chuck."

McKinley had lost three straight sets to Osuna by 6-3 scores Friday when Bartzen defeated Llamas 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. The Mexicans went ahead 2-1 Saturday when Osuna and Antonio Palafox beat McKinley and Dennis Ralston in the doubles, 9-7, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Mikoyan Says Japan's U.S. Ties Block Pact

TOKYO (UPI) — Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, said today that Japan's ties with the United States were blocking a Soviet-Japanese treaty.

Resuming his attacks on the U. S.-Japanese security treaty which got him in hot water with Japanese leaders last week, Mikoyan said the pact was a "dangerous treaty."

He told Socialist Party leaders, who oppose the pact, there is no need for such an arrangement because the Soviet Union and Communist China "have no intention of invading" any country.

Mikoyan conferred with the Socialists after returning from Kyoto where he told a news conference last night that the German question "must not be solved by force." He said "it would be insane" for the West to answer with war the Soviet threats to conclude a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

The Soviet leader called the news conference suddenly at a time when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was visiting Berlin and American troops reinforcements were dispatched to the divided city.

In his talks with the Socialists, Mikoyan said the Soviet Union favors establishment of a nuclear-free zone in Asia and the "idea" of non-aggression arrangements among Japan, Russia, Red China and the United States.

He said the return of Soviet-occupied former Japanese territory "has been complicated" by the revision of the Japan-U. S. security pact.

PRIZES GIVEN AT 'INSIDE' SHOW

Prisoners' Art Will Go On Display

More than 10,000 visitors are expected to attend the seventh annual Arts and Crafts Festival at San Quentin Prison next Saturday and Sunday.

A total of 593 creations by inmates, including drawings, oil paintings, watercolors, sculpture and crafts will go on display from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the employees' recreation room during the two-day show.

Repeating his winning performance of last year, top prize winner in the art division this year is Joe Calderon, who was awarded the gallery prize, best in show, first award in drawing and second and third awards in sculpture in judging at an "inside" showing for prison inmates last Monday.

Calderon will have paintings and sculptures on exhibit and for sale next weekend which, if all sold, will bring him $4,000, reported Roy E. Butler, supervisor of academic instruction at the prison. However, the sales would not bring Calderon any great sum in cash—until he is released from prison. Rules provide an inmate may draw only $15 per month, and must leave the rest of any money he receives on deposit until his release.

Judging the art division of the exhibit this year were Geoffrey Bowman and Amado Gonzales of San Francisco; William Morehouse of Mill Valley; Edward C. Day of San Rafael; Robert Carleton of Corte Madera, and Antonio Peitro of Oakland.

The crafts division of the show will be judged Friday by Farhead Moezzi, Harry Crotty and Mrs. Louise N. Louis of San Rafael and R. L. Krohn of San Anselmo.

Crowding Caledron for top honors was Warren Parker who won four awards in casein and sculpture. Robert Khier won top prize in watercolor and third and honorable mention in drawing and oil painting divisions.

C. Licon was awarded first and second prize in pastel and a third award in casein. Robert Fraijo won a second in oil and third in casein. Al Disarufino and John James took third awards in watercolor and pastel divisions respectively.

Eighty-one pieces were entered in a special novice art division with first place winners named as Ernie Camarillo, oil; R. Van Clief, casein and sculpture; J. Campbell, watercolor; and Larry Motherwell, drawing.

"Several of the artist could hold their own in international shows," said Morehouse, San Francisco Art Assn. member, after he and fellow-judges had made their awards.

The festival is presented by the Inmate Council under the auspices of Butler and G. E. Schmid, arts and crafts teacher.

Plywood panels on which the paintings will be displayed were constructed by men in the vocational carpentry shop.

This is the fourth year the public has been invited to attend the annual show. More than $8,000 worth of art was purchased last year from visitors from 85 California cities and eight foreign countries.

Naval Shipyards To Remain Open

The White House said Kennedy felt that closing down the yards gradually, as was proposed in a Pentagon stagg recommendation, would be a mistake at this time.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy believed it "important to the country" to have the yards open and available for work.

Italian Fashions Appeal To Coeds

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

Latin may not be a favorite subject among the college crowd, but sportswear spelled out the modern Italian way is.

Not many can afford originals from Florence, Rome or Milan and still pay tuition. Nevertheless, students with high fashion I.Q.'s are keeping their eyes on this year's innovations, knowing full well that many will be next year's campus fads, and at American ready-to-wear prices.

Italian high spiritedness, whimsey, and love of vivid hues appeal to uninhibited coeds on the nation's campuses.

For example, Italian beachwear is bare basically. But cover-ups such as Roman striped knit shirts that reach the ankles are outrageous enough to stop the ships at sea.

And ski clothes with fringe, saucer-like buttons, pompons, fur ankle rings, and bat wings, all in bright colors of course, are ridiculous enough to warm the heart of a snowman.

Italian shoes with eyes and teeth like alligators, or with the eyes and feathers of a chicken; hoods shaggy like a lion's mane, and hats with giant wings are not to be worn by the faint but the young in heart.

Thus next year campus belles will be wearing versions of these titillating styles down to the sea shore, up the ski slope, to the football rally or on the hay ride.

Moving Advice: Turn Movers Loose And Get Out Of Town

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Free advice on how to transfer a household comes in two major categories.

One group of advisors on moving is of the do-it-yourself school. The other, which of course includes the professional movers, holds that it is easier in the long run on the family and the furniture to call the pros.

What brings all this up is that our household has just been added to those statistics that show 36 million persons each year pull up stakes and put them down elsewhere.

Before we moved, I rounded up all those moving company pamphlets telling how to make the process painless—such as "establish a moving day schedule" and "provide the mover with a general floor plan of your new home."

The most candid advice came from a van lines which informed us, "moving is what you make it . . . a smooth operation or a monstrous headache." For us, it was a monstrous head ache. Period.

Looking back, now that most of the cartons are unpacked, I believe the sagest advice came from the proprietor of our meat market who said, "turn the movers loose with a key to your old apartment and the one to the new one. Then go to the country for two weeks."

DOWN TWO FLOORS

I didn't listen because it seemed all we had to do was get the contents of one apartment transferred to a larger apartment two floors below in the same building.

A breeze! There was a freight elevator and we could transfer all the little things. Let the professionals take the piano and the sofa and beds and other heavy pieces.

I forgot how many "little things" you can stow into five walk-in closets.

"We could have moved coast to coast easier," said a tired husband who must have made 500 trips on the elevator or up and down the back stairs.

Maybe we saved $50 on our do-it-yourself plan. But husband reported immediately afterwards to the family physician for a checkup. There went that $50.

At least from the ordeal, I've gathered some tips you won't find in the manuals. They'll tell you, for instance, to provide that general floor plan for the new house if you hire a professional. Don't bother.

About establishing that moving day schedule. Try that sometime.

The morning the movers arrived, so did the man to transfer the air conditioning unit, so did the man to measure for window shades for the new apartment (I told you, nothing fitted), the man to move the telephone, and the man to turn on the gas and electricity. Our "schedule" turned into pandemonium.

Do rid those closets and drawers beforehand. Discard without mercy. I know, you've been saving that old picture frame for a new filling, the cuckoo clock which doesn't work, the swatch of fabric for an apron, and a chipped bowl for repairs. A good rule, I decided in desperation, is—if you haven't used something in the last year, you never will. Donate it to charity.

And do plan to eat out on M-day and for at least a week afterward. You deserve a break from the kitchen. Besides, if your moving follows the pattern ours did, it'll take a week to find the frying pan and the coffee pot.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Dinner Is Catch-Up Time Or Time To Stoke In Vitamins

By BARBARA HOSMER

Dinner time may be a time to catch up on the latest news picked up throughout the day by the members of the family or it may be a time limited to eating and little else.

This is the conclusion drawn from the conversations of the 51 housewives surveyed. Their comments tell the story clearly:

"Meal times are usually a pleasant meeting of the family. We look forward to it as an enjoyable get-together. We discuss everything — submarines, satellites, the day's happenings. The mood is usually calm and relaxed."

For these families dinner time is by no means idyllic. With youngsters around things are lively. They demand attention, knock over the milk, run around the table or crawl under it, wiggle, yell and throw things. Still, many mothers have the family together at meal time and wouldn't have it any other way.

One laughed and said, "What doesn't go on with kids this age! Spilled milk, spilled soup. Usually we enjoy meals. My husband and I do most of the talking. We are pretty relaxed at meal time."

These families unwind from from the tensions of the day and enjoy sharing experiences and ideas. Often the more distressing things—a bad report card, child misbehavior or job troubles—are deferred. Mealtime should be pleasant as possible, they feel.

In the "non-permissive household" the researchers found that people filed into the dining area, sat and ate, limiting conversation to "pass the salt." These families feel that mealtime is a time to be calm and leisurely. Matters of conversation and companionship are taken up later.

One of these exponents says: "When we go to the table it's to eat, not to laugh and talk . . . My parents were very strict on no talking at the table."

Another says:

"We eat at 6:30 on the minute every night. The food must be on the table when my husband walks in. We always have soup first. Dinner's very leisurely. Plates must be emptied . . . . They eat silently. If they talk they don't eat. My husband doesn't talk, he's too hungry. We talk before we go to bed."

On the whole the housewives who maintain a fairly rigid meal time routine seem to extend their regulations beyond the matter of eating dinner. They insist each child finish all his food and may forbid between meal snacks in the interest of good health.

Remember The Principal Has Heavy Load Of Responsibility

He used to be called the "Principal Teacher." Now it's simply "principal." He's the head man at your school.

Last June was a hectic month for him. A dozen mothers trailed him around, complaining. They didn't like the teachers their children had been assigned to. They were upset about the grades their young'ns were getting. Or they wanted 'em skipped, or transferred. The principal was polite to them, but it wasn't easy.

Teachers complained also. They didn't approve the plans he'd announced for the fall. They thought he was too easy on bad boys. They couldn't see why he was so patient with some parents. They wanted him to tell off the neighbor who was unhappy because they parked their cars in front of her house. It's the same story every June. I know. I used to be a principal.

September will be different. Everybody will be happy. The teachers have been away at school studying. The neighbors have mellowed. Families have gone on vacation. Children are tanned, husky, healthy. The world will be rosy, and the principal popular once more.

He is back at work now, his vacation over. A good principal starts his labors weeks ahead of the opening day. Between now and the start of school he'll check a thousand items. He'll make hundreds of phone calls. He'll recast dozens of plans. The result? Everything will run smoothly when the children arrive. Thank you, Mr. Principal! What would we do without you?

(Q) "How old is our present elementary school plan of organization? Did we borrow it from Europe?"

A.R.

(A) It is a little over one hundred years old. American school leaders invented it, chiefly in New England and New York. It is an efficient organization. Our schools probably are our best run governmental agencies.

Padding The Board Is Key To Ironing Beaded Crepe

By EUNICE FARMER

"How would you suggest I press a beaded crepe dress?
— Mrs. B.D.

Dear Mrs. B.D.:

First, lay a double thickness of blankets or any smooth type padding on your ironing board. Over this lay a piece of an old sheet.

Lay your dress over this, beaded side down. Press on the wrong side with a steam iron. The beads will sink into the padding, making the fabric smoother to press.

"Can you give us any advance information about the length of skirts for fall? I would like to get started making my clothes this summer."
—Mrs. I.O.M.

Dear Mrs. I.O.M.:

The forecast for fall fashions seems to be about the same as they are this season. The skirts are still on the short side. The average woman should not go to extremes on length, but should choose a length that is becoming to her. I think about 2 inches below the knees is about average.

Women in the business world usually go to more extremes in fashion. However, nothing can make a garment look more dowdy than a skirt that is too long.

"Why are some patterns cut with a separate facing, while other patterns have the bodice front and facing cut in one piece?" Mrs. C. B.

Dear Mrs. C.B.:

There is often an advantage to having the facing cut in one. If your fabric is extra heavy, it eliminates the thickness from the seams, or if it is very sheer fabric, it eliminates the unattractive seams in front.

To cut the facing all in one with the front bodice, pin the seamline of the bodice front (a), over the seamline of the facing (b). The fold line where the facing will turn back is where these two seams cross each other.

When cutting your interfacing, cut it from the fold-line out to the edge of the facing. This will be catch-stitched into place by hand at the fold-line.

If your fabric stretches easily, it is always better to have a separate facing because the machine stitching will keep the cut edges from stretching.

Sewing glossary: gusset: A piece of fabric cut in various shapes, and inserted in underarm area. This gives greater freedom in garments without set in sleeves.

Evening gowns and summer clothes can be much more attractive with spaghetti straps. If you want Eunice Farmer's instructions for making them, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Leaflet No. 4. Address Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Thunder Storm Special Hikes For Day Campers

Brownie and Intermediate Scouts have completed day camp sessions. Paradise Park, which was the camp site for two weeks for 160 Brownie Scouts and their leaders from all parts of Marin, the third and fourth graders enjoyed a program including a surprise hike on the last day, with a watermelon as the "surprise" at the end of the trail for each unit.

Seventy-five Intermediate Scouts and leaders from central district were the first girls to use Arequipa as a day camp. In addition to using the new sites, they participated in the first swimming program in the new Arequipa pool.

Mrs. E. Kent Sibbald, director of the camp, said the highlight was the overnight campout, when Marin experienced thunder and lightening storm.

Three Faces Of Hedda

The three faces of "Hedda" are sick, sleepy and happy. Hedda is a doll with a three-cornered head, each showing a different face. Her playmate simply twists the head to get a different expression. A snug bonnet covers the other two. The sick face comes complete with measles.

Today is Monday, Aug. 21, the 233rd day of the year with 132 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1858, the Lincoln-Douglas debates began, marking the start of a political contest between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas for a seat in the United States Senate.

In 1930, England's Princess Margaret Rose was born.

A thought for today: Abraham Lincoln said: "Towering genius disdains a beaten path. It seeks regions hitherto unexplored."

Singleton Lead May Backfire —Whose Side Are You On!

Before you choose a singleton as your opening lead ask yourself whose side you're on. All too often, the singleton solves a problem for your opponent.

West's opening lead trapped East's jack of hearts. East properly played low, hoping and led a club to force an entry to dummy. West could take his ace of clubs and one diamond trick, but South easily won the rest.

"Too bad you didn't have the ace of hearts," West commented to his partner as South scored up the game and rubber. And West explained how he would have won five tricks instead of only two if East had held the ace of hearts as well as the queen of diamonds.

West had led from K-10-6, in which case South would have the singleton ace. It was the right play, but it did no good; South won with the ten of hearts.

Two Youths Win Scholarships

Two Redwood High School graduates have been awarded college scholarships by the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, it has been announced.

Awarded $250 was Jeff Skov who plans to enter Stanford University. A second award of $100 went to Richard Brear, also entering Stanford. Especially commended was Marcia Jervis, Marin Catholic High School graduate who is entering Holy Names College.

The winners were chosen after the club's scholarship committee screened 12 applicants and held personal interviews with three finalists.

Show To Tell How 'Blue Babies' Now Assured Of Normal Life

Not too many years a "blue baby" faced certain early death. Today infants born with this coloring denoting a heart weakness or defect are virtually assured of a normal and healthy life.

KRON will show why in another of its "Medicine 1961" series of hour-long shows tonight at 7:30.

The corrective surgery upon the heart of a young boy was filmed by KRON cameras in a Bay Area hospital for tonight's show. One amazing thing about the operation is that the patient's heart actually stops beating while the surgeon determines the extent of damage to the organ and makes his repairs. This is possible because of the use of a heart-lung machine.

The "Medicine 1961" series is produced by Channel 4 in association with the San Francisco Medical Society.

ALSO TONIGHT: Belvedere resident Barnaby Conrad will be interviewed at 8 o'clock by KQED's Jim Day on his "Kaleidoscope" show. Conrad, an ex-matador, will, undoubtedly, take full advantage of the opportunity to plug his new book, "Encyclopedia of Bullfighting."

Another colorful Marinite who will be on TV tonight is Sausalito artist Jean Varda who will be joined on "PM West" on KPIX at 12:15 a.m. by author Dean Robert Fitch and columnist Monique Benoit for a discussion of western morality.

IS THE WHOLE world sick? Now there's an intriguing question. And one that will be taken up on tomorrow night's "Open End" gabfest over KQUED at 8:30 p.m.

The doctors open their discussion by agreeing that one out of every 10 persons is mentally ill, and then move on into such topics as the "couch" vs. other methods of psychiatric treatment, why mental illness is particularly prevalent in industrialized countries such as the U.S., the poor distribution of trained psychiatrists, and the shortage of mental hospital facilities.

ALSO TOMORROW night: Violinist Jascha Heifetz will play compositions of Bach, Debussy, Wieniawski and Paganini on KPIX at 7:30.

Helen Hayes stars in "Four Women in Black," in the role she plays most often, a nun, as the "Playhouse 90" repeat on KPIX at 9:30.

"Purex Special" will repeat its study of mother and daughter relationships on KRON at 10 p.m.

And millionaire bachelor Merle Petersen will appear on "PM West" on KPIX at 12:15 a.m. to discuss his scheduled yacht trip to the South Seas in search of happiness. Disc jockey Dick Cook of Marin will be among those aboard.

Marinite is on

THE WESTERN Electronics Show and Convention is being held at San Francisco's Cow Palace this week, and KTVU will originate three 15-minute reports from there tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday evenings starting at 11 o'clock.

It is the electronics industry's second largest trade show with nearly 1,200 exhibit display booths.

The program is also being telecast in Los Angeles, New York and Philadelphia so that engineers and scientists unable to attend in person can still see highlights of the conclave and exposition.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Firefighting Plant Is Building; More Clothes Taken By Schwartz

One Marin firm on the go is Camcone Products, Inc. of Sausalito which expects to move to its new plant at 55 De Lucca Place, San Rafael about September 10. The concrete tilt-up building being constructed by Crown Development Co. will give the firm 4,500 square feet—twice as much as it has now.

Camcone is a manufacturer of precision firefighting, law-enforcement and safety equipment—will exhibit its products at the International Association of Fire Chiefs show in Las Vegas the latter part of September where it hopes to attract the interest of some 4,000 helmeted heads from all over the U.S.

The firm is an outgrowth of the old Cam Manufacturing Co. started in 1918 in Ross before the town was incorporated. Present owners Gordon Blumenfeld and Donald Keeler bought it about two years ago and moved to Sausalito.

AARON SCHWARTZ, dean of Marin clothiers, says his firm Schwartz, Inc. of San Rafael has taken on two more nationally advertised lines—Kuppenheimer and Botany 500.

These are in addition to Hart, Schaffner and Marx, Cambdon and Heritage lines already handled. Schwartz says all of them give his stocks a rounded out coverage from high school years and college to business and professional styles in all price ranges.

DAVID ST. JOHNSON, local representative of California-Western States Life Insurance Co. has qualified for membership in the Leading Producers Club for 1961. One reason, perhaps, why the office is to become the district head of the Redwood Empire agency, heretofore in Santa Rosa.

New quarters at 1220 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael are expected to be ready about October 1.

ROY PADGETT JR., owner of Roy's Flying "A" Service Station, 2070 Redwood Highway in Greenbrae, has been made a dealer in the U-Haul Trailer Rental System which has representation in 3,800 cities of the U. S. and Canada.

Due to the stepping up of commercial and industrial activity in this area Padgett will have trailers available from four-by-six models to 16-foot tandem-wheeled vans capable of hauling several rooms of household goods.

IN ADDITION to displaying the luxury Mercedes-Benz 300-SE sedan next Friday, Rossi Garage in San Rafael will carry the new, more powerful version of the 190 series which has a longer wheelbase than before, greater overall length and a lustier engine rated at 60 horsepower at 4,200 r.p.m.

The body is lower and longer, patterned after the larger 220 series, has wrap-around front and rear windows and the trunk space has been increased. The 190 transmission is the Daimler-Benz synchromesh with gear shift on the steering column.

MARINDIVIDUALS IN BUSINESS: John D. Carter of Terra Linda, former vice president of SF public relations firm Consultants, Inc., has joined the staff of James Gallagher Realty in San Anselmo . . . Corky Jones, former cocktail hostess at Rubini's in Fairfax has become secretary to a division manager of the White House in S. F. She's back in things to her liking—women's styles.

LUXURY SEDAN — This completely new model 300SE features a light alloy fuel injection engine developing 185 horsepower at 5,200 r.p.m. Automatic four-speed transmission, power steering and an air suspension system that adjusts to load weight and driving surfaces are other features. It will be on display at dealers' showrooms August 25. (In Marin County at Rossi Garage, San Rafael).

Marine Recruit

Pvt. William M. Cullins, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Cullins, 11 Opal Street, Larkspur, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego. He was scheduled next to receive advanced combat training at Camp Pendleton.

The name of a Paris street may change several times between one end and the other. For example, the Rue St. Honore becomes the Rue du Faubourg St. — Honore, Avenues des Ternes, and Avenue du Roule.

THIRD MARKET ON THE WAY UP

A third United Market for Marin County has begun taking shape in Mill Valley, with tilt-up cast concrete walls erected by William H. McDevitt Co. of San Rafael, the contractor. The market will cost $650,000 complete, according to Ben Saccone, United Markets president. The building to be of "early California" style, is at Ashford and East Blithedale avenues.

Safeway Seeking Plan Approval On Building

Safeway Stores Inc. will seek architectural approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall for an ultra-modern store proposed for First and B Streets.

Plans of the 22,000-square-foot building indicate walls of plate glass, obscure glass, exposed aggregate and concrete columns. Interior lighting will be accomplished through openings admitting natural light between the junction of the walls and roof.

Parking space for 135 cars is indicated in the plans.

Architectural approval of a 21-unit apartment house planned on Channing Way at the Marin Professional Center will be asked by developer Kenneth Solares.

Approval will be sought for two 12-unit apartments at 545-555 Canal Street by the D. M. Christensen Construction Co. Safeway Stores Inc. will seek approval of a store at First and B Streets.

The final subdivision map of White Oaks No. 2 off Chesnut Avenue west of Elizabeth Way will be submitted for approval.

Man Delivers Self To Police

William Blackley, 37, of San Francisco delivered himself virtually straight into Marin County Jail early Saturday by raising a rumpus in the San Rafael Police Station.

Patrolman Gerald Souza walked Blackley, with some difficulty, to jail on a drunkenness charge after Blackley stormed into the police station through the rear entrance to complain confusedly about an incident he said occurred in a Fairfax tavern.

Blackley demanded the chiefs of police of San Anselmo and Fairfax be notified and he demanded "an investigation." His 1955 sedan, which he had parked in the police driveway, was impounded. He was held in lieu of $26.25 bail.

Marin Doctor Going To Rome For Conference

Dr. Edward E. Shev of Marin General Hospital has been named official representative of the United States to the six nation international congress of electroencephalography and neurology in Rome Sept. 5 to 25.

Dr. Shev, who heads the electroencephalography laboratory at the hospital, will deliver a treatise on "Diseases of the Heart and Lungs and their Relationship to the Electroencephalograph."

Spoon Collection In New Jersey

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — James A. Crotty has collected over 1,000 spoons in the last 14 years, each with a history.

One commemorates the coronation of William and Mary in England in 1689, another is a rare French spoon made in 1412, the year Joan of Arc was born, and a third was made in Arabia in 1313.

MORE VIDEO, NEW COURSES

Schools Throughout Nation Are Planning Innovations

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
U.P. International

What's new in the schools?

Courses in how to take notes, for one thing. They're being offered in schools across the country, partly as college preparation, partly, even in elementary grades, as an adjunct to growing television instruction.

More school, for another. Numbers of schools are lengthening the school day, eliminating study hall periods, offering advanced classes in early morning hours, at noon and on Saturdays.

These, and more, are among the innovations planned for the coming year and reported to the National Education Assn. in a survey of school superintendents in cities of 30,000 to 100,000 population.

Most frequently reported were:

New reading programs—remedial, more intensive, at higher grade levels.

Changes in mathematics and science study courses, in both elementary and high schools, to bring the subjects up to date in space and more closely together in understanding.

Two school systems, in Parkersburg, W. Va., and Parma, Ohio, reported the opening of planetaria for high school use. At Visalia, Calif., a new observatory has been built by senior class students with funds they raised themselves and equipped with a telescope provided with federal funds. Mount Vernon, N.Y., has produced its own booklet on "The Arithmetic of Flying" for use in mathematics courses.

Almost as numerous as advanced and accelerated classes for gifted youngsters are the experiments to improve the learning of retarded and disturbed children. Slow-learning high school freshmen at Harvey, Ill., will be given a hoped-for boost in small classes with individual instruction, no homework or study hall.

A number of schools are instituting ungraded primary classes, where children may progress at their own varying paces through the early learning of the 3 R's, and other things. In some schools the basic lessons will be taught on regular grade levels and others will be offered in ungraded "continuous progress" classes.

In Lake Charles, La., world history, literature and art are being offered in a single experimental course for high school sophomores, meeting two hours a day.

Lexington, Ky., fifth grade teachers, dissatisfied with all available histories of the state, are writing a fifth grade state history text themselves.

Among the most extensive "more school" programs about to get underway:

Alexandria, Va., high school class periods have been extended by 15 minutes, the school day by 10 minutes and study hall eliminated to provide a day of five periods, each 72 minutes long.

West Covina, Calif., is increasing the high school day to seven 50-minute periods for more capable students; others may continue on six periods.

Rock Island, Ill., high school is offering a college level biology course in the noon hour, to be coordinated with a college course to be presented on the local commercial TV station.

In Muskegon, Mich., 240 above-average tenth graders will be enrolled in an intensive program requiring mathematics, biology, English, world history and physical education, with one elective mandatory and a second optional.

Beverly Hills, Calif., is offering an additional period on the high school day on an optional basis. The school bell rings at 7:45 a.m.

Expense Item

STAUNTON, Va. (AP)—A baby sitter's $2 cost was listed by Arthur R. Giesen Jr., as an expense item in his successful run for the Republican nomination to the Virginia House of Delegates. She looked after four children during the GOP convention.

Valley Hardware Will Be Sold

P. H. Peck of Tamalpais Valley said today he will sell the Valley Hardware store at 247 Shoreline Highway on or about Sept. 1 to C. F. and Edna Toland of Stinson Beach.

Peck, who lives at 280 Shoreline Highway, has been in business at the location eight and one-half years. He said he plans to retire and take care of "a lot of unfinished fishing."

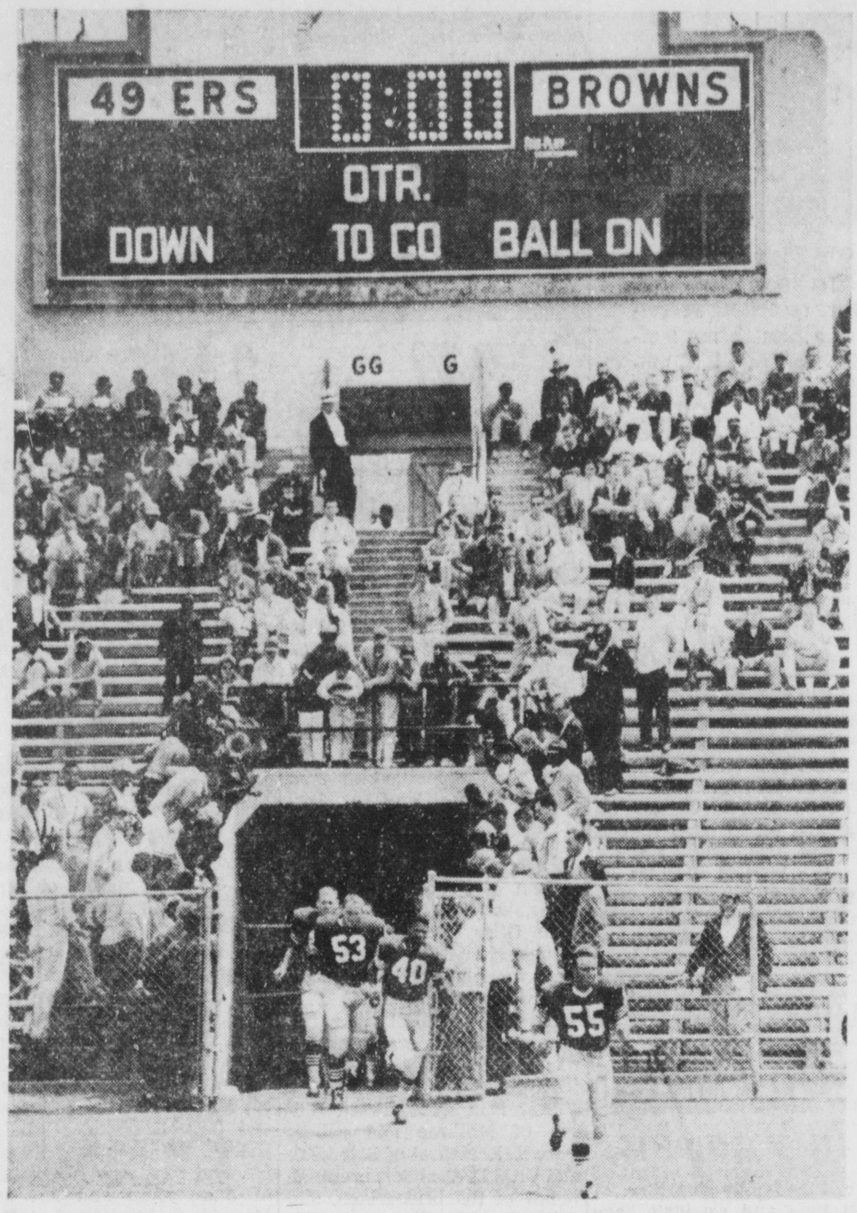
Photo Highlights Of 49er-Browns Pre-Season Battle

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

SECOND SECTION Monday, Aug. 21, 1961 13



HERE THEY COME—Led by newly-appointed Captain Matt Hazeltine (55), the former Tamalpais High School start, the San Francisco 49ers streamed out of tunnel for their first game of the season in Kezar Stadium yesterday, but wound up on the short end of 27-24 pre-season game with the Cleveland Browns. Following Hazeltine is Abe Woodson (40), a resident of Terra Linda. Note new scoreboard at Kezar.

CAMERAMEN WARM UP, TOO, FOR FOOTBALL

Just like pre-season games are to help professional football teams coordinate their teamwork, they also serve to give press photographers some practice for the forthcoming league season.

Independent-Journal photographer Dick Steinheimer was at Kezar yesterday to focus in on the 1961 season. With an assist from Associated Press cameras, see credit lines, here are highlights of yesterday's 49er-Cleveland Brown game.

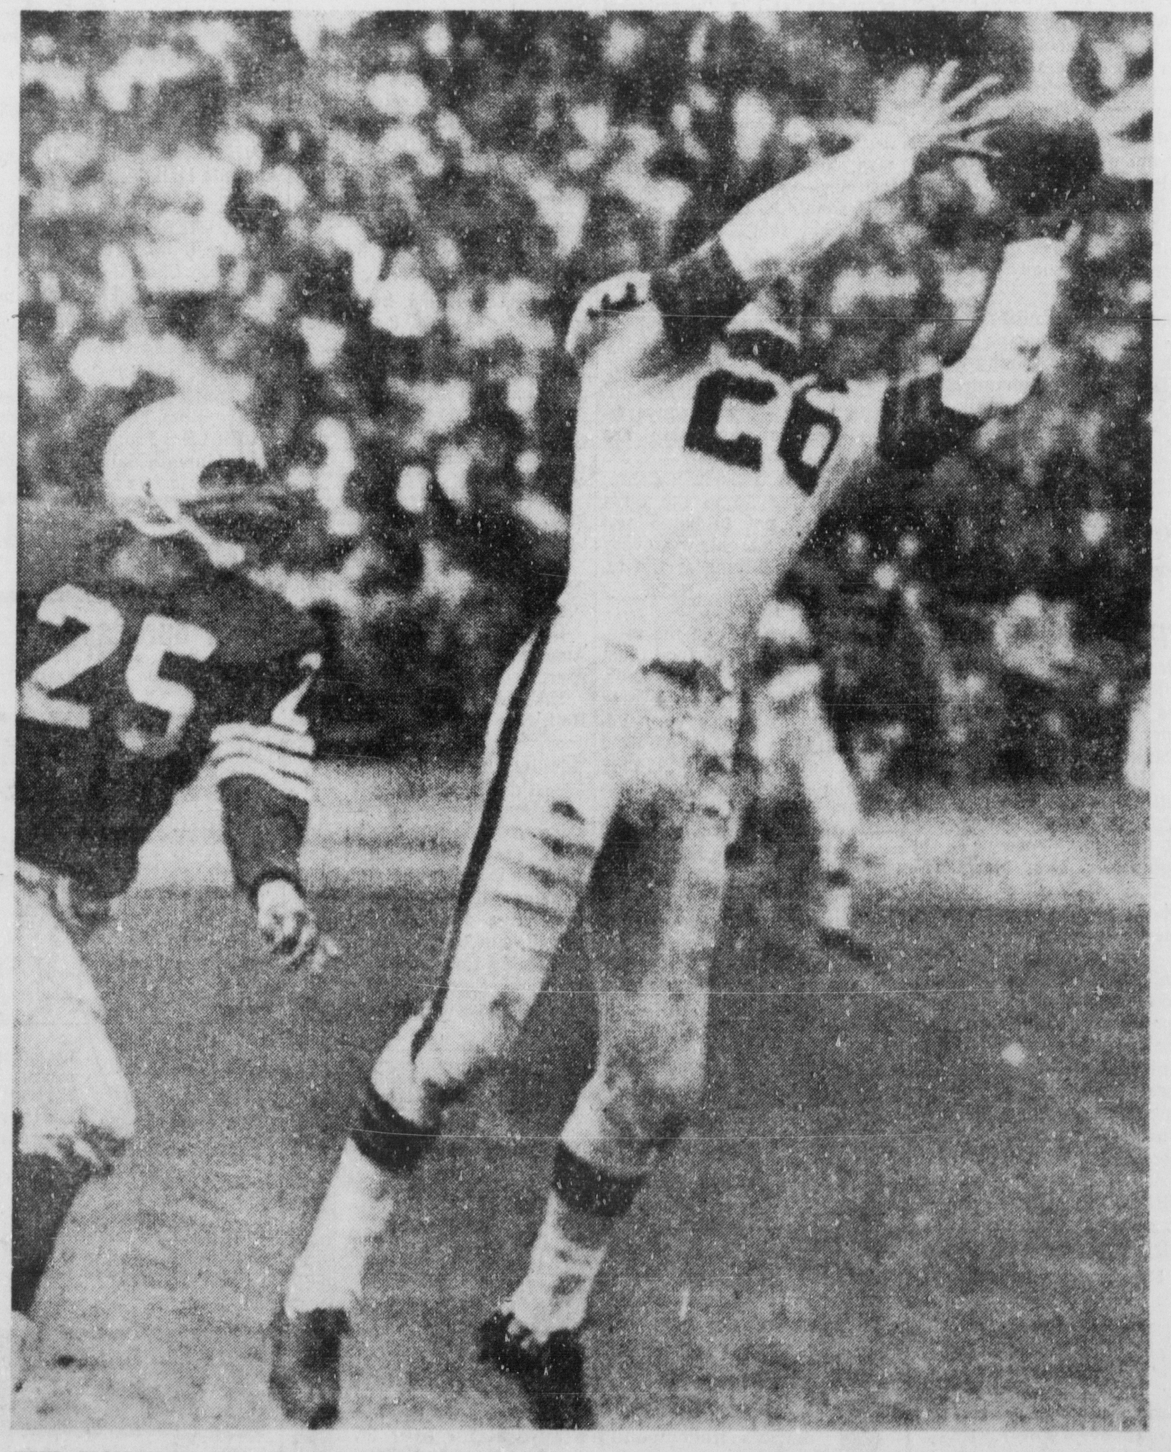
NOT SO HAPPY—Coach Red Hickey is a picture of gloom as he watches the Browns score a touchdown against his 49ers. Hickey takes the 49ers to Portland Saturday night to meet the new Minnesota Vikings in their third pre-season game of 1961.



THE CLINCHER—Cleveland halfback Ray Renfro makes sparkling catch of pass from quarterback Milt Plum, good for a 26-yard touchdown with only seven seconds to go that gave the Browns their 27-24 victory. Making vain attempt to cover play is 49er halfback Dave Baker (25). (AP Wirephoto)

THAT'S ALL — Brief flareup between players on last play of game drew fans rushing onto the field at sound of final gun. The fight stopped almost immediately and the Browns walked off the field with their three-point victory.
